DIRECTORIES.

RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES.

washtenaw Association.

Ohurch on Washington street, corner of Cross—
Rev. J. L. Cheney, pastor. Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30, and evening at 7:00; Sunday school at noon; prayer meeting at 6:30, p. m. Young people's meeting Tuesday evening. Prayer meeting Thursday. Congregational Methodist Episcopal.

Detroit District—Detroit Conference. Church on Washington street, corner of Ellis—Rev. J. Venning, partor. Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30, and evening at 7:30; class meetings at noon and 6:30 p. m.; Sunday school at noon; young people's meeting at 6. Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

Detroit Presbytery—Synod of Michigan.
Church on Washington street, corner of Emmet-Rev. W. A. McCorkle, D. D., pastor. Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30, and evening at 7:30; and sycholat noon. Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

Protestant Episcopal.

Roman Catholic Diocese of Detroit.
St. John's Church, Cross street, corner of Hamilton—Rev. Wm. DeBever, pastor. First mass at 8 o'clock Sunday morning; second mass at 10:30 vespers at 3 p. m.; Sunday school at 2 p. m. Daily morning mass at 8.

morning mass at 8.

Evangelican Lutheran (German).

Church on Congress Street, corner of GroveRev. M. Kionke, pastor. Services every Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m.; Sunday school at noon.

African Methodist Episcopal.

Michigan District—Indiana Conference.
Church on Buffalo street, corner of AdamsRev. R. Jeffries, pastor. Preaching Sunday morr ing at 10:30, and evening at 71:15; Sunday school a Young Men's Prayer Meeting Association Meeting every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Methodist church in January, Presbyterian in February, Baptist in March, and Congregational in April, and so repeating. H. D. Sanders, president; Chas. Parker, secretary. Meeting every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Leonard corner Cross and Hamilton streets. Ida E. Shaw, president; Mag gie Adair, secretary.

Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. Meeting at Congregational church every Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. B. L. D'Ooge, president: Miss Lutic Denamore, secretary.

FRATERNAL SOCIETIES. MASONIC.

Phœnix Lodge, No. 12, F. & A. M.—Meet in Masonic Hail Tuesday evening on or before the full moon of each month. C. C. Vroman, W. M.; P. W. Carpenter, Sec. W. Cappenter, Sec.

Ypsilanti Lodge, No. 123, F. & A. M.—Meet last Thursday in each month, in Masonic Block. A.

McNicol, W. M.; C. D. Wilcoxson, Sec.

Excelsior Chapter, No. 25, R. A. M.—Meet first Friday of each month, at Masonic Hall. A. S.
Turnbull, H. P.; P. W. Carpenter, Sec.

Union Council, No. 10, R. & S. M.—Meet third Wednesday in each month, at Masonic Hall.
Howard Stephenson, T. I.; W. L. Pack, Sec.

ODD FELLOWS. Wyandotte Lodge, No. 10, I. O. O. F.—Meet a Odd Feliows' Hall, Union Block, every Monday evening. F. L. Thompson, N. G.; L. Z. Foerster Sec.

Carpenter Post, No. 180—Meet in A. O. U. W Hall, first and third Fridays of each month. Col O. E. Pratt, Com.; E. Holbrook, Adjt. GOOD TEMPLARS, SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

Ypsilapti Division, No. 706—Meet every Thursday evening, in Good Templar Hail. Joseph Soper, Patriarch; Miss Steffe, Scribe.

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY. Ypsilanti Grange, No. 56—Meet in Grange Hall Union Block, every Wednesday evening. Morti mer Crane, M.; Mrs. N. C. Carpenter, Sec.

UNITED WORKMEN.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR. Muser in Masonic Block, first and third Wednes bays of each month. O. E. Thompson, Dic.; J. N. Howland, F. R.; Wm. Judd, Rep.

ROYAL ARCANUM. Ægis Council, No. 117—Meet at A. O. U. W. Hall second and fourth Mondays in each month. A. Lodeman, Regent; P. W. Carpenter, Sec.; W. B. Eddy, Col.

KNIGHTS OF THE MACCABEES. Wolverine Tent, No. 77—Meet in Masonic Block second and fourth Wednesdays in each month E. Thompson, S. K. C.; E. Holmes, R. K. CATHOLIC MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

St. John's Branch, No.39—Meet every Tuesday evening, in St. John's School Hall. Jas. McCann. Pres.; Jos. Forbes, Sec. FRATERNAL MYSTIC CIRCLE.

MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY (COLORED). Meet every Wednesday evening, at hall on Chicago avenue. Chas. Anderson, President; Elijah Artis, Sec.

GOOD SAMARITANS AND DAUGHTERS OF SAMARIA (COLORED). Meet every Friday evening, at Davis' Hall. T. S. Roadman, Chief; David York, Sec.

ATTOKNEYS. D. C. GRIFFEN, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Money Loaned, Notes and Mortgages bought and sold. No. 2 South Huron Street.

J. WILLARD BABBITT, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, No. 1 South Huron Street, Ground Floor. Real Estate Exchange. Laible Block, Huron Street, Second Floor.

PHYSICIANS.

A. F. KINNE, M. D., RESIDENCE AND OF-fice, corner Cross and Adams Streets.

R. M. OAKLEY, M. D., OFFICE AND RESI-dence, first dwelling south of Engine House, Huron street, Ypsilanti.

MRS. FLORA H. RUCH, M. D.—RESIDENCE and office corner of Washington and Ellis streets, near M. E. church. Office hours from 2 to 4 o'clock p. m.

R. OWEN, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURgeon. Office and residence, Adams street, between Cross and Emmo.

DR. KNICKERBOCKER, PHYSICIAN AND Surgeon, corner of Adams and Emmet Sts., Ypsilanti. Telephone at residence. E. PRATT, M. D., HOMEOPATHIC PHY U. sician and Surgeon, office and residence of Huron street, opposite Episcopal Church.

A. FRASER, M. D., HOMEOPATHIST, PEARL Street, near Postoffice, Ypsilanti, Mich. DR. JAMES HUESTON, PHYSICIAN AND Surgeon, office and residence on River street, L. D. Norris place. Telephone No. 45.

MISCELLANEOUS.

B. MOREHOUSE, REAL ESTATE, FIRE L. and Life Insurance, Notary Public and Conveyancer. Money to Loan on Real Estate. Office with Hon. E. P. Allen.

OUGHRIDGE & WILCOX, DEALERS IN Italian and American Marbie, Scotch, Irish and American Granite. Fine monuments a specialty. Estimates furnished on building work, flaag wiks, etc. Washington street,

The Opsilantian.

ESTABLISHED JANUARY 1, 1880. SMITHE & OSBAND, Publishers. THE YPSILANTIAN is published each Thursday afternoon, from the office, south side of Congress street.

Payable in Advance. Family Edition, eight pages: Per year, $1.50; six months, 75c; three months, 40c; one month, 15c;

Advertising rates reasonable, and made known application. Address THE YPSILANTIAN, Ypsilanti, Mich.

FINE WALK.—Loughridge & Wilcox and Mrs. Barnes, on Huron street. It is of sawed Berea flags, six feet wide, and measures 191/2 rods in length, containing 1926 square feet. In addition to that, Mr. Quirk had 517 square feet put down in ment is $610.

EARLY CLOSING.—The dry goods stores of the city have agreed to close at 6 o'clock, after July 4. The arrangement is one that will doubtless meet the approval of the majority of patrons. The tendency in our trades to run to late hours is no benefit to the trades themselves, and the inconvenience of earlier hours to the small number of customers who would be inconvenienced by it is probably not equal to the tax laid upon the merchants and salesmen by the late hours.

REORGANIZED .- M. Coquillard resigned the Colonelcy of the Union Veterans' Command, and at a meeting recently held the corps of officers was completed as follows:

Colonel—Stanton A. Ferguson. Lieut. Col.—John J. Norton. Major—Gilbert M. Smith. Officer of the Day—Prescott M. Skinner.

The Sergeant Major, Quartermaster Sergeant, Color Bearer, guards, etc., will be appointed by the Colonel at the next meeting. The command will meet regularly in A. O. U. W. Hall, Union Block.

A BAD DARKEY.-Walter Griffin alias Stafford, a colored boy 18 years old, was etected in removing a pane of glass from the rear window of Manning's cigar store, Sunday morning in broad daylight. The roung scamp was brought before Esq. Joslyn and bound over to the Circuit Court. In default of surety he went to -A colored man at the depot, named whisky and got his feet tangled. 'Squire never been drunk before during many years' residence here, and we hope he will not want another dose.

State is making inroads upon our supply of good citizens. We hope they will not find occasion to regret their change so much as we do. Mr. J. J. Stephenson, our enterprising and popular photographer, has sold his business to Mr. C. E. Cooper of Chicago, to give possession the 1st of July. Mr. Stephenson intends to go to southern California, in hope of benefiting his health, which has been poor for some time Mr. Cooper formerly lived here. and was connected with the Stephenson gallery about four years ago. Mr. Stephenson has been with us eighteen years and has established a reputation which makes his departure greatly regretted.

-Mr. Nichoson has sold his interest in the photograph business to his partner, Frank Anderson. Mr. N. did not go to California, however, but has gone with Mr. Draper's Uncle Tom's Cabin troupe Sad Bereavment.

Forsyth died last Thursday, June 7, under circumstances peculiarly painful. She had prepared breakfast that morning, and done her usual housework; and before night her spirit had gone to another world. Her death was the result of an operation for the removal of an ovarian tumor which had caused her great suffering and was believed to threaten her life, though t had not incapacitated her for her ordinary household duties. So sudden and inexpected was the event that it came as a great shock to her neighbors, among whom she was held in high esteem. She was the daughter of Claudius Mansfield of Bridgewater, this county, where she was born nearly thirty-nine years ago. Eighteen years ago she was married to Mr. Forsyth, and they have lived in this city since 1879. They had no children, and the husband is indeed left alone The parents of the deceased still live in Bridgewater, and her only sister lives nere, the widow of Mr. Forsyth's brother Edwin, whose tragic death occurred but a ew weeks ago.

The funeral was conducted by the Rev J. L. Cheney, Sunday afternoon, at the esidence on East Cross street, and was attended by Carpenter Post, G. A. R., of which Mr. Forsyth is a member, and by the Ladies' Relief Corps, of which Mrs. Forsyth was an officer and valuable member at the time of her death. The ladies of the Corps performed the ritual of their order at the grave, and each member in turn deposited upon the casket a cluster of snowballs, forming a pure white floral wreath. A beautiful emblematic floral piece was also contributed by the Corps and such sympathetic attention rendered by the sorrowing neighbors and friends as was calculated to help the bereaved husband to endure the dreadful stroke.

Children's Day.

Growing Interest in a Beautiful Custom.

The annual observation of Children's Day was held in the Presbyterian church wm. m. osband.) last Sunday. In the morning Dr. Mc-Corkle gave a simple, interesting sermon illustrating the love of the Good Shepherd for the little ones, which was listened to by an appreciative congregation, composed mostly of children and young people. In the afternoon the children of the congregation assisted by the choir, gave a very pleasant programme of songs, responsive readings, recitation, etc. Among the best things were a beautiful selection recited by Miss Laura Jenness assisted by the choir with singing, a solo, "Consider The Lilhave lately completed a splendid piece of lies," by Miss Barr, and responsive singing stone walk along the fronts of Mr. Quirk by Miss Bellows and a class of young ladies. The primary children did themselves credit by perfectly reciting the Ten Commandments and otherwise giving evidence of their appreciation of the day. The Superintendent, Prof. Barbour, was his yard. The cost of the whole improve- expected to make a ten minutes address, but he gave over that honor to Hon. E. P. Allen, who gave the usual talk, after which the children's offerings to the amount of about $18, were received. Altogether, the fine day, pleasant exercises, beautiful flowers and bright, happy young faces made this aniversary one, the remembrance of which, will always give pleasure.

Children's Day was observed at the Congregational church, Sunday evening, by a pretty exercise. It was called a Rainbow Festival, and a miniature bow in brilliant colors was displayed at the rear of the platform, it sends lost in masses of flowers.

Plants and wild flowers and banks of ferns profusely adorned the rostrum. Prof. Strong gave a delightful talk upon the rainbow, and interesting remarks were made by Mr. Fairfield, Mr. Henry Densmore, and Mr. Cowell. Mr. Densmore is a brother of Wm. Densmore of this city, and a Sunday School missionary in northern Michigan, living at Greenville. The music of the evening was very delightful. The spectacle of a brilliant rainbow in the eastern sky just before sunset seemed very opportune, and was beautifully referred to, though the rain that caused it was not regarded as opportune by those whose attendance was thereby prevented.

The Baptist Church also celebrated the occasion in their beautiful edifice Sunday evening, but we have not succeeded in se-

Childrens' Day was observed at the Ypsilanti Grange hall, June 9. The follow-Williams, sampled too much white man's ing is a partial list of the exercises. Music by Miss Jennie Ellsworth, followed by Joslyn fined him $3 and costs, and the an address of welcome by Andrew Campdrunk footed him up $8. He said he had | bell: recitation by Lotta Voorhees; declamation, Jay Campbell; song, "Pat Doran's Mule." Geo Bemis: recitation, "Lazy Daisy," Maud Carpenter; recitation, Elma Wise; song, "One of the Sweet Old Chapters." Emma and Nettie Sherwood: declamation, "Morning," Mitchel Doyle; declamation "What the Fox Thought," Enoch Thorn; song, "Little Gray Rird," Johnnie Graves, and Tommie Elliot; "Wild Flowers," Edna Sweet; recitation, Susie Crittenden; song, "Milwaukee Fire," Kittie Gridley; dialogue, Clara Case and Frankie Nichols; song. "Mrs. Mulligan's Homemade Pie." Mattie Walker: recitation. Lura Hunter; reading, "Why the Dog's Nose is Always Cold," Mrs. Robinson; so lo, James Graves; recitation, Eva Rolinsen; song, "Rock me to Sleep Mother," Geo. Barnes; dialogue, Mary Kuthruff and friend; song, "Grandpa and I," Alice Louden, Emma and Nellie Sherwood; declamation "Joe Gorhaus' Philosophy," Irving Hunter; song, "Kittie Lee and Nellie Gray," Mrs. David Owen.

The exercises were closed by Worthy Chaplain Graves, who made a few remarks thanking the children in behalf of the Grange. Then all partook of a bountiful Mrs. Nancy M. Forsyth, wife of Albert repast and went home having had a splen-

Almost every week, announcements and other matter for publication are brought ding of a letter from Prof. Estabrook as the Sappho Club for the excellent music to us too late for use. Sometimes the delay is unavoidable, but it is often the case that a little thoughtfulness would have resulted in its earlier delivery. Very often, the matter is such that our regret at being compelled to omit it is as great as any one's, but our paper must go to press on time, and our publication date is Thursday forenoon. There can be no certainty of the publication of matter coming to us Thursday morning, though we will always do our best to serve our patrons and the community. The following report which came too late last week, is given place here:

"A very pleasant and enjoyable entertainment was held last night at the M. E. Church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, consisting of select readings by Mrs. Estella K. Knight, and instrumental and vocal music by several young ladies and gentlemen who have so often rendered such efficient service. "Mrs. Knight rendered a variety of pieces with most excellent taste and judgment. It was notably free from the excruciating and unnatural affectation that so often mars such efforts. While all the selections were most admirably given, 'Drafted," and "The First Settler," were especially fine.

"The audiance were highly pleased, and showed their appreciation by twice calling her back to the platform. Mrs. Knight was also the recipient of a beautiful basket of flowers." Children's Day celebration will occur at The Arcanum Banquet.

Ægis Council, No. 117, Celebrate Their

Monday evening, June 11th, the Royal Arcanum celebrated their 10th anniversary y a banquet at the Follett House. Mempers and their wives to the number of a hundred were present, besides representatives of the press. After the collation had been served, Prof. Lodeman, the toastmaster of the occasion, immediately took charge, and with a few happy remarks, inroduced to the guests Prof. C. F. R. Bellows, Past Regent, who sketched in brief the history of this Council, its rapid growth, and the great good it had accomplished within the short period of its organization. He called attention to the mall cost of insurance as compared with that of old-time companies. We take the following extracts from the Professor's account of the organization.

"Ten years ago this evening, the follow ing gentlemen were of one accord in one place for the purpose of forming a Council of Royal Arcanum

Lambert A. Barnes, Samuel Barnard, Daniel W. Thompson, John S. Harris, Frank Joslyn, Chas. W. Mansfield, Wm. T. Randall, Frank P. Bogardus, Justin E. Post.

They were directed in the necessary proceedings by Jacob Brown, treasurer of the Grand Council of the state, and by him declared duly elected as charter members of the new council, to be known as consisting of Joseph Kitchen, John S. make the required nominations for offices, nearly eight million dollars. and reported the following:

ror reported the following:
For Regent—Joseph Estabrook.
Vice Regent—Lambert A. Barnes.
Past Regent—Daniel W. Thompson.
Orator—Peter W. Carpenter.
Chaplain—Jesse S. Boyden, Secretary—Frank Josiyn, Collector—John S. Harris.
Treasurer—Fred. W. Hawkins.
Guide—Cassius M. Havens, Sentry—Horace W. Hadiey.
Warden—Chas. W. Mansfield.
Medical Examiner—Justin E. Post.
They were secondingly electer. They were accordingly elected and duly installed by Grand Treas. Brown." "The officers of the present year are:

A. Lodeman, Regent.
A. George, Vice Regent.
C. F. R. Beilows, Past Regent.
E. R. E. Coweii, Orator.
W. B. Eddy, Collector.
P. W. Carpenter, Secretary.
R. W. Hemphill, Treasurer.
C. C. Carr, Chapiain.
B. W. Kief, Guide.
A. H. Smith, Warden.
A. Forsyth, Sentry.

affairs of the Council, and the maintenance growth in the past. Our cause is worthy, of its existence in case the members at and our destiny is certain to emulate the large should happen to forget their own grandest order the world has ever seen. individual responsibility in that direction. A man was once saved from the wreck of The latter is by no means the less import- a sinking ship. Exhausted, he had fallen, thing for which officers are needed. To frigate, They lifted him up, placed him administer its affairs is a secondary duty in their boat and restored him to con-

tion of the organization. members-Lewis M. Hunt, John Foster, William K. Brock, John V. Chamberlain irst step, over their loved ones when they so it will be with us all by and by, and with us." then as never before will be realized the wisdom and the prudence of the step we nains of want.

We are happy to see so many of them in every thought, word and action.'

follows:

that my engagements will prevent my being with you on the 11th, inst., to attend the 10th anniversary of Ægis Council, No. bers, and had the honor of giving it the name. I have rejoiced in its prosperity, and in the promptness with which it obligations have been met. May the second decade far exceed the first in its good work. Yours very truly,

J. ESTABROOK Prof. J. M. B. Sill, was next introduced and gave a graphic account of the workings of the Detroit lodge as also of Ægis Council and its trials. He closed his remarks by reading one of John G. Whittier's beautiful poems, entitled "The Gift of Tritemius." In responding to the toast Our Lady Guests, Mr. E. R. E. Cowell, Orator of the Council, made the great hits of the evening which left the company in a most happy frame of mind.

Mr. B. M. Damon then outlined the growth of the order as follows:

"The Royal Arcanum in its inception was an experiment. Its success depended upon the demand of the community for such an organization, and upon the suitableness of its foundation to meet such demand. The demand existed, and the organization was perfected at Boston, Mass., on the 23d day of June, 1877, with a membership of 9, and incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts, on the 5th of November the Methodist church next Sunday after- plan, and the brilliant star of succes im- Will sell at a bargain. Enquire of H. N. mediately illuminated the new born order, Post. Forest Ave.

which has continued to guide us, day by day, to the present time. 'Rocked in the and to-day we stand before you, scarcely here. eleven years old, and point with pride to our record. At the first annual session of the Supreme Council held in April, 1878, its membership was 2,776, in April, 1879, 10,542, April, 1880, 20,500, April, 1881, anniversary of the Home Missionary Soci- friends in Ypsilanti would be only too will 28,000; and in April, 1882, when only five ety of the Congregational church, at Sara- ing to join. years old, the names of 35,000 members were upon its rolls. Representatives from thusiasm which those grand occasions enthirteen states were in attendance at the gender. Supreme Council. Their reports show that over half a million of dollars had bers for that year.

41.369, March 1, 1884, 48,912, March 1, phia. At the Presbyterian chrch, next be looked after speedily. The walks are uary 1, 1887, 70,823. Its operations cover- the public the benefit of some of the im- thoroughfare, should be renewed nearly ed fifteen states and four provinces. At pressions he received at Philadelphia. its decennial celebration, held in Boston, in June last year, it was shown that since order only ten years old has never been there. equaled. To-day, we are here to celebrate the decennial Ægis Council, while the Supreme Council has just closed its 11th annual session at Toronto, Canada. Representatives from nearly every state, and the province of Canada, were there. Their len came with him and will remain for the reports will show a membership of over Ægis Council, No. 117. A committee 80,000, paying to its beneficiaries annually over one and a half million dollars, and Orchard Lake Military Academy, yester-Harris and Frank Joslyn was appointed to having distributed, since its organization,

> "The continued growth of the order must be certain. It has never failed anybreadth of our land and Canada, widows and little children rise up and call her blessed. Our future must be safe, hallowed as it is with the prayers of widows and

> "The grandest exemplification of virtue, mercy and charity, was found in Him, who, from the mountain slope, preached that matchless sermon, which, to-day, is a moral element in more than four hundred million of hearts. This is our gospel, to hold up to the world the example of one who gave all that a man hath-his life-for men.

"Brothers of the Royal Arcanum, the A body of representative men, charged growth of the order in the future demands he expects to remain for two or three with the administration of the official the same zeal, which has marked our months. ant function of the officers. Indeed to unconscious upon a pile of canvass where keep an institution alive is the principal he was found by the crew of a passing and naturally follows the performance of sciousness. As he began to revive, he he main function which is the preserva- looked around, and then turning to the sailor nearest him he said: "There is an-Since the organization was formed seven other man! There is another man!" Now of our members have died-Lambert Brothers, we have been saved, possibly A. Barnes and Joseph Kitchen-charter from the wreck. We have, with the aid the loaf back in the closet, and helped to and Edwin R. Forsyth. Within 60 days, build again the fire that had gone out on the sum for which they were insured was the hearth. We desire to extend the benpaid to the party designated to receive it. efits of our fraternity more widely. Broth-And thus the protective badge of the ers, let our watchword be, when we go order was, at the last as well as on their out of this banquet hall, "There is another man." and our duty to him, and ourselves. were themselves unconscious of it. And is to bring him in and make him a brother

Prof. George is generally happy on such occasions and he did not fall below his have taken in providing those dependent record at this call of the toastmaster, but upon us with additional security against told his story in such felicitous style that the presence of close circumstances or the | with one accord all present decided that it absolutely filled the "gorge."

Brother Frank Joslyn, though laying no here to-night. It is an occasion of inspi- claim to oratorical flourish, as usual left ration to us in the performance of the no doubt in the minds of the guests that duty we have undertaken. Long live and he knew what to say and just how to say prosper the Royal Arcanum, and may vir- it. All enjoyed his humorous hits and tue, mercy and charity control its members | could tell just where the laugh came in without prompting. The Council are un-A feature of the occasion was the read der many obligations to the members of which formed so attractive a feature of the evening. They richly deserved the My Dear Sir-Yours received. I regret rising vote of thanks which the guests heartily gave them. Many years hence. the 10th anniversary of the Ægis Council I feel a very lively interest in the | will be remembered as one of the brightest and most enjoyable occasions along the march in life's journey.

Ypsilanti Home Association. The 30th annual meeting of the Home Association was held in the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, June 12. Over eighty were present, including members and invited guests. Brief addresses were made by Rev. Messrs, Cheney and Fairfield, who bade the ladies God speed in their work of Christian charity and love. The annual report of the president and executive committee showed a distribution of $292officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. John Gilbert.
First Vice President—Mrs. McCorkle.
Second Vice President—Mrs. Platt.
Third Vice President—Mrs. Hayes.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. H. E. Dickinson.
Treasurer—Mrs. Mary Shier.
Executive Committee—Mrs. Bellows, Mrs. Frank mith, Mrs. W. B. Clark, Mrs. E. M. Comstock, Irs. O. Lakue, Mrs. W. B. Clark, Mrs. E. M. Spenbr, Mrs. T. C. Owen.

A vote of thanks was given the ladies of the Baptist Church for their hospitable entertainment, and also to Rev. Mr. Cheney, who supplied the deficiency in the treasury by a donation entrusted to his care.

For Sale: A second hand phaeton and harness in

"The wisdom of its founders outlived the good repair and used but a brief time.

John W. Kishlar, wife and daughter, of cradle of liberty,' and nourished by the California, and J. J. Kishlar and wife, of three great attributes, virtue, mercy and Rochester, N. Y., are visiting their brother charity, its growth has been wonderful, and sister, Geo. Kishlar and Mrs. Glover,

M. T. Woodruff and his little daughter spent last Sunday and Monday here. the east last week, having attended the toga. He comes back filled with the en-

The same may be said of Mr. D. B. Greene, who returned a week ago from been paid to families of deceased mem- his service as a lay representative from give the city an appearance of increasing this presbytery to the General Assembly "March 1, 1883, its membership was of the Presbyterian church at Philadel-1885, 55,029, January 1, 1886, 61,023, Jan-Sunday evening, Mr. Greene will give to in bad shape, and, being so prominent a

Mrs. Osborne, who came to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. A. P. Bucklin, some its birth over six and one half million weeks ago, returned this week to her dollars had been paid to families of de- home at La Grange, Ill., and her mother ceased members. This showing for an accompanies her to spend the summer

Rev. W. S. Colton is the new pastor of the Congregational church at Wayne. Capt. Allen reached home from Washington last week, looking exceedingly rugged and feeling in good spirits. Mrs. Alsummer. The Captain delivered the address at the commencement exercises of day, where his brother, the Rev. C. T. Al- his curiosity was not stronger than his len, delivered the baccalaureate sermon. Sunday afternoon. Capt. Allen will attend the mansion on Fort street. Well, James, the Chicago Convention before returning it is a laudable impulse to see the choice one, yet, and throughout the length and to Washington, where he is paired with of 60,000,000 people for the highest office a free-trade democrat.

Miss Hattie Venning leaves this week for a visit to Saginaw. Miss Florence Kinne is expected home

Mr. Hall and Mrs. Alice Herrick, formerly Miss Densmore, are visiting friends in Ypsilanti and Saline. Maj. Stevens of Ann Arbor visited his old friend, Mr. E. M. Comstock, one day last week, Mr. L. M. Olds, formerly in Cleary's Business College, and at present connected as accountant in the largest dry goods house in Los Angeles, is in the city where

Mr. Sasenbery is very seriously ill as his home on Norris street, this city.

Miss Bertha Dow of New York City is spending a few days with her cousin, Captain Wallace, of Prospect street.

in the city this week W. H. Tousey was recently promoted to the clerkship in the express office. Good enough for him. Miss L. Eloise Crittenden of Ypsilanti, and Mr. C. F. Lowe of Jackson, Mich., were married by Prof. Estabrook to-day, June 14th, at the home of the brides's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Crittenden. Mrs. Hardy, widow of the late Rev Seth Hardy, lies at the point of death, at her residence on Washington street.

Mr. Clukey, brother of Mrs. N. M. Thompson, is very sick at the home of Mrs. T. on Forest avenue. Fred Cutler, formerly a resident of this Albion, is visiting friends in this city. He is soon to take charge of Summer Resort

Hotel at Harbor Springs, near Petoskey. Mr. Henry Compton of Kansas City, one of Ypsilanti's native sons, is revisiting the

Mr. Chas. McKinstry, who graduated second at West Point, last Saturday, is a son of Judge McKinstry of San Francisco. and nephew of Mrs. Anne Van Cleve of this city. The fact that he is not yet 21 usual ability.

Mr. P. Hascall has gone to Corunna to attend the funeral of his brother, Dr. J. H. Hascall.

Dr. Ruch is in Detroit this week, attending the meeting of the State Medical Association. The Dr. will be absent a week. visiting Bay City and Saginaw during her mortgage and the greater part of these absence.

Mrs. Don C. Batchelder and daughter returned, Friday, from a five month's so- fore noon, and Mr. Goldsmith, who owns journ at Clifton Springs. Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Wortley whose marriage was noted in a late issue, were in the city last week.

Excursion.

There will be an excursion to Detroit Saturday, June 16, for the benefit of St. Luke's Church. Ticket for the round trip only 80 cents, for children only 50 cents. Train leaves here at 8:25 a. m., leaves Detroit to return at 8 p. m.

This will be a good time to go in and see Detroit-there is Belle Isle and the Bat-.62, among 76 families. The following the of Atlanta, Wonderland and other places of interest, all of which can be seen for a small sum. This will be a good opportunity for the girls to get up leap year parties and take the young men to see the

> Call and Settle. pushes it with vigor and evident success All persons indebted to me will please call at my late store on Huron street and make settlement without delay, as I remain

> > WM. BRADLEY.

Wanted A house and lot in Ypsilanti-must be good and desirable location and a bargain. Price $1800 to $2000. F. P. BOGARDUS, office over Ypsilanti Savings Bank.

here but a few days.

That elegant home of J. J. Stephenson's is for sale as he expects to go to California soon, for his health.

Mere Mention.

Correcting an error of last week, we would announce Miss Fannie Bogardus' return to Ypsilanti where she expects to spend the summer.

Cards are issued announcing for June 21st, the marriage of Miss Sadie McLouth of Brookings, Dak., to Mr. Theodore A. Mr. Andrew Campbell returned from Stanley of New Britain, Conn. Congrat ulations, in which Miss Sadie's many

> The crossings in many of our streets are like the vicissitudes of life, all ups and

The many new side walks already constructed and in process of construction enterprise. The north side of Cross street from Washington to the Normal should the whole length.

The date of Mr. Stanley's settlement was 1833 instead of 1883 as the types made us say last week.

The fire bug is aboard about South Lyon as on the night of June 6, an incendiary fire consumed the stores of Messrs. Dwight, Geo. Alfred, Thomas Dunlap, and L. R. Mosier, two empty stores owned by Mr Barnes, and Fireman's Hall. Loss $15,000, with only $500 insured. State Senator Gorman was in Detroit the night of Gen. Algers's reception of the Press Association. He disclaimed any intention of coming down to see the next President, but it it quite uncertain whether resolution and led him to the portals of in their gift. Chelsea will soon have all the requisites for protection against fire. A disastrous fire at Laingsburg, Shiawassee county, last week, scorched H. R. Lowry, brother of John J. Norton of this city, to the tune of $1200, destroying his store building without insurance. The next meeting of the Parish Aid Society of St. Luke's church will be held Thursday afternoon, June 21, with Mrs. Joseph Miller. The report of the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary held at Jackson will be read at this meeting. Any one passing the house of Mr. Chamberlain on Oak street. Wednesday evening. June 6, would have supposed from the music and illumination that something was going on. The "something" proves to have been a lawn party given by Misses Sanford and Chamberlain for Miss Waltz, of Waltz Mich. Everything was lovely Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Vail visited friends but the weather, which might have been a trifle warmer. The Ypsilantian misunderstood Mrs Burton at the Sappho musicale. The title of Miss Pease's latest song is "A Kiss in the Rain."

A friend in New York whose business s selling church pews, writes on the situa tion: "By location, occupation and incli nation, I am 'de pew' man." Certainly it would not do for him to go back on "de Ypsilanti Council No. 47, Royal Templars, meet the first and third Monday in each month, in Good Templar Hall.

The Ladies' Literary Club last Wednes day presented their retiring president city and late of the Commercial House, Mrs. L. A. Osband, an elegant photograph of the statue of Sophocles which now stands in the Lateran Museum at Rome. The picture was purchased in Rome by Miss Genevieve Walton, on the occasion of her late visit to the Eternal City. It is a very beautiful souvenir, and a very suitable memento of appreciation.

Closed and Sold.

Mr. P. H. Davoe found himself unable to meet obligations last week, and on Monand graduated with such high honors, day morning his store was closed on atshows that he must be a young man of un- tachments, O. A. Ainsworth & Co., and Grant, Wood & Co., of Detroit, being the complaining creditors. A chattel mortgage of $700 existed against the stock, and the claims above mentioned amounted to $500 or $600. By agreement the attachments were released and Mr. Devoe sold his stock to A. H. Goldsmith, by which the claims were paid, Mr. Devoe surrendering all exemptions. All this was effected bethe building, was in charge of his own store.

There is much sympathy for Mr. Devoe, and we especially regret that his experiment of doing a strictly cash business should not have resulted more happily. The demonstration of its success would have been valuable to the business community, many of whom realize the demoralizing and wasteful results of a loose credit system. -Mr. Goldsmith had not long before sold to Mr. Cordary the two two-story brick stores on Congress street, near the bridge, known as the Goldsmith Hotel. and Mr. Cordary already has them both filled with goods from top to bottom, in addition to the two-story building that he already occupied. His wholesale grocery business is growing in volume, and he Excursion Rates for Conventions. The Michigan Central will sell tickets for the following meetings at one first class fare for the round trip:

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. Chicago, tickets sold June 16, 17 and 18, good to return to June 23.

ROMAN CATHOLIC UNION OF THE KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN,

Louisville, Ky., tickets sold June 22, 24 and 25, good to return to June 27th.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1888.

A skipping rope has been patented in England which sets in motion small music box in one of the handles A New York snake dealer says he has sold 1,000 snakes this season, ranging in prices from $50 to $200 An Austrian army officer has left his fortune to a nephew on the condition that he shall never indulge in newspaper reading. It is said by an eminent physician that half of the supposed mad dogs in the morning, and by night it had been turned into printed papers and the people were reading from them the news of the day.

An Englishman who attempted to photograph a camp of seven Moorish soldiers at Cape Judo was set upon by them and killed while adjusting his camera, which they did not understand four chapters is binding.

Italian method of soaking it in sweet oil before cooking is recommended as a fact worth knowing. Instead of beating it, bruise the fibres, soak the steak an hour or so in sweet oil, and then after it is broiled pour over it a piece of butter melted in vinegar.

ers, consisting of a piece of carnelian beautifully carved in the shape of a boat, was recently dug up near Alton, Ill. It is about five inches long and a life shape of the cross?

Have lived.

But that, my friends, was before Christ had started for Calvary. That was only the wnipping. Are you ready for the journey to the cross?

The carpenters have split the timber into the cross. A handsome relic of the mound build- have lived.

the brain on our general physical and nerve systems. It is supposed that the force that would be applied to repairing the teeth is used elsewhere.

Quantities of bears bones and seven Quantities of bears bones and seven very well preserved skulls were recently discovered in a cave at Rubeland, in the Hartz. A set of stag antlers, fragments of skeletons of hyenas, and slender bones, which are assigned to the ptarmigan and the lemming, were also discovered. The cave is to be lighted by electricity for the benefit of scientific visitors.

"Unfasten the girdle, take off the coat, Strip Him." The work is done. Bring back the coat, for here are the gamblers tossing up coin on the ground, saying: "Who shall have the coat?" One ruffian says: "I have it, I have it—it is mine!" He rolls it up and puts it under his arm, or he examines it to see what kind of fabric it is made of. Then they put the cross upon the ground, and they stretch Christ upon it, and four or five men hold Him down while they drive the spikes home: at every thump a groan, 'a Prairie Grove battle, twenty-five years ago, but it was in good condition and exploded, scattering missiles in every direction. No one was hurt, but several people narrowly escaped injury from the missiles.

The Supreme Court of Rhode Island has decided that the prohibitory law of the state does not apply to liquors kept for one's own use, and not for sale; that it does not apply to liquors in process of transportation through the state for sale in another state; that it does not apply to liquors stored in the state to be exported for sale; and that it is not in violation of the Constitution of the United States. There are in America over four million farms large and small. cover nearly 200,000,000 acres of improved land, and their total value is something like $10,000,000,000. These figures are not, of course, very comprehensive. They simply convey the dea of vastness of area and equal vastness of importance. The estimated value of the yearly products of these farms is between $2,000,000,000 and Parisians are wearing a new sort of earring, to which they have taken kindly—an arrow or a feather fixed almost horizontally across the lobe. The arrow is generally enriched with a single pearl. The feather has a cluster of small colored stones. Long drop earrings have also come in again, to the delight of the women who possessed such trinkets and have hastened to exhume them from the cases in which the lights went out. they have lain so long.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

why Christ expired so quickly on the cross, in six or seven hours, while other victims have been on the cross for forty-eight hours camera, which they did not understand the use of and were frightened at.

When it comes to talking of bigness Texas has good reason to put on airs. A Fort Worth newspaper shows that the Lone Star State would make 241 states the size of Rhode Island, or six the size of Rhode Island, or six the size of New York, or nearly seven kingdoms of the area of Portugal.

Brunswick, Ga., has invested in a new 50 cent Bible for swearing witnesses on. The reason for this is that the old Bible has had the first four chapters of Genesis kissed away and the lawyers are in doubt whether an oath made on a Bible minus its first four chapters of Genesis kissed away and the lawyers are in doubt whether an oath made on a Bible minus its first four chapters is binding. the old Bible has had the first four chapters of Genesis kissed away and the lawyers are in doubt whether an oath made on a Bible minus its first and blue ridges depict contact. There were the swellen shoulders of Christ. There were the black and blue ridges depict contact the lawyers are in doubt whether an oath made on a Bible minus its first and blue ridges depict contact the lawyers. ath made on a Bible minus its first our chapters is binding.

For making rump steak tender, the talian method of soaking it in sweet talian method of soaking it in sweet il before cooking is recommended as fact worth knowing. Instead of beatfact worth knowing. Instead of beatfact worth knowing. of the Savior, balancing himself. On, the furious and hellish look on those faces, grinning vengeance against the Son of God. The picture seized me, it overwhelmed me; it seemed as if it would kill me. I do not think I could have looked at it five minutes and have lived.

Ill. It is about five inches long and a gem of artistic lapidary work. It has been identified as a sacred badge stone worn by some prehistoric chief.

A well borer in St. Louis says that it is very seldom he can penetrate the earth to any very great depth without coming in contact with magnetic influences. On withdrawing the tool spikes and other iron substances will bear the scars of the rifle balls fired during the fight of July, 1886. The pine tree that one of the edgy of American teeth, and to some extent the loss of teeth of all civilized races, has been accounted for by the ablest English authorities on score of the heavier draughts made by the brain on our general physical and nerve systems. It is supposed that the force that would be applied to repairing the teeth is used elsewhere.

Him. Forward, now, to Calvary. The heating mob follow me the very the balls much to tool heating mob follow and the irsurfaces on the cross. On withdrawing the tool beloating mob follow in and afaire that is bould lose on the cross. Christ being made they tell her cross. Christ being made they tell her cross of the son of Gold, that still adhere to it. Sometimes he encounters made they iter the cross christ being made they tell her cross christ being made they that this robe indigant that He stand back and fallen, and they there we will be a problem to the cross of the son of Gold, the stundles and fallen, and after that is bould obe son with the cross of the son of Gold, the stundles and fallen, and after that is bould and after hat is bould and after that is bould after that is bould and after that is bould and after hand after hand a fallen, and after that is and they is the wind and after hand aft discribable says: "Fainted, have, your Fainted! Get up, get on!"

Now they have arrived at the foot of the hill. Off with His clothes. Shall that loathsome mob look upon the unrobed body of Christ? Yes. The commanding officers say: "Unfasten the girdle, take off the coat, strip Him." The work is done. Bring back the by electricity for the benefit of scientific visitors.

Captain William Andrews fears immense waves less than the whales in his projected canoe trip across the Atlantic. He says schools of whales, which are tame, are wont to play dangerously near a craft that can be splintered by a single blow of one of their broad tails. To guard against this he will carry a supply of cartridges to frighten away the disagreeable companions.

James Cass, of Prairie Grove, Ark., picked up an old bomb on his farm the other day and threw it into a brush fire that was burning near by. The bomb had lain there ever since the Prairie Grove battle, twenty-five years to five head of the lond Him down while they drive the spikes home: at every thump a groan, a groan! Alas, alas! the hour passes on and the time comes when they must crucify Him. Christ has only one garment left now, a cap, a cap of thorns. No danger that it will fall off, for the sharp edges have punctured the temples and it is sure and tast. One rutifian takes hold of one end of the short beam of the cross, and another ruffian takes hold of the end of the long beam of the cross, and all together they move on until they come to the hole digged in the earth, and with awful plunge it jars down with its burden of woe. It is not the picture of a Cirist, it is not the statue of Christ, as jou sometimes see in a cathedral; but it is the body of a bleeding, living, dying Christ. They sometimes say He had five wounds, but they have counted wrong. Two wounds for the load of the price of the price curses. When you are ill it is pleasant to ave the head bathed and the hands and eet rubbed. Look at the hands and feet of plaudits of a vast assembly and said: "We

The Brooklyn Preacher Discourses on the Divine Assassination and Its Lesson.

He Pictures a Cross Flaming with Suffering, Flaming with Glory.

Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., took for his text the passage:

Whoseever doth not bear His cross and come after me can not be my disciple. Luke xiv., 4-27.

He preached the following sermon:
The cross was a gibbet on which criminals were put to death. It was sometimes in the shape of the letter T, som that and misshapen a head; and here is another skull, and there on the hillside is another skull. Indeed the Bible says it was "a place of skulls." But about the victim on one of these crosses all ages are crying: "Who is He? Was He a man? Was He a God?"

Through the darkness of that gloomy day I come close up enough to the cross to see who it is. It is Jesus. How did He come there? Had He come up on the hill to look off upon the beautiful landscape or upon a brilliant sunset? No. He came there ill and exhausted. People sometimes wonder why Christ expired so quickly on the cross, is all that I can do."

But how are you going to test your love and test your earnestness? My text gives a test. It says that while Christ carried a cross for Christ. "Well," you say, "I never could understand that. There are no crosses to be carried in this land; those persecutions have passed, and in all the land there is no one to be crucified, and yet in the pulpit and in the prayer-meetings you all keep talking about carrying a cross. What do you mean, sir?" I mean this: That is a cross which Christ calls you to do which is unpleasant and hard. "Oh!" you say, "after hearing nave passed, and in all the land there is no one to be crucified, and yet in the pulpit and in the prayer-meetings you all keep talking about carrying a cross. What do you mean, sir?" I mean this: That is a cross which Christ calls you to do which is unpleasant and hard. "Oh!" you say, "after hearing the story of this Christ and all that He has and weaf for me I am ready to do anything > gun a new life, that, while he wants to be faithful in his worldly duties, he is living for another world, and he ought to advise all of his associates, so far as he can influence them, to begin with the Christian life. Could ossible for me to recommend the Christian eligion in places of worldly business." Just s I feared. There is a second cross offered ou and you cannot carry it. Christ litted a you and you cannot carry it. Christ litted a mountain for you and you cannot lift an ounce for Him.

There is someone whose cross it will be to present religion in the home circle. Would you dare to kneel down and pray if your prother and sister were looking at you? Could you ask a blessing at the tea table? Could you take the Bible, and gather your family around you and read of Christ and beaven and your immortal soul? Could you heaven and your and read of Christ and heaven and your immortal soul? Could you then kneel and pray for a blessing on your household? "Oh," you say, "not exactly that. I couldn't quite do that, because I have a very quick temper, and if I protessed religion and tried to talk religion in my household and after that I should lose my temper, they made any experience."

in some time when nobody is looking, for-getful of the tremendous words of my text: "Whosoever doth not bear His cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple"

An officer of a neighboring church told me that he was in a store in New York—just happened in—where there were many clerks, happened in—where there were many cierks, and a gentleman came in and said to a young man standing behind the counter: "Are you the young man that arose the other night in the Brooklyn tabernacle and asked for prayers?" Without any flush of cheek he replied: "I am. I havn't always done right, and I have been quite had; but since I arose for "I am. I havn't always done right, and I have been quite bad; but since I arose for prayers I think I am better than I was." It was only his way of announcing that he had started for the higher life. God will not cast out a man who is brave enough to take a step ahead like that.

I tell you these things this morning because, my dear friends, I want to show you how light the cross is that we have to carry compared with that which Christ carried for us. You have not had the flesh torn off the body of a bleeding, living, dying Christ. They sometimes say He had five wounds, but they have counted wrong. Two wounds for the feet, one wound for the side, they say, 'ive wounds. The rose that Christ carried for us had compared to the hards, two wounds for the feet, one wound for the side, they say, 'ive wounds. No trey have emissed the worst and they have missed the most. Did you ever see the branches out of which that crown of thorns was made? I saw one on a Brooklyn ferry, boat, in the hands of a gettleman who had tust returned from Palestine, a bramble just. I like that out of which the crown of thorns was made. O how cruel and how stubborn was made. O how cruel and how stubborn when the theorem of the third with blood from the temples. I like that out of which the crown of thorns was mude. O how cruel and how stubborn were the thorns! And when that cap of thorns was put upon Christ it was pressed down on Him, not five wounds but ten, wenty, thirty—I can not count them.

There were three or four absences that made that seene worse. First there was the wornty that the signit of the water. His wounds were worse than gunshot fractures, and yet now water. A Turk in the thirteenth century was crucified on the banks of a river so that the signit of the water might tantalize him, and of how the thirst of Christ must have tantalize him. And O how tite thirst of Christ must have tantalize him. And O how tite thirst of Christ must have tantalized as He thought of the Eupharts to the water might tantalize him was present to the days of a few years of training the days of the water might tantalize him and the Amazon and all the foundation of the temples of the water might tantalize him and the Amazon and all the foundation of the temples of the water might the deplace of the temples of the water might the days of the water of the water might th but He deelined it. He wanted to die soler. No water.

Then, my friends, there was the absence of light. Darkness always exasperates trouble. I never shall forget the night in the summer of 1873, in the steamer Greece, inidation of lights. Atlantic, every moment expecting the steamer to go down. All the lights in the cabin were blown out. The captain came crawling on his hands and knees, for he could not stand upright, so violently was the vessel pitching, and he cried out: Light up, light up?" The steward said: "We can't light up, ight up; the candles are gone and the holders are gone and the lights were burning, worse when the lights were burning the light li tis a great day for the Roman empire. Let this building be prosperous, and let honor be put upon the Greek architect. Oh, we must have a festival to-day. Bring out those Christians and let us have them put to death at the mouth of the lions." The Christians were put into the center of the amphitheater. It was to be a great celebration in their destruction. Then the lions, hungry and three-fourths starved, were let out from their dens in the side of the amphitheatre, and they came forth with mighty spring to destroy and rend the Christians, and all the galleries shouted: "Huzza! Huzza! Long live the emperor!" Then the Greek architect arose in one of the galleries and shouted with its the wart assumbling all heard hum. until in the vast assemblage all heard him:

"I, too, am a Christian!" and they seized him in their fury and flung him to the wild beasts, until his body, bleeding and dead, was tumbled over and over again in the dust

It is said by an eminent physician the shape of the letter T_s sometimes in the shape of the letter T_s sometimes of the shape of the letter T_s sometimes in the shape of constant the section of the shape of the letter T_s sometimes in

Have you any scars to show in this conflict? When a war is over the heroes have scars to show. One hero rolls back his sleeve and shows a gunshot fracture, or he pulls down the collar and shows where he was wounded in the neck. Another man says: "I have never had the use of my limb since I was never had the use of my fimb since I was wounded at that great battle." When the last day comes, when all our battles are over, will we have any wounds for Christ? Some have wounds for sin, wounds for the devil, wounds gotten in fighting on the wrong side. Have we wounds that we can show—wounds gotten in the battle for Christ and the truth? On that resurrection day. Obviet will have gotten in the battle for Christ and the truth? On that resurrection day Christ will have plenty of scars to show. Christ will stand there and show the scars on his brow, the scars on His hands, and the scars on His feet, and He will put as de the robe of His royalty and show the scar on His side, and all heaven will break down with emotion and gratitude in one great sob, and then in one great hosanna. Will you and I have any scars to show? cars to show?

There will be Ignatius, on that day showing the mark of the paw and teeth of the lion that struck him down in the coliseum. There will be glorious John Huss showing just where on his foot the flames began on that day when his soul took wing of flame and soared up from Constance. There will be Hugh McKail ready to point to the mark on his neck where the ax struck him. There will be McMillan and Campbell and Freeman, the American missionaries, who, with man, the American missionaries, who, with their wives and children, were put to death in the awful massacre at Cawn ore, showing the place where the daggers of the Sepoys struck them. There will be the Waldenses, showing where their limbs were broken on the day when the Piedmont soldiery pitched them over the rocks. Will you and I have any wounds to show? Have we fought any battles for Christ? Oh, that we might all be enlightened for Christ, that we might all be willing to suffer for Christ, that we might all willing to suffer for Christ, that we might all bear a cross for Christ.

When the Scottish chieftains wanted to raise an army, they would make a wooden cross, and then set it on fire, and carry it with other crosses they had through the mountains, through the highlands, and among the people; and as they waved the cross the people would gather to the standard and fight for Scotland. So to-day, I come out with the cross of the Son of God. It is a flaming cross—flaming with suffering, flaming with triumph, flamling with suffering, flaming with triumph, flamling with glory, I carry it out among all the people. Who will be on the Lord's side? Who will gather to the standard of Emmanuel? A cross, a cross, a cross. "Whosoever doth not bear his cross, other boat going in an opposite direction. The animal came near being drowned, but its inherent stubborn ness probably saved it from such s fate. Since that time the mule has saved itself many times from being immersed in the waters of the canal by its sagacity and by keebing a level head beneath its long ears. During the working season whenever a boat passes by and the mule feels a sudden jerking as the towlines crosses oach other, it reasons that something is wrong, and, turning round with its mate, walks in an opposite direction from that in which it was going until all danger is past.

the lines are clear of each other and compared with that which Christ carried for us. You have not had the flesh torn off for Christ's sake in carrying your cross. He fainted dead away under His cross. You have not carried the cross until it fetched the blood. Under His there was a pool of carnage that splashed the horses' fetlocks. You have friends to sympathize with you in carrying the cross. Christ trod the wine-press of God's wrath alone, alone! The cross that you and I ought to carry represents only a few days or a few years of trial. The cross that Christ carried for us had compressed into it the agonies of eternity.

There has someone come here to-day

all danger is past.

Canalers call the mule "Little Solomon" on account of its being so wise. A peculiar trait of this mule is that it will stretch every inch of itssk in to kick a man but it will not lift its feet to kick a child. Recently a friend of Mr. Smith went to the latter's barn to look at the mule. On opening the door the animal caught sight of the stranger, and, backing up as far as its halter would allow, it be-shame or bear the burden, and with a voice which has in it majesty and omnipotence. He cries until all the earth trembles: "Whosever doth not bear his cross and come after me can not be My disciple."

Oh, my brethren, my sisters—for 1 do not speak professionally; I speak as a brother would speak to a brother or sister—my brother, can you not bear a cross if at last you can wear a crown? Come now, let us divide off. Who is on the Lord's side? Who is ready to turn his back upon the Lamb of

The Largest Lens.

LIGHT REFLECTIONS.

There are few things in life more touching than the umbrella of an average citizen in an art galery. -Burlington Free Press.

After all, it seems that the doctors got ahead of the lawyers in securing a change of venue for Jacob Sharp .-San Francisco Alta.

You can frighten any potentate in Europe, just now, by stepping up behind him and shouting "Boolongzhay!" -Springfield Union.

A startled correspondent writes to ask if it is true that dog meat is sometimes canned. Certainly; we have seen dogs' tails canned many a time. - Burlington Free Press. A little boy was told that there were no politics in heaven. He thought for a moment, and then said: "I guess that's because there are no politicians there."-Harper's Bazar.

"I have nothing but my heart to give you," said a spinster to a lawyer, who had concluded a suit for her. "Well," said the lawyer gruffly, "go to my clerk, he takes the fees,"-Tid-

Elfrida wants to know "how many people read the best books?" Not over two hundred, my dear. At least, that is all the publisher sold of mine. But, of course, perhaps the publisher lied. There may be, perhaps, as many as two hundred and fifty, but not more than that. - Burdette.

First Tramp-'If I had my way I'd have 365 National holidays in this intended me to understand from his words. In five I am puzzled to know year." Second Tramp-"You would, eh? And then there would be one working day in every four years. Oh, you are a nice one, you are! You would make a galley slave of the poor laboring man, wouldn't you?"-Texas

"Excuse me, sir," said the business manager to the city editor, "but you promised to print that puff of Smither's dry goods store just as I wrote it." "Well, didn't I?" "No, sir. It wasn't published at all." "Did you write on one side of the paper only?" "Certainly." "Then I guess I must have published the wrong side of the manuscript." - Washington Critic.

Knowledge is Power.

Authoress-"Yes, I'm writing a work which will be published in three cences of the Poet Blankley.' I find the work extremely interesting."

Gentleman Acquaintance-"You were doubtless well acquainted with Blankley?"

A.—"No, not exactly. In fact I never met him but once." G. A .- "Ah! He probably gave you numerous facts on that occasion. Where was it, may I ask?" A.—"On a crowded street car. have always regretted that I never spoke with him. But I heard him make an earnest remark to the conductor, and I shall always remember what a sweet voice he had." G. A. - "What did he say?"

"What's the fare?" - Detroit Free Press.

Plantation Philosophy.

Widout trust dar ain't nuthin' gained; widout trust dar ain't nuthin' lost. trouble ter show me dat he has tol' de regularly at the expiration of the year truff, I knows dat he has tol' me er

De 'oman dat doan hate kain't love; an' de straunger she hates some man, de straunger she lubs some udder man. I neber did think dat de sharp man does de country any good. De fox is er good deal slier den de hoss but he Springfield Union.

ain't nigh so straung. We thinks mo' o' de man dat neber would 'comerdate us den we does de man dat 'comerdated us three times but failed on the fou'th. -Arkansaw Traveler.

Old Chinese Superstitions.

A girl who is partaking of the last meal she is to eat in her father's house previous to her marriage sits at the table with her parents and brothers; but she must eat no more than half the bowl of rice set before her, else her departure will be followed by continual scarcity in the domicile she is leaving. If a bride breaks the heel of her shoe in going from her father's to her husband's house, it is ominous of unhappiness in her new relations. A piece of bacon and a parcell of sugar are hung on the back of a bride's sedan chair as a sop to the demons who might molest her while on her journey. The "Three Baneful Ones" are fond of salt and spices and the "White Tiger" likes sweets. A bride may be brought home while a coffin is in her husband's house, but not within 100 days after a coffin is carried out. Domestic troubles are sure to come upon one who is married within 100 days after a funeral. A bride while putting on her wedding garments stands in a round shallow basket. This conduces to her leading a placid, well-rounded life in her future home. After her departure from her father's door her mother puts the basket over the mouth of the oxen to stop the mouths of all who would make adverse comment on her daughter, and then sits down before the kitchen range, that her peace and leisure may be duplicated in her daughter's life. A bride must not for four months after her marriage enter any house in which there has recently been a death or birth, for if she does there will surely be a quarrel between her and the groom. If a young mother goes to see a bride the visitor is looked upon as the cause of any calamity that might follow.

A Sympathetic Heart.

Old Mrs. Bently: "I felt so sorry for a poor man to-day, Josiah. He told me that he had been deef and dumb all his life, an' I give him a dime.

Old Mr. Bently: 'How could he be dumb an' tell ye that he was dumb?" Old Mrs. Bently: "Why, deary me, Josiah Bently, I never thought o' that.'

A great deal of written and spoken

nonsense is nonsense, not because words are misused, but because the e ill-placed. Here are some examples d. "He blew out his brainsafter saying good-bye to his wife with a blunder 2. "Being early killed, I ser party in search of his mangled body. 3. "I could not cross-examine my children in the family history of Sir Charles Grandison and Harriet Byron, as Lord Macaulay sometimes did. "We complimented them upon discussing matters which were in some countries found irritating in so calm a 5. "A lantern of linen an mbossed copper hangs from the cen ter, thick Turkish carpets cover the ground, and an enormous knob of brass, about six feet high, surrounds 6. "He had jumped into the river after fastening a rope around his neck, the end of which was fastened to big stone." 7. "A tent large enough to contain fifty persons of fine work nanship." As regards the first example I fail to see how a man can say goodove to his wife with a blunderbuss. As egards the second, if the writer was write afterward of how he sent out a party, etc? The third sentence is a em from Sir Henry Hollands's "Reco-I don't know what it imctions." olies; but it may imply that Lord Macauley was in the habit of catechisng either his own children or Sir Henry's on the subject of Sir Charles Grandison; or that he was in the habit of cross-examining his own children on some other topic. In sentence four I read about matters being irritated in so calm a way, and I feel quite sure that that is not quite what the author what the knob of brass surmounted. Syntax answers that it was the ground; out I suspect that it may have been the center of the lantern. In six I learn for the first time that a man can tie the end of his neck to a stone. In seven I make the acquaintance of fifty people of fine workmanship, and I am sure I am proud to know them. A simple arrangement of words will set most of these curious sentences right. What a pity it is that the writers did not make the simple rearrangement instead of leaving their readers to do it.

Gave $75,000 to the Bible Society.

-Cassell's Saturday Journal.

The man is still living who, seventeen years ago, walked into the rooms of the Bible Society in Boston and electrified the persons whom he found there, first by his appearance, and, secondly, by the communication which he volumes, called 'Personal Reminis- had to make. His appearance betokened more than poverty, for his shabby clothes were tied together with strings What in the world had brought such a man there was the question which every one asked himself, and the wonder can be better imagined than described when the stranger remarked that he had property to the amount of $75,000 which he would like to turn over to the society, if he could be guaranteed ten per cent annually upon it for the remainder of his life, his age then being ment as well as they could, took his name, verified his schedule of his possessions, and submitted his case to the directors. They looked the matter over n the light of actuaries' tables, etc., and finally, after much deliberation, lecided that the risk was too great, and so notified the would-be donor. Not long after he came back and renewed his proposition to turn the monev over to the society and said that he would be content with 7 per cent annually. That proposition was accept-When er man puts hisse'f ter gre't ed, and for some years he appeared and drew his interest, taking $200 cash and the company's note for the balance. After doing this for seven years r so he turned those notes back to the company, saying that he had no use for He is now, at the age of 96, blind, deaf, and crippled by a fall so that he cannot walk, and the Bible Society pays the bills for his support.-

The officers suppressed their amaze-

The Young Critic.

A bright voungster who visited the Corcoran Art Gallery the other day was apparently very deeply impressed with that famous little example of Italian sculpture, "The Forced Prayer." It will be remembered that the statue represents a small boy in a very abbreviated garment who holds his chubby hands together in front of him in an attitude of prayer, while his small face represents every possible shade of disgust and rebellion. But our youngster had a different explanation of the motive of the statue, which he tersely stated to his father on his return home somewhat in this wise: "An', papa, I sawed a little image of a boy what had been chasin' a little chicken in his night-gown. An' he des catch de little chicken up in his hands an' he squoshed it."—Washington Hatchet.

Arithmetical.

Teacher—Now, remember, Robert, that a horse's front legs, as you call them, are his fore legs. Will you try.

Teacher-That's a good boy. Now, before I dismiss you, tell me again how many legs a horse has?

Bobby (promptly)—Six legs.
Teacher—Six? How do you make

Bobby—The two legs what's his hind legs and the fore legs what's his front legs is six legs.—Binghamton

Heavy machinery is now run by artesian well power in many parts of France, and the experience of the French show that the deeper the well the greater the pressure and the higher the temperature. The famous Grenelle well sank to the depth of 1,800 feet, and flowing daily some 500,000 gallons, has a pressure of sixty pounds to the, square inch. The water being also so hot that it used for heating the hospitals.

WABASH AVE, and MONROE ST.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Accommodations for 300 Guests.

HAS ELEVATOR and all Modern Improvements The Regular Rates have been reduced to

$2.00 and $3.00 per day

Special and satisfactory rates to excursion parties. Your patronage is respectfully solicited

WOODCOCK & LORING

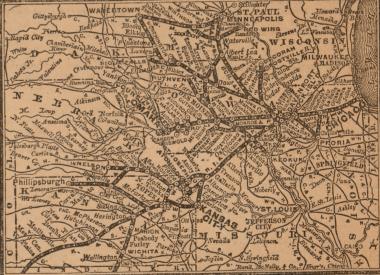

Proprietors.

We Guarantee Six Boxes to cure my case. With each order received by me for six boxes, accompanied with $5.00, we will sense the purchaser our written guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not effect a cure Guarantees issued only by FRANK SMITH, Druggist,

YPSILANTI, MICH,

UNACQUAINTED WITH THE CEOGRAPHY OF THE COUNTRY WILL OBTAIN MUCH USEFUL INFORMATION FROM A STUDY OF THIS MAP OF THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y. Its central position and close connection with Eastern Lines at Chicago and continuous lines at terminal points West, Northwest and Southwest, make it the true mid-link in that transcontinental chain of steel which unites the Atlantic and Pacific. Its main line and branches include Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Peoria, Genesco, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois: Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, West Liberty, Iowa City, Des Moines, Indianola, Winterset, Atlantic, Knoxville, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Centre and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron, St. Joseph and Kansas City, in Missouri; Leavenworth and Atlantison, in Kansas; Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota; Watertown and Sioux Falls, in Dakota, and many other prosperous towns and cities. It also offers a CHOICE OF ROUTES to and from the Pacific Coast and intermediate places, elegant DINING CARS, magnificent PULLITAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS, elegant DINING CARS, seats FREE to holders of through first class tickets.

THE CHICAGO, KANSAS & NEBRASKA R'Y (CREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE)

Extends west and southwest from Kansas City and St. Joseph to Fairbury, Nelson, Horton, Topeka, Wichita, Caldwell, and all interior Kansas and beyond. of the celebrated Pullman lasted track of heavy steel All safety appliances and modern improvements. Commodious, well built stations. Celerity, certainty, comfort and luxury assured.

THE FAMOUS ALBERT LEA ROUTE Is the favorite between Chicago, Rock Island, Atchison, Kansas City, and Minneapolis and St. Paul. The tourist route to all Northern Summer Resorts. Its Watertown Branch traverses the most productive lands of the great "wheat and dairy belt" of Northern Iowa, Southwestern Minnesota and East-Central Dakota.

The short line, via Seneca and Kankakee, offers superior facilities to travel between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

For Tickets, Maps, Folders, or any desired information, apply to any Council Ticket Office in the United States or Canada, or address.

General Manager.

apply to any Coupon Ticket Office in the United States or Canada, or address, E. ST. JOHN,

E. A. HOLBROOK. CHICAGO, ILL.

ILLINOIS.

-Work has begun on the new street railroad at Alton.

-Charles A. Gaither, of Kirkwood, was arrested on a charge of forgery. -Andrew Jackson, an aged colored man of Centralia, committed suicide by shoot-

-Peter Weber, 47 years of age, fell into the river at Aurora and was drowned. He leaves a wife and family. -John Scanlon, one of the victims of the explosion of the steamer Evansville, died at his home in Fulton. -A postoffice has been established at Hillery, Vermillion County, and W. F. O'Toole appointed postmaster. -John Corrigan, of Centralia, son of an ex-sheriff of the county, was drowned in East Fork Creek while bathing. -A postoffice has been established at Canaville, Williamson County, and William P. Willeford appointed postmaster. -The Emmensite Explosive Guns and Ammunition Company, of Chicago, was incorporated at Springfield with a capital stock -Arthur Williams, aged 10 years, was drowned in the Embarras river near Newton, while bathing with a number of companions. His body was recovered. -The Joliet Worchenblatt, a German Democratic paper, has been sold to Adolf Wulff, of Chicago, who will run it in Republican interests.

-At Catlin, Thomas Polhemas, aged 80, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary at hard labor for the attempted burglary of Woodbury's drug store at Danville. -The internal revenue collections in the the month of May. The tax paid gallons the month of May. The tax paid gallons were 1,413,121 and there were 140 export Reid admits having three wives, the first -Aleck Johnson fired four shots at Will- of Menden iam Bronson at Galesburg, mistaking him, he said, for a Burlington engineman. One of the shots inflicted a slight flesh wound. Johnson is in jail. -The corner-stone of the new Public Library Building at Quincy, was laid with elaborate ceremonies. The building when completed will be one of the handsomest structures in the city. -Maggie McGowan received a verdict of $5,000 against Richard Poole, a professional base, ball player, for breach of promise. Poole was the father of a pair of twins which the girl gave birth to.

-James Wilson, a young tailor, was drowned at Oregon by the upsetting of a skiff, carried over the dam. Henry Seibert, who was with him, was saved by clinging to the boat. The body has not been recovered.

--At Nokomis, two prominent citizens, Dr. John Osborn and J. W. Hancock, are lying at the point of death from injuries reciprocally inflicted in a quarrel, Hancock having knifed Osborn, and Osborn crushed Han-

-Charles A. Gathier, a young man from Burlington, Ia., was arrested at Kirkwood, for forging the names of several farmers to notes varying in amount from $800 to $1,050. In default of bail he was held over to the next term of court. -The strike at the Joliet Iron & Steel Works came to an end after the mills had been shut down eighteen hours. The proprietors acceded to the men's demands to put more men to work in accordance with a previous agreement. -Frank Lindley, a lawyer of Danville, has been indicted by the grand jury for fraudulently altering a promissory note. An indictment was also returned against Chas. Young, the wealthiest man in Newell Township, for perjury.

- Cut worms are reported by Prof. Frobes, State Etomologist, to be more numerous in Illinois this year than for many years, and he also reports the root web worm to be doing sections of the State.

-E, D. Church, a miller of Sterling, with a syndicate of Duluth, Minn., business men are making arrangements to build a flouring | March 27. mill in the latter city with a daily capacity of 3,000 barrels. The necessary capital has been subscribed or assured.

years of age shot himself in the throat with the county jail. shot-gun, the shot passing upward, riddling the brain and fracturing the walls of the skull, causing instant death.

-Daniel Cantrem, colored, recovered a verdict of $2,750 against the Illinois Central Railroad for personal injuries received at He was run over by a switch engine, cutting off his right arm and right leg. Judge Smith set the verdict aside for being against new trial.

4000 MICHICAN.

-William Allen, of Whittemore, pleaded guilty of shooting dear out of season in 000. Ioseo County, and was fined $5 and $10

-Oil has been discovered on the farm owned by Wesley Duals, near Tustin, and there is consideral excitement in conse -Anson L. Crawford, of Cadillac, has begun suit against F. J. Lamb & Co., of Grand Rapids, for $10,000 damages for false impris

-A Battle Creek man who wanted to change Myron W. Cobb's $300 chicken coop into a Goguac Lake summer cottage, tried to fumigate it and burnee it up.

-The steambarge Owen, with J. S. Dunham's Chicago wrecking outfit, in charge of Captain Williams, has gone to Point au Pelee to get off the schooner White Star, coal laden, which went ashore last fall.

-Lou Marquette, living three miles south of Ithaca, has captured a trumpet crane. The bird has never before been found away from the Mississippi Valley. It measures six feet from feet to end of beak. -The Port Huron Breycle Club is now thoroughly organized, and consists of twenty members. It has been dicided to purchase handsome uniforms after the style of the League of American Wheelmen. -The schooner Maggie McCool, wheat laden for Kingston, in tow of the steambarge Bruno, was sunk near Sault Ste Marie running into an ice field. The vessel was valued at $10,000; the cargo at $20,000.

-In the inquest over the remains of the two-year-old child who was killed by the cars at Kalamazoo recently, a verdict has been rendered that the Michigan Central characters. They have specified five news-

a boat in Saginaw Valley was placed in the of the editors has complied with the request hold of the steamship Britannic, in course of but the Rockport papers have defied them. construction in at Captain James Davidson's Fresh outrages are therefore momentarily shipyard at Bay City. Its weight is thirty-seven tons and it cost $10,600. It was built follow. by Riter Bros., of Buffalo, N. Y.

a cozy and comfortable home.

ously injuring several. The riot was finally quelled and ten of the leaders are in jail.

-At Wyandotte, the boiler in the plate mill of the Eureka Iron and Steel Works exploded, wrecking the entire building at a loss of $10,000, killing three employes and seriously injuring a number. The dead are Terry McCoy, aged 60, night watchman; Patrick Finn aged 22, and George Green, aged 32.

-George Truitt, a dairyman at Battle Creek, committed suicide by shooting himself. He was a young married man with two children. Truitt and his father-in-law carried over $40,000 life insurance in graveyard companies on several old people. At the last session of the Legislature those com panies were all suspended in this State, and Truitt's suicide is assigned to losses thereby sustained.

-John Jordan, of Coldwater, says that while his family were at supper a few days ago boiled eggs, freshly laid, formed part of the meal. His little daughter broke one upon her plate and said it must be bad, as it was all black inside. Mr. Jordan examined the egg and found that the black substance was a perfectly formed and well cooked lizard that was coiled up inside the egg as though that was its natural abiding place.

-Addison Carmichael died in Wright Township last January, declaring that his wife had poisoned him. But little attention was paid to his statement until circum stances recently brought to light incited the Prosecuting Attorney to take an interest in the matter. When Carmichaei's body was disinterred and the stomach brought to the city for chemical analysis, Mrs. Car-michael was arrested, charged with murdering her husband, poison having been found in the stomach. -A highly sensational case, now pending at Marshall, is that against George Reid, who is in jail on a charge of perjury. The perjury, it is alleged, was committed by Reid last September, in trying to get a marriage license, and the complaining witness is a lady who claims to be Reid's fourth wife. Her maiden name was Lizzie Young Peoria district amounted to $1,295,214.34 for and she is looking up evidence upon which two being Louisa Adel and Laura Portman, INDIANA.

-At Marion, a reception was given at the residence of Col. O. H. P. Carey, in honor of Mrs. Thomas A. Hendricks, widow of the late Vice-President.

-Adam Gable, a young farmer living near Armstrong Station, after a quarrel with his affianced, Thursday evening, went home and shot himself, dying Friday.

-William Smith, a young farm hand, reschool house north of Crawfordville. It is thought to be a case of suicide.

-Mrs. Ida M. Hunter, of Huntington, filed suit for divorce from her husband, John Hunter, in the Circuit Court. The charges are sensational, and the parties are well

-While drilling in lime-kilns north of Delphi a premature explosion of dynamite occurred and three persons were injured. Alex Smith was terribly injured and it is thought will die. -Sunday evening, after the heavy rain.

George Baker, a young man living near Siget, attempted to cross the Little Wabash on horseback and was drowned. His body -The Inter-State oratorical contest held at Indianapolis, was won by Joseph P. Mc-Arthur of Albion College, Michigan. The Demorest medal was won by Miss Alice B. Hecklinger of New York. -Rezin Johnson, a prominent and wealthy young business man of Elro?, aged twenty-five years, shot himself in the head with a rifle, dying instantly. Despondency, caused by dissipation, was the cause. -While attending the funeral of an intimate triend, Mrs. Adolph Smith, of Seymour, sixty-five years of age, and apparently in robust health, suddenly fell dead beside the coffin as it was being closed. -Some fishermen near Hazelton, twelve an immense amount of damage in certain miles below Vincennes, while placing their nets in White River found the body of James Julian, who was washed from a raft at Hazon during high water and drowned.

-William Bain and Amos Walker, two counterfeiters, pleaded guilty at Indiananolis. Bain was sentenced to three years -A shocking suicide occurred near Cen- in the penitentiary, but Walker, on account tralia. A prominent colored man about 76 of his youth, was let off with four months in -Dennis Sullivan, one of the largest retail dry goods merchants of Indianapolis, assigned for the benefit of his creditors. There are $19,000 in preferred claims. The total indebtedness will aggregate $40,000, with assets worth fully as much. -After a trial lasting for ten days the jury prought in a verdict in favor of County Auditor Goben in a suit brought by the county t the evidence, and awarded the defendent a recover $10,000, which it was claimed that he wed the county when he retired from the office of county treasurer four years ago. -The suits which have been pending in United States Court at Indianapolis between —James Trask, proprietor of a general store here, assigned this morning, with liabilities, $6,000, and assets, $7,000. the receivers of the old First National Bank and of the Indiana Banking Company have been compromised. The Indiana Banking Company's receiver pays to the other $25,-

—The Elkhart Western Railway Company was organized at Elkhart, with H. E. Buck-len and W. J. Davis, of Chicago, among the directors. The line, work on constructing which will begin at once, will run from Elkhart to Mishawaka, to connect with the Grand Trunk.

-Edward Chamberlain, the murderer of da Wittenberg, and the would-be slayer of heriff Henderson, was taken to Michigan City for safe keeping. The prisoner was taken to Delphi at midnight, and from there to Michigan City by way! of. Peru. Sheriff Henderson is slowly improving. -Cynthia J. Fisher filed a complaint in the Circuit Court demanding damages in the sum of $10,000 against James Shaw. The complaint is based on the fact that on July 5, 1886, the husband of the plaintiff, David Fisher, was accidentally killed by Shaw. The latter was swinging a maul while Fisher was holding a stake. The maul slipped from the handle and Mr. Fisher's skull was

-The squabble with the policy shops in Evansville, which were shut down a few days ago by the discovery of a fraud on the part of the players, culminated to-day by the filing of forty different affidavits against the dealers by one of the holders of a winning ticket. The natural result of this will be to close up every shop in the city, unless the "joints" put up their losses, which aggregate over $10,000.

-The Spencer County White Caps have issued a proclamation laying down rules and folks ran the train faster than ten miles an poers in the county which have been commanded to publish the proclamation under The heaviest boiler ever lifted on board penalty of chastisement of the editors. One

-Professor Anderson, principal of the -Joseph Reno, of Waldron, had the lum. Spencer High School, and the Misses Lillie ber on the ground ready to erect a home when his son was taken ill and died. The expenses incident to this sad affliction left ple started in five boats up the river to go to most always is, the people in the second him unable to build the house, whereupon kindhearted neighbors and friends took hold McCormick's Creek, a preasure resort three miles from Spencer. The boat in which were and completed the work, providing for him the professor and the two young ladies and cozy and comfortable home.

The ore docks at Escanaba were the tell behind the others of the party and was ing this the people in the front pe w scene of a riot. The ore trimmers demand- lost to view behind the bend in ther iver. The ed higher wages and struck. New men others were suedenly startled by screams, and were put on, but when they appeared for immediately hurried back to the spot, but work the strikers assaulted them savagely found only the boat, bottom up, and the boy, with picks, shovels, stones, and clubs, seri- who had managed to reach the bank.

The Conductor's Romance.

Come out with me a moment while we pass slowly at first and gradually faster through the street of an oldfashioned town. You will observe that the dapper Pullman car conductor, with his blue uniform and gilt buttons, is also on the rear platform.

Very proper, indeed, you say, for the conscientious conductor to be keeping a lookout for that second section of our

Well, I didn't insinuate that the conductor was misbehaving himself, but I must disabuse your mind of the conception that he is looking for nothing more interesting than a locomotive and a train of cars, which the admirable block system of the Pennsylvania road is certain to keep at a safe distance from us. He didn't button up his coat just now and brush it; he didn't set his cap knowingly over his blonde bang, or pull up a tag of his white handkerchief so as to set off his manly chest for the purpose of impressing you or me.

Now please keep still and see what our good looking young guardian in blue is up to.

He is on the platform with us-that is, he has one foot on the platform and one foot on the first step below it. Now comes the critical moment!

Did you see him lift his cap? More, did you see that graceful girl leap out from a doorway, shoot a sheaf of arrows in a second from her eyes, wave a handkerchief and dart back again into the old red brick house with its white portico of wood?

A romance on the rail to be continued, perhaps to the altar, from day to day. That is all .- Pittsburgh Dispatch.

A Consumptive's Sudden Death. Consumption of the lungs sometimes comes to a very sudden and unexpected termination in the following manner: Rather late in the disease the upper portions of both lungs are occupied by a dense deposit of tubercle, together with inflammatory products that render the organs useless for breathing purposes for one-third or one-half their extent. The extent of lung that is still available for breathing becomes more and more limited with each day's deposit of tubercle.

If now the cav ty of the pleura (pleural sac), in which the lung lies and expands and contracts in the movements of breathing, should become connected with a cavity in the diseased lung, so that air can penetrate and fill the pleural sac, then, of course, all movements of expansion or contraction of that lung must cease, for there is no room left for the movements of breathing. The opposite lung being already half useless, or even more disabled, the sufferer finds himself deprived of most of his breathing space, and must perish within a very short time, dying actually and literally of suffocation.

There are one or two rare and unusual modes by which valvular disease of the heart may prove suddenly fatal. One of these is the formation of a clot or concretion from the blood upon one of the valves; this being washed away into the circulation, travels along in the blood-current until it reaches a it lodges. This plug-called an embolus-shuts off all blood from the parts beyond, and, if there is no other way for the circulation to reach that region, it becomes starved and decomposesin the brain it softens. Softening is the common result of embolism of an artery in the brain; but if it should be a large vessel that has become plugged and the parts thus cut off from nourishment of great importance, death may result almost instantly. Such cases are rare; still, they have been known to occur. - Cincinnati Enquirer.

An Effective Contribution Box.

A new contribution box is an ingenious application of all the reasons which should induce a person to give out his means to the church. At St. Jarlath's street, Chicago, a reporter saw the new device at work. If one could imagine a eigar box apotheosized and put to better uses, with its cover cut off and partly sunk into the box, with an expectant expression at its front end and a long wooden handle at its rear, one could form a very good idea of its appearance. It seems to be a very harmless, ordinary sort of substitute for the common plate, but it is in its simplicity that its effectiveness lies. For instance, Mr. A. in pew No. 1 at the head of the center aisle is approached by the collector. He puts upon the flat, sunken top of the box his contribution—say a nickel. The coin remains in plain view as the collector carries the box horizontally until pew No. 2 is reached. The box is then passed before Mr. B., who is thus advised of what his neighbor in the seat ahead has given. Before B. can put in his offering the box is turned up at an angle of forty-five degrees, and A's coin slides through the opening into the interior of the casket and is no longer on exhibition. This done rupy only 125 of them. the box returns to the horizontal, with the cover blank and empty for B's coin to rest upon until the evolutions are performed once more at C's pew. "Isn't this rather a new idea?" whispered the reporter to a worshiper at his elbow.

"Yes, but it's great," was the reply. You see, when you know the man, and especially the woman, behind you is going to see what you give-well, you won't give a cent, anyhow-nor a button. It works on a man's ambition -kind of puts him on record, don't you see? And then when there's any pew are not going to be outdone by their neighbors. If they see a quarter on the slide they'll give a half. Knowwill naturally make it as expensive for them as they can from the start as they are able. The church is so much the better off." - Chicago News.

A Sample of Boston Culture.

It is a curious fact that there are men the combine the wealth of a Crossus with the breeding of a Hottentot. And it is a still more curious fact that such men, because of their wealth, and for no other discoverable reason, are for which they are wholly unfitted, and upon which they continually bring disgrace. So much for generalties. He rich, rather illiterate, and somewhat given to saying things which had much better be left unsaid. He lives in a magnificent house, surrounded by no end of "style." His son's schoolmate, a boy of 14, was dining there one day. It was his first appearance in the grand mansion, but with that good taste which comes of good breeding and a good example at home, he took all the "style" quietly and with-out comment. This did not suit the 'host," who wanted his splendon noticed and praised. "I hope you are enjoying your dinner," he said. am, sir, thank you, said the boy, quietly. "Guess you don't see such a ayout as this at your house, do you? persisted the host. The boy knew nough to make no answer, but when ne went to his home and told his mother, who was properly exasperated o such an exhibition of downright ulgarity. But there is a great deal of t in Boston, unfortunately.—Boston

Ex-Attorney-General Brewsterleft an state valued at $100,000, to be held in trust for his son until he reaches the age of 30. If his son dies without issue pefore reaching that age the property goes to the Sisters of St. Francis of Philadelphia.

Increase of weight may may be produced by change of climate. Incidents are known proving that a man may be stout in one place and thin in another.

A Coming Robert Louis Stevenson

A teacher in a South Chester school. in order to give the pupils an opportunity to try their powers of composition, asked them to write a sketch of some kind by filling up the blanks in following outline:

"Three -- went out on the river — in a ——. A —— came up and the — upset. I will tell you what became of them."

Among those who handed in a paper was a ten-year-old boy. He filled up the first blank with "boys," the second with "the previsus day," the third "boat." The next blank was "storm," and the last blank was filled with

"hoat." His narrative is a remarkable story of adventure. One of these boys, Willie by name, was swallowed by a whale, but he took his knife from his pantaloons pocket and ripping a hole in the whale's side, crawled out. He was met by the other two boys and all three were blown out to sea, but, according to the story, demonstrated by ther fine swimming, that they were champions of Chester. They swam on until they reached the Carribean Sea and then went ashore, where two of the boys were eaten by cannibals, but Willie proved too tough and they laid him aside. He then had a desperate fight with an eagle, the bird being killed and eaten, and after this act Willie built a boat and sailed to the country of the Sioux, but escaping went home, which he reached after an absence of sixty years. The author of this story never read place too narrow for it to pass, where a dime novel, but is believed to be born to edit a Western paper.—Chester (Pa.) Times.

Why Girls Are Coquettish. The "fair girl graduates" have their own triumphs—triumphs neither few nor insignificant; but over the lives of men their triumphs have not extended. In the drawing-room the despised coquet is queen regnant, and there the pale student, the class-room's glory, is simply nowhere. The coquet knows her power and revels in it. In selfdefense the exercise of such a power has been thrust upon her. She is not or was not always—heartless. She knows—who better?—that this light trifling is ignoble. It is not the life she would have chosen had the choice been given her; but there is magic in was not put upon the market The sense of sway is delightful to until thoroughly tested, and her; the sweets of adulation, like a has the endorsement of Prof. subtle poison, intoxicate their victim S. A. Lattimore, M. A., Ph., with a transient rapture, and she LL. D., Official Analyst of knows that while she is yourg and has foods and medicines, N. Y. health and gayety she can hold her State Board of Health, and own. And, afterwards? But why dream of the stormy morrow? To-day is fair. Why trouble as to what the physicians and professional end may be? In the meantime she experts. will laugh, and flirt, and be fitful and and charming, vivacious, dreamy, cruel, kind; she will retract and repel, draw hearts to her, whose homage her one bottle, they having a own levity will quickly alienate; she will be wondered at, censured, admirdisease. Fight shy of any ed, and, perchance, loved; but until the preparation which claims insun shall dawn on that unknown country where men are constant, leal, and true—the land where unobtrusive kindliness is dearer to them than feigned H. H. Warner & Co. are, so

Last week 12,000 crates of choice Southern fruits and vegetanes were deliberately dumped into the Atlantic Ocean jus outside S ndy Hook in order to keep up current prices in New York.

Toledo papers claim their city is bound o become the center of the g ass industry in the United States. King Humbert's palace at Rome contains 000 100ms, lut toe King and his family oc-Thomas A. Edison's 'atest pet is the perfected phonograph. It laughs when you laugh, when you sigh it sighs with you.

are cured by according to DIRECTIONS with each BOTTLE, PROMPTLY AND PERFECTLY: DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS EVERYWHERE THE GHAS · A. VOGELER CO. BALTO · MD-

> Ely's Cream Balm cured them of CATARRH. pply Balm into each nostril

THOUSANDS

of good health is found in the regular movement of the bowels.and perfect action of the Liver. These organs were intended by nature to remove from the system all impurities.—If you are constipated, you offer a "standing invitation" to a whole family of diseases and irregularities which will surely be "accepted," and you will have guests un-welcome and determined. All these unhappy conditions may be averted by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purga-tive Pellets. Powerful for the effectual reg-ulation of the bowels and Liver, establishing a healthy action of the entire organism with which we are created.

Of the ten children of Junius Brutur Booth, but two are now alive, Edwin and Joseph.

The marriage of Mr. Salanson and Miss Sackville West will be celebrated June 18 in the Church of the Passionist Fathers,

The box of the present recently made by Mrs. Cleveland to a New York bride was lined with a piece from Frankie Folsom's wedding dress. Firs.—All Fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Mar-

Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Mar-velous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa. The city of Charleston is to have a fine new $125,000 hotel called the Eden. It

How It Works.

In answer to many inquiries regarding the permanency of cures wrought by St. Jacobs Oil to which public attention has been specifically called in many varied forms, the following serves as a most excellent example of how the great remedy performs its mira-cles and what is meant by a permanent cure. Hundreds have testified to the same effect. Hundreds have testified to the same effect. Mr. J. E. Bonsall, Prothonotary, New Bloomfield, Perry Co., Pa., in 1881 was permanently cured of rheumatism. From the age of 15 to 48, about 33 years, he had suffered acutely at times from that dread disease and at the date specified, he was permanently cured by St. Jacobs Oil. In proof of this, he writes in 1886 that he has had no recurrence of rheumatic pains since his relief in 1881. Again in April, 1888, he writes as follows: "My health continues good; no return of rheumatism since 1881 when cured by St. Jacobs Oil. I receive letters from all parts asking about my miraculous cure after parts asking about my miraculous cure after 30 years suffering."

One of every five we meet has some form of Heart Disease and is in constant danger of sudden death. | tired feeling. Dr Kilmer's Ocean-Weed Heart Remedy regulates, corrects and cures. Price $1.00-6 bottles $5.00

Thus Far. Because my life has lain so close to thine, Because our hearts have kept a commo beat;

Because thine eyes, turned toward me frank and sweet, Reveal sometimes thine unthought thoughts to mine— Think not that I, by curious design

On everstep of too impetuous feet,
Could desecrate thy soul's supreme retreat,
Could disregard its quivering barrier line.
Only a simple Levite I, who stand
On the world's side of the most holy place;
Till, as the new day glorifies the east.
One come to lift the veil with reverent hand,
And enter with the roul's saul fees to fees And enter with thy soul's soul face to face—He whom thy God shall call to be high priest.—Ellen Burroughs.

Heney-moon. "Say, Perkins, old boy, why don't we see ou at the club any more? Has your mother-law shut down on you?" "No, Brown; the in-taw shift down on you? No, Brown; the fact of the matter is my home is so happ now that there is no inducement for me tleave it. You look incredulous, but it's positive fact. You see, my wife used tsuffer so much from functional derangement common to her sex, that her spirits and he temper were greatly affected. It was no ner fault, of course, but it made home upon the sex of the s scription, she has been so well and so happy that we are having our honey-moon all has been before the public now about ten years, and in that time has proved itself to be all that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that it has been to be all the beautiful that the be has been before the public represented.

The British Order of Odd Fellows shows a

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

It is purely vegetable, contains nothing harmful, and DOES purify the blood and CURE disease, as it puts the kidneys, the only bloodpurifying organs, in complete health.

It Cures Permanently. We have tens of thousands of testimonials to this effect from people who were cured years ago and who are well to-day.

It is a Scientific Specific scores of eminent chemists,

H. H. Warner & Co., do not cure everything from fallibility. The testimonials printed by flatteries and bewitching arts—she will be a coquet!—Chambers' Journal. far as they know, positively genuine. For the past five years they have had a standing offer of $5,000 for proof to the contrary. If you are sick and want to get well, use

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

JONES

Use the surest remedy for catarrh-Dr.

What terrible visions this little word brings before the eyes of the nervous.

Headache, Neuralgia, Indigestion, Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration.

All stars them in the face. Vet all these nervous The Shakspearean Society of New York s conducting a fair for the Grant monument

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria was $326,000. Sweeping the Markets like an Avalanche.

The income of Oxford University for 1887

The most remarkable thing in business lines is the Moxie Company, in Lowell. It is said the sales in little more than two years are over 7,000.may believe what is said about it. Lately, the athletes, actors and actresses, and heavy business men have taken to it like mad. Yesterday word came from Malden that it had raised an old case of helpless paralysis, and another in Lowell, If this is so, Moxie is all right, with but little adverimparatively safe in buying it. Anything in th

Cardinal Gibbons is the youngest cardinal of them all. He was a bishop at 38 and an archbishop at 47.

ome. The Company made a hit by putting

Biliousness

Is more general at this season than any other. The bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness and loss of appetite make the victim miserable, and disagree able to others. Hood's Sarsaparilla combines the best anti-bilious remedies of the vegetable kingdom, in such proportion as to derive their best medicinal effects with the least disturbance to the whole system. This preparation is so well balanced in its actions upon the alimentary canal, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach, the bowels Jefferson Davis was 80 years old last Sun- and the circulation of the blood, that it brings about a healthy action of the entire human organ ism, restores the appetite, and overcomes that Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION Live at home and make more money working for us than the at anything else in the world. Either sex. Costly outfit FREE. Terms FREE. Address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

at anything else in the world. Either sex. Costly outfit Terms free. Address, True & Co., Augusta, Maine. CANCER Treated and cured without the knife. Book on treatment sent free. Address F. L. POND, M. D., Aurora, Kane Co., Ill.

W. B. MILLER, 21 Fox St., Aurora, III.

other. Story of Featherbone free. Address *FEATHERRONE," 3 Oaks, Michigan

Sold by all DRUGGISTS, and DR. KILMER & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. J. CAS

Until you call or get H. J. EDWARDS&SONS Fine Carriages, Carts, Harness and Turf GOODS

TO MAKE DELICIOUS BISCUIT ASK YOUR GROCER FOR BRAND" SODA OR SALERATUS AND TAKE NO OTHER.

& Hammer" brand of Soda or Saleratus mixed with sour milk equals four teaspoonfuls of the best Baking Powder, saving twenty times its cost, besides being much healthier, because it does not contain any injurious substances, such as alum, terra alba etc., of which many Baking Powders are madd

All stare them in the face. Yet all these troubles can be cured by using elery

NERVES! NERVES!!

For The Nervous The Debilitated

The Aged. THIS GREAT NERVE TONIC Also contains the best remedies for diseased conditions of the Kidneys, Liver, and Blood, which CURES WHEN OTHERS FAIL. $1.00 a Bottle. Send for full particulars. WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors,

The Oldest Medicine in the World is probably Dr. Isaac Thompson's VELEBRATED EYE WATER

MACALISTER'S A pleasant, effective and SAFE remedy

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Pulmonary Affections of Adults generally and whooping cough and croup in children. Ask your druggist for it or send 50 cents in stamps to JOHN P. LEE, Apothecary, corner Halsted and Harrison Streets, Chicago. Ills.

Read SYMPTOMS and CONDITIONS
THIS SPECIFIC WILL RELIEVE AND CUBB If You are threatened with, or already have, Bright's disease, or Urinary trouble. f You have sediment in urine like brick dust frequent calls or Retention, with distress or pressure in the parts, If You have Lame Back, Rheumatism, Sting-

If You have Diabetes or Dropsy, or scanty, or high colored urine, f You have Malaria, Torpid Liver, Dyspepsia, Gall Stone, Fever and Ague, or Gout. If You have Irritation, Spasmodic Stricture, or Catarrh of the Bladder, | You have BLOOD humors, Pimples, Ulcers, Seminal Weakness, or Syphilis, f You have Stone in Kidney, or Gravel in Bladder, Stoppage of urine or Dribbling

If You have poor Appetite, Bad Taste, Foul-breath, or INTERNAL Slime fever, Builds up quickly a run-down constitution. Don't neglect early symptoms. Prepared at Dispensary—Recommended by renowned physicians—"Invalids' Guide to Health" free. Advice free Genuine have Dr. Kilmer's likeness on outside and inside wrappers.

$1.00--- Six Bottles $5.00

The Opsilantian.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1888.

THE democrats in the House succeeded in voting down an amendment to the tariff bill to take salt out of Mr. Mills' free list, and also an amendment to put rice on the free list. They are looking after South Carolina, more than after Michigan.

THE saloonkeepers of Ishpeming have less worthy so far as sympathy with American set up a saloon on the next corner, decided to keep open on the 4th of July, to test the constitutionality of the law forbidding the traffic on holidays. That's birth, dating back nearly to the beginning his bond. right. Allow no doubt to remain of the disposition to smash every law that restricts the business, and demonstrate clear- ical faith denied the right to "coerce a ly the impossibility of the nation existing one half drunk and one half sober.' Then the question will be settled as that other question was, whether the nation could exist "one half slave and one half

THE ecclesiastical assemblies continue. The German Evangelical Lutheran triennial conference is in session at Madison, Wis. The United Presbsterians are holding their general assembly in Iowa, and the Reformed Presbyterians in Pittsburgh. The Uniteds are the people who think it wicked to employ instrumental music in worship-or a little less than half of them do, and the fight still wages. The Reformeds have formally resolved to refrain from identification with the nation so long as Christ is not acknowledged as King: forbidding to its members any act that implies allegiance, and refusing ecclesiastical fellowship with other churches that do not take the same ground. It looks as though we should have to work along the best we can without their help.

OREGON fires the second gun of the campaign of '88, and it is a republican gun. At the last state election, two years ago, the democrats carried the state, electing their Governor; and in the years when the republicans have carried the state, their majority has ranged from 1000 to 2000. Now they sweep it by over 7000three times as large as ever before. Rhode Island, the other state that has voted this year, also went republican, reversing the democratic verdict of last year. In both these states the tariff issue was clearly defined, and was loudly proclaimed by democrat and mugwump papers in advance as the issue that should decide the contest. Cleveland and his anti-tariff platform were pronounced upon in both states, and the verdict is not uncertain. We do not observe, however, that our democratic contemporaries are very much calling attention to it.

ALGER stock is rising fast. Where there seemed one chance for the success of Michigan's candidate two weeks ago, there seem ten now; and it looks certain that Gen. Alger will start on the first ballot for President with a good representative vote from the East and West and South, added to the solid and all-the-time vote of his own state. After the first ballot he will show strong accessions, and will probably receive the bulk of the New York vote by the third ballot. With such prospects and with the certainty that on support that his party can give to any After the record that the democrat convention and its candidates have made toward the Union soldiers of this country, there is a demand for a candidate of Alger's stamp, which is by no means limited to the republican party.

HERE is Mr. Cleveland's only expression, so far, regarding his nomination at St. Louis last week:

When we consider the patronage of this grea office, the allurements of power, the temptation t retain public office once gained, and more than all the availability a party finds in an incumbent whon a horde of office-holders with a zeal born of ben efits received and fostered by the hope of favors to come, stand ready to aid with money and trained political service, we recognize in the eligibility of the president for reëlection a most serious danger to that calm, deliberate and intelligent political action which must characterize a government b

Manifestly, Mr. Cleveland feels that he cannot properly accept a nomination for see his formal declination.

In the last Scientific American is given the result of a careful investigation by Mr Carroll D. Wright of Boston, of the Massa chusetts Bureau of Labor, as to compara tive wages in Massachusetts and in Great Britain. It embraces a list of ordinary occupations common to both, and gives the average weekly wages, as derived from the pay rolls of numerous large manufacturing establishments. Here is the list, for free-trade England and protected New

Agricultural implements	$10	25		85
Artisans' tools	. 11	80		89
Boots and shoes	11			37
Brick	. 8	63		16
Building trades		99		21
Carpetings	6	08		11
Carriages and wagons	13			89
Clothing	10			71
Cotton goods	6	45		66
Flax and jute goods		45		84
Food preparations		81	2	72
Furniture	11	04		96
Glass		28	6	94
Hats-fur, wool, and silk		01		51
Hosiery		49		67
Liquors, malt and distilled	12	87		66
Machines and machinery	. 11	75		98
Metals and metallic goods	11	25		40
Printing and publishing	11	37	5	5% Printing, dyeing, bleaching, and finishing cotton textiles	. 8	67	4	94
Stone		39		58
Wooden goods		19	5	67
Woolen goods		90		86
Worsted goods		32	3	60
All industries	.$10	31	$5	86

WE have presented the platform in strict ac cordance with all democratic doctrine. As Mi Watterson has well said, it is one on which all car stand.—Senator Gorman.

We should say so. It "reaffirms the platform adopted by its representatives in the convention of 1884" (which Randall and Barnum preached in New Jersey and Connecticut as the doctrine of American protection), "and indorses the views expressed by President Cleveland in his last earnest message to Congress" (which Watterson and Mills are preaching in Kentucky and Texas as the doctrine of free trade pure and simple). Oh, yes; they can all stand on it.

The tariff plank of the democratic convention is so constructed that its full meaning and significance do not strike the eye at first glance.—Free Press. We think so-and it wasn't accidental,

The nomination of Mr. Cleveland at St. Louis was a foregone conclusion long ago, has determined that the provision of the and the announcement had little interest liquor law which forbids brewers and disas news. That of Mr. Thurman was also tillers and saloon keepers to go on liquor probable, but not so certain. The friends dealers' bonds, is obnoxious to that clause Capital & Surplus, $100,000 of Gray and Black had strong hope, but of the constitution which forbids depriving the convention revealed that their hopes a man of life, liberty or property without had little ground. The convention could due process of law. To forbid a man the not, perhaps, have made a worthier choice | privilege of signing a bond, our cautious for Vice President, so far as personal and careful court says, is depriving him of character and integrity go, nor one much the use of his property. Now Mr. Engle-

ican ideas is concerned. Mr. Thurman is to consume the product of his brewery

The people of this country are rulers are the judges of that work; and the interpreting or the executing of the laws is not well done, they will make new government, and it applies to the judicial exactly as it does to the legislative people determine shall be the law, that supposed constitutional safeguards about the institution of slavery, delayed but could not prevent the popular purpose respecting that institution. One of the great respect; but the common people respond-in the present case, and courts with excessive reverence for supposed constitu

THE red bandana, emblem of victory, is fluing to the breeze in our city.—Ann Arbor Democrat.

Our neighbor makes a slight mistake in in the early day, by persons in the habit of taking snuff. This is the only victory it ever won. Its introduction marked an advance in social refinement and served to make the filthy habit of snuff-taking, en durable. Its color was selected on the ground that red was best adapted to ob scure what would be unsightly on white and it was made large to accommodate i to the long intervals between its cleansings

In the day when the bandana flourished was the invariable accompaniment. Gov pocket, and in the course of an hour's rebels against the pungent powder, the

for the blast of a trumpet or the explosion of a volcano. The archæological period, however, to which Mr. Thurman belongs, closed with the advent of more cleanly habits, and the bandana fell into "innocuous desuetude," and the white handkerchief, the emblem of purity, came in to take its place. The only reason Mr. Thur-

a very old man and cannot give up the habit that makes its use necessary. This is, in brief, the history of this "emblem of a bad habit," and in the distant past, it served a useful and merciful purpose

When, however, we are forced to consider it as a candidate for Vice-Presidential hon ors, we are at a loss to discover any mar velous properties either in its composition or its "adherents." True, it may be considered in some sense, an appropriate emblem. It has outlived its useful ness. It suggests also a general party sneeze, whenever the magician of the White House cracks his whip. Young America, however, will be slow to march under "an emblem" so suggestive of ca-

The London Papers Like It.

St. James Gazette.

Pall Mall Gazette

their own way at the next election.

The democrats are likely to have it all

A president who has been a success is almost sure to be nominated a second and a third time. * * The point of the contest about which we feel the most interest in this country is the tariff question.

London Star. The reëlection of President Cleveland means the adoption of his program of tariff revision, and his ideas on that sub-may very well reëcho the enthusiasm on tarrh and prophetic of tears.

naught, like the others.

essentially a Bourbon. A Virginian by and put Mr. Engleharat in to run it, and go of the century, reared and educated in the state's rights school of politics, his polit- the rulers of it. They make its legislaical faith denied the right to "coerce a state," and led him rather toward the courts, to interpret the laws; they make its copperhead position than to a sympathy its governors, to execute the laws. The with the effort to suppress the rebellion. In all the legislation since the war, he has been the steady opponent of every measure of reconstruction which has been adopted, and the foe of all measures involved in legislatures and courts and governors, to do the financial and industrial policy of the it better. This is the theory of our nation for the last quarter of a century. He has no sympathy with the younger element of his own party, nor with any and executive departments, and one is no element of any other party—least of all more sacred, no more above the people with the soldier element, which the whole or independent of the popular thought ticket, and the bulk of his party, especially and purpose, than another. What the antagonize in this campaign. The spectacle of whole state delegations from the will be the law. Courts may delay, but South, sitting sullenly in their seats at the they cannot prevent. The national Su-St. Louis convention when a rising vote of sympathy for the dying General of the army, the gallant Sheridan, was called for, speaks louder than any platform utterances, and was a fit accompaniment of the contemptuous sneers of Cleveland's pension vetoes and Bragg's scurrilous tirades n their defense, for which he was made Minister to Mexico, and Thurman's Bourbon-copperhead record. It was to be expected that a convention so constituted they saw to it that legislatures and courts would pass over Gray and Black, with and governors were created which should their record of service in the Union army, and nominate Thurman. The platform will be found in full on another page of this paper. Our readers tional safeguards about the institution of should preserve it for future reference, as the saloon may only delay, but cannot its inconsistencies and heresies will be prevent, the popular purpose, and their prominent issues in this campaign. We ejoice that this promises to be a campaign of issues on important questions of public policy, and we are more than satisfied to accept the issue which the democrat position distinctly raises.

Woon is likely to bring about 25 cents per pound. It is certain that the wool dealers here are not going to squander twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars, this year, as they did last, keeping the price five cents above what it is worth.

Then our Ann Arbor wool buyers did squander twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars, did they? Are you not quite sure, friend Argus, that they paid the market prices under advice from Boston headquarters? Business men are not wont to disregard eastern advices, and unless your buyers are sui generis, they paid no more than the market warranted at the time. The great loss comes from the sudden introduction of a new factor which as a free trader you are obliged to ignore. Then, too, when you suggest 25 cents as the probable price, you overlook the fact that | Seward carried snuff loose in his ves the wool manufacturers are awaiting the action of Congress on the Mills bill. If speech, would apply the stimulating powthe ticket he would receive the strongest it passes, there will be no 25 cent wool in der, at least a half dozen times. Mr. Washtenaw county. We have before us Thurman's sympathies are with instituerous private letters from Boston tions, ideas and customs long since become wool buyers to one of our citizens who is effete and forgotten, and as an old man he buying, and from which we are permitted

One of these letters bears date of May 19, and says: "We do not see evidence of any speedy improvement in the wool old bandana is useful in modifying the market and unless farmers are ready to noise which otherwise one might mistake take 20 cents for their good washed fleeces, we think they will be obliged to hold them indefinitely, or certainly until some conclusion in regard to the tariff is reached.' This our friend of the Argus will note is from a purely business letter that was not written for the public. It is business, not politics, and doesn't look much like 25 cents for wool. In another place the man clings to its use, is the fact that he is same letter states that the buyer would be reasonably safe at 20 cents." Only "reasonably safe," it seems.

Another house writes under date of May 12: "Our market is still a waiting market, reflection, and we should expect soon to and the business of the past week has been the least important of any since the year opened. Manufacturers have seldom been so lightly supplied, but they are really afraid to make any purchases, as whenever they get ready and come to market they hear some rumor which frightens them away, and they frequently leave market without making any purchases. This past week there has been an unusual flutter in Philadelphia, owing to some statements made before a meeting of manufacurers by some of our Congressional leaders to the effect that there was a more than an even chance for free wool. This caused a general movement on the part of dealers to force off what few wools they had left on hand, and an equal disposition on the part of manufacturers to buy nothing if they could possibly get along without it, until they could see their way a little more clearly.'

The above will indicate to farmers what is the matter with the wool market and explain to the Argus why the wool buyers will lose on last year's purchases twentyfive or thirty thousand dollars. True, they will not get bit again this year and | ject go a long way toward free trade. We will probably be unwilling to pay up to the real market. The farmers will, therefore, be the losers this year and in no small sums either. But, free trade is king in the democratic party, and if that king rules with a rod of iron, the people ought not to complain, for they anointed him king four years ago, themselves, and had fair warning what would come. What will they do when the time comes in November to correct their mistake? Blunder again as they did four years ago, or will they put their heel on the neck of the foe which threatens the stability of our markets, and strike for that which gives recompense to labor? We shall see.

"WE reaffirm the Apostles' Creed and the Westminister Confession, and endorse J. A. Watling, D. D. S. L. M. James, D. D. S. Paine's Age of Reason as the correct interpretation of those documents." Mr. Watterson omitted the foregoing from his platform. The omission was probably inadvertent, and we call his attention to it. Nitrous Oxide Gas administered when desired.

Our cautious and careful Supreme Court First National Bank

Established 1863.

Individual Liability of Stockholders, $150,000

D. L. QUIRK, President. CHAS. KING, Vice-Pres.

W. L. PACK, Cashier T. S. Anderson, Pres. M. S. Smith, V. P. R. S. Mason, Cashier.

91 Griswold St., Detroit, Mich. when in their judgment the making or CASH CAPITAL, - $200,000

Four per cent. interest paid on Savings deponderctops—R. A. Alger, T. S. Anderson, Mmith, Hugh McMillan, F. J. Hecker, W. K. An on, R. S. Mason, C. L. Freer, G. H. Russel, W. McMillan, J. K. Burnham, H. C. Parke.
Attorneys—Walker & Walker.

Michigan, with a

preme Court, with excessive reverence for CASH CAPITAL OF $50,000

GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS

legal minds in that court declared, and FOUR PER CENT. INTEREST the court decreed; that the colored man allowed on all savings deposits of $1 and up had no rights the white man was bound to wards, compounded every six months Savings Department open every Saturday ed that the colored man had rights, and vening from 7 to 8 to receive deposits. D. C. BATCHELDER, President. give effect to their purpose. It will be so R. W. HEMPHILL, Cashier.

___GO TO-

grave decisions will by and by count for

FLOUR AND FEED STORE If you are in need of its definition of the red bandana. It was never known as an "emblem of victory." This rag, to which is now applied the euphemistic term "handkerchief," was introduced to displace the coat sleeve used FERTILIZER, DRAIN TILE, BINDING TWINE, MACHINE OIL, WAGONS, DRILLS, CULTIVATORS, PLOWS, AND ALL REPAIRS! OSBORN BINDER, OSBORN MOWER, ANN ARBOR & EXCELSIOR MOWERS, HAY TEDDERS, FORKS, RAKES!

BALED HAY AND STRAW

BY THE BALE OR TON.

snuff-taking was common and the bandana ALSO THE BEST FAMILY CREAMERY IN THE MARKET.

A Valuable Prescription Free!!

GO TO

naturally clings to his old bandana and snuff. These, we may say, are an imperative necessity to him, and when his nose

EMPORIUM

For anything that should be found in

Wall-Paper, Paints, Notions,

OR FANCY GOODS.

Frank will be glad to see you, and will take les money from you than any other dealer in the country, and you may always feel sure of the best goods and no mistakes made.

The large stock of Spectacles, Eyeglasses, Trus es of all kinds, and prices always better than one-quarter off.

YOU GOING TO BUILD

Or do you think of using Lumber or Paint

In large or small quantities? If you are, you should at once call on

Lumber Yard and Factory north of Strayed or Stolen.

From Holmes' Livery Barn, Ann Arbor, on the night of May 30, a light bay, 3-year-old pony mare, black mane and tail. Brands "G." "R." and others. Heavy leather halter on. Notify A. A. HOLMES, 4042* Ann Arbor, Mich.

Block, Huron Street.

Public Square, east side; Branch

Office and Paint Depot, Worden

this side of the water. BUILDING MATERIAL A. B. Bell, Dentist,

Carpenter's Supplies of All Kinds! Nitrous Oxide Gas administered when necessary JOHN B. VAN FOSSEN, D. D. S.

VanTuyl Block, Congress St.,

YPSILANTI, MICH.

DENTAL ROOMS

CONGRESS ST UNION BLOCK, Vitalized Air if desired.

WATLING & JAMES DENTISTS, HURON ST.

FOR SALE

beautifully located, just within the city limits. Can be bought at a reasonable figure. No incumbrance. Terms to suit the purchaser. Inquire at THE YPSILAN-

C. S. SMITH, Cross Street, near the Depot

FRESH, SALT AND SMOKED

MEATS! Gents' Furnishings

ausages of all kinds, made from best se lected meats, always on hand.

ausages cut for farmers and customers promptly and satisfactorily

Only the best Meats handled, and only the Favorite Prices, charged at the Depot Meat Market C. S. SMITH, PROP.

IN GREAT VARIETY. CALL AND SEE. First-Class Sugar Cured Hams a Specialty. Joe Sanders, the Clothier, SPRING--1888--SPRING.

Spring Woolens & Worsteds

Mr. Fingerle, artistic tailor, will personally superintend all orders in this department, which insures a stylish and well-made gar-

NOVELTIES IN HATS AND CAPS

No. 1 Union Block. WELLS & FISK,

SOUTH SIDE CONGRESS ST.,

Pure Family Groceries,

Butter and Eggs, Fruit and Vegetables in Season. BEST BRANDS OF FLOUR. QUICK SALES AND CLOSE PROFITS OUR MOTTO.

WE HAVE RECEIVED OUR

All the Latest Styles and Novelties. Everything desirable in the way of WEARING APPAREL for MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN. In

MEN'S CLOTHING

We have a large stock of SPRING OVERCOATS, and in SUITS, the Greatest Variety of Styles and Patterns we have ever shown in one Season. In

BOYS' CLOTHING

We have a Magnificent Line, and in CHILDREN'S KILT SUITS AND SHIRT WAISTS we have many New Styles and Patterns, and to the parent looking for the Best and Most Fashionable Garments for the Least Money we can offer Special Inducements.

All THE NEW SHAPES IN HATS & CAPS

As well as all the Latest Novelties in Gents' NECKWEAR and Furnishings. Our

MERCHANT TAILORING DEPARTMENT

Contains a Larger Assortment of the BEST FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC FABRICS than any previous season, and our Prices are Lower than ever before.

S WORTLEY & BRO...

CONGRESS STREET

Geneva Non-Magnetic Watches

Containing Paillard's Patent Non-Magnetic Compensation Balance and Hair Spring, are Uninfluenced by Magnetism!

Call and examine them before purchasing. For sale by

H. BARNUM.

27 Congress Street, Ypsilanti.

Bright New Stock! All the leading styles in Gent's Furn-

Don't fail to call at

L. M. DUGGAN'S

Cash Boot & Shoe Store

Now is the time to buy. Don't wait!

Get the first choice from my

GILBERT BLOCK,

ishing Goods, Hats and Caps.

AT THE DEPOT.

1888 IS HERE

Is at home every day for office work. Come and get your Life and Property Insured or get a Pension. He will write you a Will, Deed, Mortgage, Contract, or anything else, very cheap, and warrant all correct or no pay.

OFFICE OVER WELLS & FISK'S.

HEADQUARTERS

Candies, Fruits, Nuts

The Largest, Cheapest, and Most Complete Stock

F. A. OBERST,

Follet House Block, Cross St.

YOUR BUCGY FOR ONE DOLLAR COIT'S HONEST 6

EVER MADE. THE ONLY

Deposit $1.00 as Cortland Corset Co., Cortland, N.Y.

H. P. GLOVER

The finest and most popular instru-

ONE HUNDRED of these pianos purchased by the great New England Conservatory of Music, and in daily use at that institution. Don't fail to examine these pianos which are greating such a furore among our best musicians. For full information about lowest prices, terms, etc., write or call on

WALTER HEWITT, General Agent, VPSILANTI, MICH.

The Opsilantian.

HER HAIR TURNED WHITE.

A Lady Who Bears the Marks of a Night of

A party of doctors and ladies were discussing lately a question which interests everybody on this terrestial sphere—namely, the snows of time which sooner or later must whiten the head of the President and peasant, and a layman who was also present said: "I know of a man who, but a lew weeks ago, had a mustache as brown and darkago, nad a mustache as brown and darkly brown as the fur of a seal. Now it is almost white in places and not a hair of it but is gray. The change took place in the space of one night, that succeeding the death of a daughter who was to him the prettiest little maid that ever crowed for kisses. Intense grief directly caused this sudden transformation." caused this sudden transformation. Upon this one of the ladies said: happened to be in New Orleans a few years after the war, and at a reception one night I met a young lady who co not have been more than 20 years old, but whose hair was of a pure silvery white. She was a beautiful girl, and with this crown of silver naturally atracted every one's attention. I learned now she came to have white hair soon afterward. She was the daughter of a wholesale grocer in New Orleans, and during the early part of the war lived with her parents in that city. Just be-lore New Orleans was occupied dy Gene-ral Butler her father, who was then an nvalid, took his family out to a small plantation that he owned near Baton flouge. At the same time an uncle of the girl I am talking of managed to run the blockade and took with him a very large quantity of diamonds and other valuables—for he was a jeweler. He eached England in safety with his recious cargo.

"The family enjoyed peace and security for some months at Baton Rouge, antil General Butler had hoisted the stars and stripes in New Orleans. One might soon after that event a party of bummers or camp followers, said to be attached to the Union army, but who, as I believe, may just as likely have been thieves and cutthroats of confederate sympathies from the purlieus of New Orleans, made a descent upon the house at Eaton Rouge. It was nearly mid-night when the family was aroused y lond knocking at the door. The door minute or two later was burst in and five or six masked men entered the house. They proceeded at once to the room where a lamp was burning by the dside of the master of the house, who was very ill at the time.
"I should have stated," said the lady,

"that the gentleman's name was Hythe, if I remember rightly. One of the masked men, revolver in hand, stepped up to Mr. Hythe and said: 'We want e diamonds and jewelry you brought way from New Orleans.' Mr. Hytlie miled at once that the robbers hat aken him for his brother, the jeweland tried to explain that he had no iamonds or anything of any particular alue in the house. They refused to beve him, and proceeded to make a thorough s arch of the house. Mr. Hythe's two daughters had been sleeping in the oom below their father's, but of course were awakened by the noise. Their exwept over them once or twice before nabled them to understand the situation at once. By good fortune they were able to get out of the house in ntety and reach a neighboring cane-brake, where they hid. Meanwhile the obbers, having discovered nothing but little confederate money, tried to in-face Mrs. Hythe, whom they had capnred, to reveal the whereal outs of the creasure. She could only aftern what her husband had said. They subjected ier to horrible indignities, and im lly building. The girls in th ir higing place saw the torches applied; saw the relather, as the flames leaped up to the poof, come to the window of his room and then fall back into the fire. dare not move, and when the neigh ors found them, hours later, the hair of the younger girl, then about 15 years old, multurned as white almost as her cheeks, boo less with fright. Her hair ad been black as ni ht before."

Popguns Wouldn't do.

Judge John B. Rice was a prominent awver of Montgomery, Ala. When se-ression was being whooped up in the state the Judge made a speech in one of ne small towns up in the pine woods country, and in the course of his heated and sanguine remarks exclaimed: "Why, ellow citizen's! we can whip them Yankees with populas.'

After the war clouds had cleared away and the Judge had settled down to the practice of his profession, professional duties took him back to this same town. He was defending a criminal in his usual way. He assured the jury earnestly that every word that fell from his lips

At this point a one-armed, long-haired uror arose in his seat with doubt writen all over his countenance and said: Jedge, ain't you the man what said in his very Court House in '60 that we could whip them Yankees with pop-

The Judge was silent a moment, and then with great vehemence exclaimed: "Yes, I said it; but, d__a their dirty souls, they wouldn't fight us with pop-

Bismarck Still a Hard Worker.

"Though well over seventy, Prince Bismarck still works as hard as he did when he was twenty years younger," says the St. James Gazette. "He never goes to bed until two in the morning, and eats a hearty supper shortly before midnight. He rarely rises much before noon, as he has always been a heavy sleeper and is often disturbed during the night by the arrival of despatches which require instant attention. The Chancelfor is becoming a rich man. The salaries from his offices are by no means extra-vagant, but added to the revenues of his estates and the profits of his saw-mills and distilleries they bring his income to between £20,000 and £30,000 a year. And, as the Prince is notoriously nomical, a very large proportion of this comfortable income is annually saved.'

Tricks of the Butcher Trade.

"The profits of a butcher," remarked a man who had been in the business, "are not to be estimated by the regular business methods. When a man buys a hundred pounds of meat at 7 cents and sells it at 10 cents an inexperienced person would say that he makes $3 profit. while in reality he makes about $4. That's one of the tricks of the trade that must be well known to every observing perchaser. The same qualities that make a good bartender make a good butcher. A man who knows his business can get twenty more glasses out of a keg of beer than the green bartender. It is the same way with a butcher. A good cutter will always slice off an ounce or two more than the weight called for, and as not less than a quarter of a pound is reckoned, he can thus gain two or three ounces on each customer. Another scheme is to ut the most converse. scheme is to cut the meat an ounce or so short and throw in a piece of suct to make up. Many butchers never grow hop 230 th v 1

Tourist and Pleasure Travel.

Renewed Assurances of Speed, Comfort, Safety and Luxury to all Going West Via Chicago. Parties planning a summer trip, should remember not to forget that the Great Rock Island Route is the only line that runs fast limited vestibule express trains of palace cars (daily each way) Chicago and Council Bluffs-Omaha—on the direct highway of transcontinental travel. rip tourist tickets at greatly reduced rates nclude the paramount advantages of this restibule train (the finest in the world) to and from points in Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming. Sales every day during the season of 1888. Round-trip tickets also, at similar low rates, to and from Colfax Springs, Spirit Lake, Lake Minnetonka, and other popular resorts less remote, as well as hundreds of localities of interest to artist sportsman, tourist and

The Great Rock Island assures to all holding its round trip tourist tickets the safest, speedlest and pleasantest journey imaginable, in its magnificent vestibule trains between Chicago and Rock Island Davenport, DesMoines and Council Bluffs either going west or coming east. Avoid, therefore, the discomforts of lines having nferior accommodations. See that your ticket, which costs no more, reads via the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific R'y, and enjoy the luxury of first-class travel.

For further information, address C. H.
Holdridge, N. E. Pass. Agent, corner Larned and Griswold Streets, Detroit

A Philadelphia man is in jail for stealing thirty-five pairs of trousers. He pant

The Perfection Of the age in the medical line is the liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company San Francisco, California. It is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the Stomach harmless in its nature, painless yet prompt and thorough in its action. Fred S. Davis.

The cat problem has at last been solved. A gun has been invented which fires 3000 shots in eight minutes.

for young ladies who are troubled with freckles, pimples, moth and tan and a bad skin generally to use liquid paints or dry powders, for they only make the skin look well for the time being. To have a good complexion you must have pure blood. Use Sulphur Bitters and your skin will be fair and complexion rosy.—Young Ladies

Of course the legend on the President's coat of arms is, "A public office is a pri-

The Verdict Unanimous. W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies, "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, O., affirms, "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience is Electric Bit-ters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only 50c a bottle at Frank Smith's.

The early bird catches the worm, but the man who stays up all night is generally the one to see "snakes."

A Woman's Discovery. Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. Kings New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking one dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W.

A new color announced for this season is "diseased ghost." We didn't ex-spectre have such a tint as that.

Syrup of Figs Is Nature's own true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to cleanse the system when bilious or costive; to dispel headaches, colds and fevers; to cure habitual constipation, indigestion, piles, etc. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal. jul Truants in the San Francisco schools are punished by having mustard plasters applied to their backs.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Frank

In winter fashionable horses take their grass a la mowed. "For a long time I had no appetite, was restless at night, and very much debilitated. After taking two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my strength and appetite returned, and my health was completely restored."

—D. M. Fisher, Oswego, N. Y.

The modern widow's cruise is a voyage

"The best on earth" can truly be said of Griggs' Glycerine Salve-a speedy cure money. To do so the market must adfor cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, sores, piles, tetter and all skin eruptions. Try this wonder healer. 25 cents. Guaranteed Fred S. Davis.

Serving goat for spring lamb is not the English Spavin Liniment removes all hard, soft or caloused lumps and blem-ishes from horses, blood spavin, curbs, plints, sweeney, ring-bone, stifles, sprains all swollen throats, coughs, etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted. Sold A. D. Morford, druggist, Ypsilanti,

When the tailor gets rich it is by shear

A box of Ayer's Pills has saved many a fit of sickness. When a remedy does not happen to be within reach, people are lia ble to neglect slight ailments and, of course, if serious illness follows they have to suf-fer the consequences. "A stitch in time saves nine.

The organ is supplied with "stops," but the piano, unfortunately, has none

one. Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic is the best friend mankind has for all diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys. The best blood purifier and tonic known. 50 cents. Fred. S. Davis, druggist. jun Cats are the poets of the lower animals They alone cultivate the mews.

Those who take Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic never have dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, piles, pimples, ague and malaria, poor appetite, low spirits, headache or kidney troubles. Price 50 cents. Fred Davis, druggist

A stringed instrument—the clothesline.

The Teacher

their minds by the use of Ayer's Sar-saparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stoneham, Mass.

'I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health."

— Miss Thirza L. Crerar, Palmyra, Md. "My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Moluncus. Me. Moluncus, Me.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good ef-fect."—Rev. S. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckhannon, W. Va. "I suffered from with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killingly, Conn.

Nervous Prostration,

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, So. Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

GAMBLING IN NEW YORK. It Seems to be Increasing and Almost Everybody Bets.

The public who keep track of the sub-ject say that never before in New York was there so much gambling and speculation done as now. Not that there are more public gambling houses for there are but few. Indeed, a stranger in the city would have difficulty in finding a place in which he might wager on the turn of a card. It is not as in war times, when half a dozen houses of national reputation were running night and day in the blaze of publicity. But by gambin the blaze of publicity. But by gambling the good people who are keeping their eyes on it, in hopes of stopping it, are understood to mean any game of speculation in which the person participating simply bets on the result of a trade. By this is meant the enormous bucket-shop operations that are an adjunct to Wall street and the produce exchange. Under the rigid rules of the stock exchange every transaction made there is an actual purchase and sale of there is an actual purchase and sale of actual stock. The broker who sells 100 shares of Erie actually delivers to the purchaser the certificate of stock issued by the company. But the bucket-shop transaction is nothing of the sort. The purchase of Erie there means only that the purchaser bets that Erie will go up instead of down. He gets no certificate of actual stock, but simply a cord saying that he has bought simply a card saying that he has bought Erie. The actual sale on the stock exchange, however, governs the bucket-shop transaction, for the stock exchange C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—a free trial bottle at F. Smith's drug store.

Snop transaction, for the same transaction makes the price. The same trial bottle at F. Smith's drug store. grain and mining shares, so much of which is going on in the lower part of the city. It amounts only to a bet that the next quotation from the big exchanges will be at a higher figure than was the last one.

The magnitude of the gambling done in this way cannot be known. It is carried on in such a variety of ways, and in a manner leaving no record to the transaction, that it would be impossible to collect even approximate statistics on the subject. The stock exchange has seen it eat its way into the regular business of the exchange, until now the transactions of the old concern are not more than one-third of what they were three or four years ago. The produce exchange members complain that they are ruined by the bucket-shops. Both exchanges have done their utmost to crush the little con-cerns, but all efforts have resulted only in more bucket-shops. It does not cost a speculator so much to buy or sell of the latter, and he may purchase one share of stock if he has $1 to put up as a margin. The big exchange will not deal in less than five shares, and on that number $50 must be put up.1

The result is the crowding of the bucket shops by boys and messengers and clerks, who bet every sum from $1 up to $1,000. For quick turns many old Wall street speculators prefer the bucket shop. Besides, the system admits of bigger returns from the same amount of money invested. With $100 a man can do very little in a regular stock exchange broker's office. It is margin for ten shares of stock only, and it would be a rare run of luck that enabled a man to double his

Is known by these marked peculiarities: 1. A feeling of weariness and pains in the

2. Bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, and furred tongue.

Constipation, with occasional attacks of diarrhea.

Headache, in the front of the head; nausea, dizziness, and yellowness of chim skin.

Heartburn, loss of appetite.

Heartburn, loss of appetite.

Distention of the stomach and bowels by wind.

Depression of spirits, and great melancholy, with lassitude and a disposition to leave everything for to-morrow. A natural flow of Bile from the Liver is essential to good health. When this is obstructed it results in which, if neglected, soon leads to serious diseases. Simmons Liver Regulator exerts a most felicitous influence over every kind of billousness. It restores the Liver to proper working order, regulates the secretion of bile and puts the digestive organs in such condition that they can do their best work. After taking this medicine no one will say, "I am bilious."

BILIOUSNESS,

"I have been subject to severe spells of Congestion of the Liver, and have been in the habit of taking from 15 to 20 grains of calomel which generally laid me up for three or four days. Lately I have been taking Simmons Liver Regulator, which gave me relief without any interruption to flusiness."—J. Hung, Middleport, Ohio. ONLY GENUINE enhance personal beauty is the daily use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. No matter what the color of ration gives it a lus-tre and pliancy that adds greatly to its charm. Should the hair be thin, harsh, the hair, this prepadry, or turning gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will restore the color, bring out a new growth, and render the old soft and shiny. For keeping the scalp clean, cool, and healthy, there is no better preparation

Beauty

"I am free to confess that a trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor has convinced me that it is a genuine article. Its use has not only caused the hair of my wife and daughter to be but it has given my rather stunted mustache a respectable length and appearance."—R. Britton, Oakland, Ohio.

Abundant and Glossy,

"My hair was coming out (without any assistance from my wife, either). I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor, using only one bottle, and I now have as fine a head of hair as any one could wish for."—R. T. Schmittou, Dickson, Tenn.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."—Benjamin M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo.

"My hair was becoming harsh and dry, but after using half a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it grew black and glossy. I cannot express the joy and gratitude I feel."—Mabel C. Hardy, Delavan, Ill. Ayer's Hair Vigor

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

however, with the same sum of money he might buy 100 shares of stock, which would double the money at an advance of one point only, and he might quadru-ple it did the price advance four points All the elements of gambling enter into the bucket-shop transaction. It is a quick trade as a rule, and it is popular for that reason. Thousands of men gamble in reason. Thousands of men gamble in them daily for a living, and hundreds of boys and young men form gambling habits there that unfit them for real work and honest application to business.

The demoralizing influence of the concerns can scarcely be estimated. Indeed, it is true of Wall street speculation in general that the man who once gets a taste of it is ever afterward good for nothing in legitimate business.

The Deer Range of the Northwest.

The great deer range is in Northern Wisconsin, across Minnesota to Dakota, and covers the country adjacent to Brush City and Princeton and to the north of Brainerd. There are very few deer on the Red Lake Reservation, and very few about Duluth, because the wolves are so numerous in the counties adjacant. The wolves drive the deer out. At the extreme frontier the deer are found in good condition. They breed in the timber, and remain there during the Summer, and are driven out by the wolves in the Fall. Between the Indians and wolves many deer are wastefully destroyed. It is necessary to kill the wolves to keep the deer crop, and the bounty is doing some good. But the deer are not getting exterminated. You might as well talk about exterminating the ducks, cranes, pelicans, and all kinds of water fowl which breed up in the Peace River Country, 1,500 miles northwest of Winnipeg. There are about 20,000 saddles of venison handled here a year. Sometimes this amount is exceeded, as in 1878, when the prairie fires got into the timber, and drove the deer into the settlements. The deer fur is of no commercial value, but the skin is made into moccasins and into buckskins for the stores.

Small Stock Raisers in Mebraska.

The certain result of the great losses of cattle on the ranges will be the creation of a large number of small stock growers in place of a few heavy ranchmen who have numbered their herds by the thousands. This effect has already been notice ed throughout Nebraska during the past five years, where the farmers have been rapidly bestowing more attention upon the care of small bunches of cattle, and finding to their great profit that corn on the hoof brings in larger financial returns than on the cob. There are scores of farmers scattered throughout Nebraska to-day who are feeding from 50 to 100 head of cattle from the products of their own fields where five years ago there were scarcely ten. Even the great cattle companies, learning something by experience, have found it profitable to build feeding establishments where the cattle can be protected from the weather and fattened for the market, and those who have made this wise provision against emergencies have found it very advantageous in offsetting to some exten. their heavy losses on the ranches.

A hew and cry usually follow the small boy's acquisition of a pocket knife.

MOXIE

the history of trade, from the fact that it bring nervous, exhausted, overworked women to goo powers of endurance in a few days. Cures the un controllable appetite for liquors and tobacco a once, and has recovered a large number of cases o old helpless paralysis as a food only

NERVE

It has lately created an immense excitement i Malden, Mass., in recovering the twelve year old daughter of John Nicholson, 735 Main Street, o an old, helpless case of general paralysis, from which she was speechless. She is now a romping healthy school-girl

FOOD

It is neither medicine nor stimulant, but a plant that yields a rich nutrition for the nerves, which that yields a rich nutrition for the nerves, which repairs the hard wear of life or the effects from dissipation within a few days or weeks, and contains no more alcohel than bread or ice cream, and is the richest beverage known. Druggists have it. For home use buy the Moxie Syrup for 75 cents a 26 oz. bottle, mix three dessert-spoonfuls with a tumbler of ice or soda water, and it will cost you but two cents a tumbler. Three tamblers a day will give you double powers of endurance. MOXIE NERVE FOOD CO., LOWELL, $500 REWARD!

We will pay the above reward for any case of liver complaint, dyspepsia, sick headache, indigestion, constipation or costiveness we cannot cure with West's Vegetable Liver Pills, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely vegetable, and never fail to give satisfaction. Large boxes containing 50 sugar-coated pills, 25c. For sale by all druggists. Beware of counterfeits and imitations. The genuine manufactured only by JOHN C. WEST & CO., 862 West Madison street, Chicago, Ill.

The Business World in Miniature at

YPSILANTI, MICH.

No theory or text-book work; everything is real, the same as in the outside world. Visitors cordially invited. Circulars on application.

P. R. CLEARY,

NEW DRESSMAKING FIRM

Mrs. C. H. Hyzer having returned from Detroit, and entered into business with Mrs. H. C. Dennis, as Fashionable Dressmakers, will be glad to see all of her old patrons and many new ones.

Rooms 2 doors east of Ypsilanti House CONGRESS STREET EAST. 3841

ADIES PEERLESS

Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home. They will dye everything. They are sold everywhere. Price 10c. a package. They have noequal for Strength, Brightness, Amount in Packages or for Fastness of Color, or non-fading Qualities. They do not crock or smut; 40 colors. For sale by H. M. Dimick.

Mrs. Cleveland Beats a Retreat.

At 12 o'clock, says the Washington National Republican, Mrs. Cleveland he been in the habit this year of communication down and shaking hands with whatso ever persons were waiting. Recently she returned from a drive with her very the transfer was the weight of the property of the property of the property of the waiting of the property of the proper pretty guest, Miss Willard, five minute before noon, and when she came down stairs again, coming through the door precisely as the President does for his 15 o'clock levees, she found five hundred people there, mostly women. She began the handshaking at once, passing the people into the red corridor with great rapidity. But the women were un-managable, or unwomanagable, rather. They did not want to shake hands and be whisked out; they wanted to stand and stand and look and look, and exchange comments about Mrs. Cleveland's looks and dress. She wore the black silk dress in which she had been driving, and had added only a diamondheaded pin to her coiffure and fastened her blick coller with a clever less in her high collar with a clover leaf in diamonds. In shorter time than it takes to write this, the women, and the few men present, were passed out, but they simply returned to the East Room by another door, and coolly presented them-selves again and again. Mrs. Cleveland's quick eye soon detected the imposition, and when the crowd began quadrupling the performance she laugh-ingly retreated.

A Pathetic Story.

We get many pathetic stories from all quarters of the globe, but none has been more pathetic or startling than one from Buda Pesth that Janos Meryessi, 84 years of age, attempted suicide by drowning in the Danube, because he was unable longer to support his father and mother, aged respectively 115 and 110 years.

The family are Magyars from the extreme south of Hungary. The authorities doubted the story of the old beggar, but investigation confirmed it in every par No stronger instance of filial devotion is to be found in song or story or history than this octogenarian's desperate despair because he could no longer support his father and mother, who had lived beyond a century of time. The Newest Joke.

The newest joke of the day is for one man to ask another "Have you seen the new coin—the one and three eigths?" i course the answer is "No," whereupon the propounder of the question produces a new five-cent nickel and points to the date—1888, which is the "one and three eights" and the point of the joke.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Mississippi river comes high sometimes, but the people must have it.

Paint your PENINSULAR PURE PAINTS, GUARATEE OF PURITY.

We GUARANTEE this package to contain nothing out STRICTLY PURE old process white LEAD and NXIDE OF ZINC, ground in PURE LINSED OIL and Dryers. Shades tinted with most permanent colors. We will pay one ounce of Gold for every ounce f adulteration which this package may be foun

Call and see a handsome display of these paints
PAINT YOUR KITCHEN FLOOR WITH PENINSULAR FLOOR PAINT. Dries hard over night. Very dura ble and lasting. For sale by

A. D. MORFORD, Druggist, Headquarters for Paints and Oils, Ypsilanti, Mich

HOUSE and LOT FOR SALE

86 East Cross Street.

Enquire on the premises of Mrs C.M. Tenney.

6 05 10 35 6 35 10 35 6 45 10 45 am am 3 35 6 15 Buffalo ..

0. 11 3 5 15 15 15 Day Chi. Grad Mail.* Ex.* Ex.+ Rap. No. 11 Mail.*
 Ex.*
 Ex.*
 Rap.
 Ex.*

 pm am Ex.* am Ex.* am

 Buffalo.
 11 30
 5 35
 ...
 9 00

 Detroit.
 7 30
 9 10
 1 20
 4 00
 8 00

 W. Detroit.
 7 40
 9 20
 1 30
 4 10
 8 10

 Wayne Jun 8 11
 9 53
 1 54
 4 45
 8 38

 Denton's.
 8 25
 ...
 5 00
 ...

 Yrstlaxivi.
 8 33
 10 17
 2 12
 5 12
 9 00

 Ann Arbor
 8 50
 10 40
 2 24
 5 30
 9 15

Jackson...10 13 11 45 3 27 7 10 10 55 12 54 | pm pm Kalamazoo.12 50 2 04 5 15 9 45 |
| Chicago... 6 10 6 40 9 30 *Sundays excepted. †Daily. †Stop Trains run on central standard time. O.W. RUGGLES, G. P. & T. Agt, Chicago. Station

LAKE SHORE AND MICHIGAN SOUTHERN FROM YPSILANTI.

ED. A. WALLACE,

Tricycles,

Safeties. Tandems,

Wheelman's Supplies

Sold for Cash or on Installments

5 Union Block

YPSILANTI, MICH. H. FAIRCHILD & CO.

CITY MARKET

Fresh and Salt Meats

DEALERS IN

Of all kinds, at the Lowest Market Price

Fresh Fish constantly on hand.

Our motto is to please all.

PLANTS FOR SALE Straw berries,

Raspberries, Black berries Of the Choicest Varieties, and a general line of Nursery Stock can be procured of

WM. W. PHILLIPS, Prospect St. South, Ypsilanti, Mich.

DR. A. B. SPINNEY, Counseling Physician at the FOREST AVENUE Sanitarium, where he is prepared to examine and treat all forms of Chronic Diseases. Special atten-tion will be given to the treatment of

Chronic Diseases a Specialty

CATARRH, THROAT, LUNG, -AND-

EYE AND EAR DISEASES! Persons suffering from diseased vision and un-ible to find glasses, can have their eyes examined and glasses made to order. Dr. Spinney has been 15 years in active general practice, also 12 years in the treatment of Chronic weases. Will be at the Sanitarium every Sunday. Residence corner Adams and Michigan Streets

FOR SALE CHEAP!

A. Williams' fine Brick Residence on Huron street. All in perfect order, heat by furnace. Terms easy. Inquire of J. N. Wallace & Co. or at the house.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1888.

THE little king of Spain is 18 months old and has a salary of $1,000,000. HAWTHORNE began writing novels at the suggestion of his wife. So did Worth costumes in Paris, she engaged a Fenimore Cooper. Jonas Lie is the name of a Norwegian writer of novels. He is said to be able to make good his name. JUSTICE STANLEY MATTHEWS, of the United States supreme court, is to deliver the law school commencement oration at Yale next month.

BELL, of telephone notoriety, is a came to this country a poor boy, but has succeeded in making his mark, and a fortune, too.

WITHIN the past two weeks four men who claim to be related to Prince Bismarck have been arrested for various misdmeanors at four different places on the Pacific coast.

SENATOR BECK, it is reported, is to be married during the summer to Mrs. Henderson, daughter of Dr. Yandell, of Louisville. The bride-in-prospective has a fortune of $400,000

DURING this year Carl Schurz will be 59; Blaine, 58; Prof. Haeckie, 54; Mark Twain, 53: T. B. Aldrich, 52; Grover Cleveland, 51; Bret Harte, 49; Thomas Nast, 48; the prince of Wales, 47, and Adelina Patti, 45.

A NOVELTY in silver is the discovery of a process of electro-plating with silver upon wood, and its adaptation to handles of all kinds, including umbrellas, canes, carving-knives, &c. The silver is thrown upon the wood by a process which has proved extremely difficult in practice.

It is now possible to construct a complete sewing-machine in a minute, or sixty in one hour; a reaper every fifteen minutes, or less; three hundred watches in a day, complete in all their appointments. More important than um and Express Messenger J. A. Zimmerthis even is the fact that it is possible to construct a locomotive in a day.

Dom Pedro, emperor of Brazil, ascended the throne in 1831, and has reigned longer than any sovereign in the world. His rule has been marked by a liberal and progressive policy, and will be distinguished in history as accomplishing a noble work in the emancipation of many thousand slaves.

IT is not unlikely that Queen Victoria will pay a visit to Ireland in the near future. She has been invited to do so by the authorities and attaches of Dublin castle, and the proposition day night the steamer Joppa ran into and meets with warm fayor in England, in view of the possible results of such action on the part of the queen in conciliating her Irish subjects.

to Mexico up to a few weeks ago, when he left for Europe, will not return to

An English seer has discovered that the numerical value of the letters in Boulanger's name when added up amounts to 666, the number of the beast of the Apocalypse. This important clew enables him to predict that Gen. Boulanger will play a leading part in the af- tal, was killed Thursday by a mistake of fairs of the world between this time the hospital druggist, Julius H. Erichsberg, and the second advent of Christ, "which is to occur at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of March 5, 1896."

THE short visit paid by the empress of Austria to Paris recently was strict- at Dubuque, Ia., Monday. ly incognito. Her majesty after her brief stay, went on to Baden. Her tlers of Beloit, Wis., have laid claim to, and peregrinations are assiduously chronicled as being travels in search of health, but it is becoming an open The city will contest. secret that something more than the undoubted indispotion from which she suffers keeps the empress of Austra absent from her husband and her court so long.

CONTRADICTING the current fiction that the czarina makes the dresses of her of fish in Ryan & Bourke's store at Detroit, children. Mr. Labouchere remarks that the czarina and her sisters acted as their own maids and dressmakers in early life simply because the present king and queen of Denmark could not afford either to buy their things or to provide them with attendants, as their income did not exceed $5,000 a year altogether, and they had six children, all of whom have, however, since achiev- Rev. F. A. Andrews officiated at the funer. ed great marriages.

visited a bookseller's in Prince street. was to be the groom; that the bride was a The attendant, a young man, asked if sister of the woman interred a few hours she had ever heard Jenny Lind. The previously, and that the ages of the pair Vienna, July 21, the occasion being the resinger replied in the affirmative, and herself asked if he had heard the "Swedish Nightingale." He replied that the and that the second wedding was as uncervery high price of the tickets kept them | emonious as the third. far beyond his income. She asked him to play an accompaniment to the song interested in out-door sports, and is having which she held in her hand. He did so, a tennis court laid out. and at the close the singer, saying "Now you have heard Jenny Lind," walked out

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Latest Intelligence From All Parts of the World,

EAST.

Mrs. Rose Ludgh, a New York dressmaker, is charged with defrauding the cus. and it is expected the convention will vote tom house out of $10,000. After buying young lady to represent herself as an actress, wardrobe. Under these conditions the costy garments were admitted free of duty. To better carry out her scheme, Mrs. Ludvigh, as alleged, played the part of maid to the alleged actress.

It is reported from Youngstown, O., that duced by overtaxing them singing in large halls, recovered her voice Sunday during a Scotchman, and only 80 years old. He severe storm just after two violent claps of thunder. She had not been able to speak above a whisper, and had been pronounced incurable by physicians.

Railways running out of Pittsburg to Chicago have begun a rate war on National convention tickets. The Pittsburg and Westfigures may prevail.

League ball games, Monday, resulted: troit, 9.—Philadelphia, 7; Pittsburg, 1.— indicted. Indianapolis, 15; Washington, 3.

York, 3; Philadelphia, 2, Pittsburg, 1; Detroit, 10, Boston, 9; Indianapolis, 4, Wash-

At Erie, Pa., owing to the bursting of a cannon, the skull of John Smith was crushed and he was killed.

The President has approved the new act providing pensions for the widows of sol-still at large in the blue grass region. The the State, not the city, to establish their baggage master, who was wounded in the system. encounter, has died.

The Rev. James Freeman Clarke, a distinnight in his residence at Jamaica Plain, a President. suburb of Boston.

In the Lima-Toledo ball game at Lima, Friday, Parker and O'Rourke, of the Toleaos, came in collision. both being knockea senseless. It is feared that Parker can not survive his injuries.

Between Delhi and Cincinnati Friday al that section of the liquor law of 1887, prenight four robbers were discovered on a Cincincinati, Indianapopolis & Chicago train, on the platform of the express car. The robbers began firing on Baggage-master Joe Ketchman, the former being fatally shot. One of the bandits attempted to climb on the en-gine, but was knocked down by blows from wife out of the window. Passengers prea monkey wrench, and then rolled off the tender while the train was at full speed. While the train was stopping another of the desperadoes was seen to jump off and disappear in the darkness, but when it came to stand-still no trace could be found of the other desperadoes. Mounted posses are scouring the country, and the capture of the men is not improbable.

Fire broke out in the stables of the Mon treal Street Railway Company early Friday morning, and of the 135 horses in the larger stable, all perished but one. Eighty kept in a smaller stable were taken out safely, several firemen being badly burned during their efforts. The loss will reach $100,000.

filled the position of German minister ter, New York, both in the same building, ward making up the deficiency to Mexico up to a few weeks ago, when search Deputy Warden Albert Garvin found him secreted between two ice houses. Heller had secured a forty-toot rope to aid him in scaling the walls. The only league contest Thursday was a postponed game played at New York by the New York and Washington teams, won by the later by the score of 7 to 5. A patient in the Cincinnati, Ohio, hospiin putting deadly poison in a prescription.

WEST AND SOUTH.

Swarms of seventeen-year locusts appeared

Heirs of Horace White, one of the first set. taken possession of, a public park in that place, which was always supposed to belong 000, to the city. The land is worth about $10,000.

Sensational scenes are reported from the Woodworth, the trance evangelist. Four State ticket to 7,000 and gave that party 70 young persons fell to the ground in trances. remaining unconscious over an hour, and the Democrats 20. others professed marvelous cures.

A dynamite bomb was found in a barrel Thursday, and thrown into the river. The ago, for Congressman Hermann, and fish had been shipped from Cleveland on the | jority of 42 in joint ballot in the Legislature, steamer City of Cleveland, by John Kings-borough, and it is supposed the bomb was At Ot tum placed in the barrel after it had left the Weaver was nominated for Congress by the

Thomas Walsh, an Irishman, said to have been implicated in a plot to kill English of-ticials, arrived 'at New York Monday from France.

Near Jeffersonville, Ind., Saturday, the al of a Mrs. Wascom. In the evening he was asked to marry a couple, and was sur-In 1865 Jenny Lind in Edinburgh prised to find that the mourning widower were respectively 73 and 71. He also learned that this was Wascom's third matrimonial venture: that his three wives were sisters,

The President and Mrs. Cleveland are now living at Oakview. Mrs. Cleveland is prison. A beautiful bouquet was placed in the ce'l of each convict by the ladies of the William George, proprietor of a hotel at Springview, Neb., died Friday from glanders, caught from a horse that had the disease. The annual convention of the Internation. al Typographical union opened in Kansas City Monday. Twenty-six thousand dollars is lying in the treasury of the organization, to apply this money to a fund for building a home for disabled printers.

The body found at Dover Turnout, Mich. last week, has been identified as McDougall Foster, of Chicago, the boy traveller.

Robert Bratcher was sued at Columbia, S .and that the gowns were portions of her C., for causing Miss Hamilton, by his marriage with her, to break her contracts of service with J. Bashley, by whom she was employed. The offense is a misdemeanor under the law, but a verdict of not guilty was rendered.

A farmer, in crossing the Republican River Nannie Evans, aged 10, whose career as a near Benkleman, Neb., on his way to town vocal prodigy was cut short seven months Saturday morning, found an old man fast in t ago by the paralysis of her vocal chords, in- one of the quick sands which are quite common along the river. He was buried to the arm-pits, and slowly sinking deeper. He had evidently been there several hours. ern and the Pennsylvania began selling supposed to be Edwin Bowers, of Wano, round-trip tickets Monday for $5, and lower Kan. He had $1,000 in currency in a belt around his body.

Dr. Cox, of Springfield, Mo., who burned Chicago, 4; New York, 3.—Boston, 14; De- his son's mistress with carbolic acid, was not

A decomposed body was unearthed near Base ball games at various centers Saturday resulted as follows: Chicago, 8, New Friday, and rumor stated that the remains were those of Henry Peters, the brewery driver who disappeared soon after Haddock's murder, but it was impossible to identify the eorpse.

Owing to an ordinance reducing the rental of telephones from $100 to $50 a year, the Bell Company threatens to quit business at St. Louis, and have already taken out many 'phones. The city authorities are preparing to cut down the wires and poles not in active The bandits, who attempted to rob the service, but this the company will resist, "Big Four" train, near Cincinnati, O., are claiming that they received the right from

At its session at Milwaukee, Friday, the State Convention of the W. C. T. U. electguished Unitarian clergyman, died Friday ed Mrs. Amy Kellogg Morse, ot Durand,

At Galesburg, Ill., Friday, Albert Hedberg, who killed a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy striking engineer some weeks since, was discharged by the grand jury. In Michigan Supreme Court Friday, a deision was rendered delaring unconstitution-

Grand Lodge of Iowa F. and A. M., began a three day's session at Cedar Rapids, Tues-

The Legislative investigation of charges against the Iowa University came to a sudden stop Tuesday, when the committee learned that proper provision for their expenses had not been made, and that they could not draw on the State treasury. They

POLITICAL POINTS.

Fuller returns from the Oregon election members on joint ballot in the Legislature to Oregon was carried by the Republicans in the election Tuesday by a majority of certainly 4,000, as against the 1,500 of two years

At Ot tumwa, Ia., Tuesday, General J. B Union Labor party of that district

FOREIGN ITEMS.

Beginning on July 1, the circulation of foreign coin will be prohibited in the German empire, except on the Austrian and Swiss frontier.

sage to America by the steamer Trove, which sails July 19. A grand funeral ceremony will be held in

Mr. Blaine and family have engaged pas-moval of Beethoven's ashes to the new central cemetery where they will rest by those of Schubert and Mozart.

It is reported that a movement is on foot in Japan, which is suported by several pubicists, to adopt the Christian religion trust," "With one dime! How can you throughout that country.

The revision committee of the French one drink you see, he will trust me for chamber of deputies adopted a resolution another." "Here is your dime, my Saturday, to the effect that the government friend. I like to encourage trade." | will produce before the close of the present | — Drake's Magazine.

Saturday was "flower day" at Joliet | legislative session a plan for revision of the

Lth CONGRESS.

SENATE.—Among the bills reported from committees and placed on the Senate Calendar, June 4th, were the following: Appropriating $125,000 for a public building at Salt Lake City, Utah. To repeal all preemption and timber culture laws. Then the Senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar, and passed, among others, the following: Senate bill to authorize the Paris, Choctaw, and Little Rock Railway, Company to construct and operate a railway, telegraph, and telephone line through the Indian Territory. Senate bill appropriating $35,000 for an equestrian statue of, ex-President Zachary Taylor in the city of Washington. House bill appropriating $15,000 for a public building in Sedalia, Mo., and $75,000 for a public building in Monroe, La. Senate bill creating an additional retired list of the army for eighty officers now on the active list, but incapacifated for active service. House bill authorizing the President to appoint and retire Alfrea Pleasanton with the renk and grade at colonel—with an with the rank and grade of colonel—with an amendment reducing the grade to that of major. House bil to authorize the construction of bridges across Trail Creek, in had evidently been there several hours. When the farmer attempted to pull him out he fought desperately, and even after the farmer, with the assistance of another man, had rescued him, he attempted to jump into the treacherous sands again. His mind is still deranged as a result of his terrible experience. From papers found on him he is supposed to be Edwin Bowers, of Wano, Kan. He had $1,000 in currency in a helt. with the grade of major, Major General Wm. W. Averili. The Senate bill appropriating $25,000 for a public building at Virginia City, Nev., and $60,000 for one at Reno, Nev. House bill to promote agriculture (requiring American consuls abroad to make monthly reports on agricultural and horticultural subjects.) The House bill to enlarge the powers and duties of the Department of Agriculture and to make it an executive department having been taken up, arguments were made by Senators Morgan and Plumb against the amendment reported by the Committee on Agriculture to strike out the fifth section of the bill, which transfers the weather service of the Signal Service Bureau to the Department of Agriculture; the fifth section of the bill, which transfers the weather service of the Signal Service Bureau to the Department of Agriculture; and by Mr. Platt against the bill itself on the ground that, it such a new executive department were to be created, it should embrace the interests, not only of agriculture, but of manufactures, mining, commerce transportation, and labor. Finally the bill was recommitted. The House bill to prevent the employment of alien labor upon public buildings or other public works in the various departments of the government having been reached, Mr. Teller moved an amendment requiring public buildings to be constructed wholly of materials made and prepared within the United States, and limiting contracts to residents and citizens of the United States. After discussion by Senators Teller, Blair, Platt and Call the bill went over without action, and the Senate at 4 o'clock adjourned, having passed in all seventy-eight bills, forty of which were pension bills. SENATE .-- The session of the Senate was cision was rendered delaring unconstitutional that section of the liquor law of 1887, preventing liquor dealers, brewers, etc., from going on the bonds of retail liquor dealers.

Friday morning Edmund Robinson, an aged farmer of New London, Ark., who had recovered from an act of insanity, and was going with his wife from Paducah to Louisville for change of scene, went suddenly crazy on the train and tried to throw his wife out of the window. Passengers preventing, he turned on them and fought desperately before he could be overpowered. He was chained to the seat, and when the train reached Louisville he was foaming at the mouth.

Charles Murphy, a fisherman, aged 38, of Louisville, Ky., while netting Friday made a loop about his wrist and made a cast. A moment later he was dragged down the river, in spite of his desperate efforts by some irresistible force, drawn in to a whirlpool and drowned.

Edward Mauree, a German laborer of Springfield, Ill., who had been celebrating General Palmer's nomination by a protracted spree, became melancholy over his wife's reproaching him for not working, and to the calendar. In all, seventy-eight bills were passed, of which forty were pension bills. Among them were the following: Appropriating $35,000 for an equestrian statue of ex-President Taylor in Washington, $15,000 for a public building at Sedalia, Mo., to retire Alfred Pleasanton (with an amendment reducing the grade from colonel to major), to retire Gen. W. M. Averill with the grade of major, authorizing the construction of a bridge across Trail creek in Michigan City, Ind.

SENATE.—The session of the work of which seventy-eight bills were passed, of which seventy-eight bills were passed, of which hoty were pension bills. Among them were the following: Appropriating $35,000 for a public building at Sedalia, Mo., to retire Alfred Pleasanton (with an amendment reducing the grade from colonel to major), to retire Gen. W. Averill with the grade for consultants and creeve pension bills. Among the molecular the following: App that country, but is to go to Russia on a special diplomatic mission. Sir Spencer St. John, English minister to Mexico for the last seven years, also leaves Mexico, not to return, in August next.

The eminent professor of chemistry, Privy Councilor A. W. Hoffman, of Berlin, a former pupil and assistant of Liebig, and honorary rector of Berlin aniversity, has lately celebrated the seventieth anniversary of his birth. Emperor Fredrick bestowed upon him the rank of nobility, besides a distinguished decoration, and the Empress Victoria one of his pupils, sent him her Michael F. Haggerty, a member of the Cook County Democratic Marching Club, at St. Louis, Tuesday night, knocked down a thief who tried to grab his diamond stud, and was immediately arrested and taken to prison by a St. Louis policeman who calmly allowed the thief to escape. He was not released until noon Wednesday, and a wound in his hand, which was cut by the blow he struck the thief, had become so aggravated that he had to start for Chicago at once for surgical treatment.

The forty-fifth annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Iowa F. and A. M., began a like blocks or sticks, rough, hewn, or sawn," like blocks or sticks, rough, hewn, or sawn," which Mr. Bayne moved to strike out. He said that he had heard that the St. Louis platform would straddle the tariff question. platform would straddle the tariff question. He predicted that, although the Democratic banner would read "Cleveland and the Red Bandana", [tremendous applause on the Democratic side], the Republicans in November, standing on a reform platform, would be victorious. Mr. Cox had read a bulletin from the convention to the effect that Cleveland's name was received by a storm of anylouse whereupon to the effect that Cleveland's name was received by a storm of applause, whereupon the Democratic members again broke out in tumultuous applause. Mr. Webber, of New York, as a commentary upon this bulletin, read from a Buffalo paper a statement that a few days ago eighty-eight men started from that city for the convention in Cleveland's interest, where in 1884 over 2,000 men went to Chicago or the same arrand. After further the convention of the same arrand. interest, where in 1884 over 2,000 men went to Chicago on the same errand. After further debate the motion to strike out was rejected by a party vote. "Staves of wood" was next considered. After a long discussion Mr. Buchanan, of New Jersey, offered an ameadment, adding the words, "In the rough, straight, and not shaved," which was rejected. Mr. Bayne, of Pennsylvania, ironically remarked that the Democrats did not appear to gather much satisfaction from a perusal of the convention bulletins, and he therefore read a number of telegrams showing Republican gains in Oregon, to the delectation of the Republicans. Mr. Lawler, of Illinois, replied by reading a clipping from an Oregon newspalicans. Mr. Lawler, of Illinois, replied by reading a clipping from an Oregon newspaper denouncing high tariff as humbuggery. An amendment to strike out the paragraph was lost, and the committe rose. The Speaker pro tem laid before the House a message from the President, returning without his approval bills for the erection of a public building at Bar Harbor, Me., and for the purchase of additional ground for the building at Council; Bluffs, Ia. The announcement of the veto of the first named bill was received with laughter by the Republicans.

A Drink Trust.

then, at 5 o'clock, adjourned.

"Will you have the kindness to give me a dime. sir? I want to establish a do that?" "If I pay the barkeeper for "Here is your dime, my

CLEVELAND AND THURMAN.

The National Democratic Convention Renominates the President with a Great Shout.

Daniel Dougherty's speech upon nomina-remarks gathered force as he went on and soon his voice rang out from one end of the vast hall to the other. His allusions to President Cleveland were received with hearty and prolonged cheering, as were also his references to tariff reform.

Mr. Dougherty spoke as follows:

"I greet you, my countrymen, with frater-nal regard! In your presence I bow to the majesty of the people. The sight itself is inspiring the thought sublime! You come from every State and Territory, from every nook and corner of our ocean-bound, contil nent-covering country. You are about to discharge a more than imperial duty with simplest ceremonials. You, as representaof a written constitution.

the presentation of resolutions ex- the States or people the entire ungranted pressing sorrow at the illness of General sherical pressing sorrow at the illness of General sherical president of pressing sorrow at the illness of General sherical president of pressing sorrow at the illness of General sherical pression sherical pressio ted after a score or more of objections had been made; but the resolutions were finally adopted unanimously, as alleged, though it is known that delegates from many Southern The "Old Roman" Chosen as Running Mate Amid Great Enthusiasm.

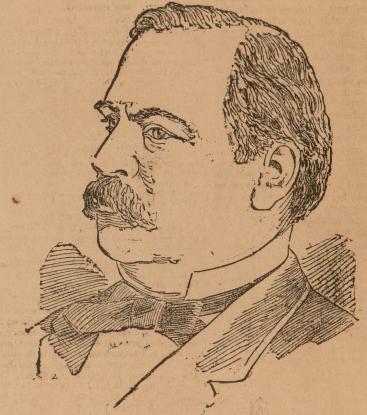

States refused to show their appreciation of the dying soldier of the Union. Another event was the granting of permission to representatives of the woman's suffrage cause to make short addresses to the convention; but when Mrs F. F. Merriweather of St. but when Mrs F. F. Merriweather of St. States refused to show their appreciation of but when Mrs. E. E. Merriweather, of St. Louis, attempted to deliver her speech, the confusion became so promounced that she ting Cleveland was one of the main events was obliged to desist; and though she made of Wednesday. The silver-tongued orator several efforts to resume her remarks, was loudly applauded upon advancing to she was compelled to leave the platthe platform, and as he rose to address the convention the applause was thunderous.

He began slowly and impressively, but his torm without finishing her address.

An attempt was made also to nominate a Vice Presidential candidate, but the conventue on recelutions are herious. but the committee on resolutions not having reported, wiser counsels prevailed, and it was deemed advisable to postpone that'duty until Thursday. In the evening the committee on resolutions arrived at an understanding regarding the tariff plank; and it is said that the result pleases both Watterson the free trader, and Gorman, the protectionist. The latter's proposition to indorse and reiterate the plank of 1884 was adopted by a wate of 29 to 25; and the declartion was also made that the President's recent message is a correct interpretation of that plank. In am additional paragraph the Mills bill is commended, and Congress is urged to pass it at an ear-

The Democratic National Convention finchecked and controlled by the supreme law Presidency. In the one bullot taken, Thur- abroadman received 704 votes, Gray 105, and Black

"Thus impressed, I ascend the rostrum to 31, but when the changing began and Colo name the next president of the United States. New York presents him to the confrained from voting east their lots for the vention and pledges her electoral vote. Delegations from the thirty-eight states and all the territories are assembled without of Gray; and upon motion of Mr. Pattersen, caucus or consultation, ready, simultaneousof Colorado, the nomination of Mr. Thurman ly, to take up the cry and make the vote unanimous. We are here not, indeed, to choose a candidate, but to name the one the people have already chosen. He is the man ture. He is not a hope. He is a realization. Scorning subterfuge, disdaining re-election by concealing convictions, mindful of his he courageously declares to congress, dropping iminor matters, that the supreme issue is reform, revision, reduction of national taxation: that the treasury of the United States, glutted with unneeded gold, oppresses industry, embarrasses business, endangers financial tranquility, and breeds extravagance, centralization, and corruption; that high taxation, vital for the expenditures of an unparalleled war, is robbery in years of prosperous peace; that the millions that pour into the treasury come from the hard-earned savings of the American people; that in violation of equality of rights the present tariff has created a privileged class, who, shaping legislation for their personal gain, levy by law contributions for the necessaries of life from every man, woman and child in the land, and that to lower the tariff is not free trade. It is to reduce the unjust profits of monopolists and boss manufacturers, and allow consumers to retain the re-t. The man who asserts that to lower the tariff means free trade insuits intelligence. We brand him as a falsifier. It is furthest from thought to imperil capital or disturb enterprises. The aim is to uphold wages and protect the rights of all. "This administration has rescued the publie domains from would-be barons, and eor-morant corporations faithless to obligation and reserved it for free homes for this and coming generations. "There is no pilfering, there are no jobs under this administration. Public office is a public trust. Integrity stands guard at every ing gratitude of the republic for her soldiers, he has not hesitated to withhold approval from special legislation it strictest inquiry

"Above all, sectional strife as never before is at an end, and 60,000,000 of freemen in the ties of brotherhood are prosperous and hap-

"These are the achievements of this administratition. Under the same illustrious leader we are ready to meet our political oppenents in high and honorable debate, and stake our triumph on the intelligence, virtue, and patriotism of the people. Adhering to the constitution in every line and letter, ever remembering that 'powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution not prohibited by it to the States are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people,' by the authority of the Democracy of New York, backed by the Democracy of with victory. I nominate Grover Cleveland of New York."

At its meeting Wednesday the Democratic National Convention renominated Grover received with laughter by the Republicans. The confreres on the bill relating to postal crimes presented their report, and the Senate amendments were agreed to. The House Cleveland for the Presidency. The principal nominating speech was made by Daniel was made unanimous. Mr. Henry Watterson, of Kentucky, presented made t'at it had been approved unanimously in committee; but later developments oath of office to defend the constitution, showed that Mr. Edward Cooper, of New York, was opposed to the tariff plank, and the platform, which extols the President, challenges scrutiny of the administration, claims the exeusion of Chinese labor by Democratic legislation, and asserts that under Democratic control the interests bly increased to all our people. Judged by Democratic legislation, and asserts that under Democratic control the interests bly increased to all our people. Judged by Democratic provides the latest that the platform, which extols the President, challenges scrutiny of the administration is unjust taxation. It is repugnant to the creed of Democratic provides the platform, which extols the President, challenges scrutiny of the administration. It is repugnant to the creed of Democratic legislation, and asserts that under Democratic control the interests. several memetal future. She has been invited to do so by the authorities and attaches of Dublin castle, and the proposition meets with warm favor in England, in with the stamer Jopps are into an author of the queen in conscillating her Irish subjects.

STEPHEN GROVER OLEVELAND,

Baron Waeker Gorrer, who has filled the position of German minister to Mexico up to a few weeks ago, when the left for Europe, will not received Mexico up to a few weeks ago, when the left for Europe, will not received the for the country, but is to go to Russia on a special diplomatic mission. Sir with all nations while scrupulously maintives of the people, are to choose a magistrate with power mighter than a monarch, yet nominating Allen G. Thurman for the Vice own government and people at home and The exclusion from our shores of Chinese laborers has been effectually secured under the provisions of a treaty, the operation of which has been postponed by the action of a Republican majority in the Senate.

Honest reform in the civil service has been inaugurated and maintained by President Cleveland, and he has brought the public service to the highest standard of efficiency,

States, but it challenges the most searching inquiry concerning its fidelity and devotion to the pledges which then invited the suffrages of the people during a most critical period of our financial affairs, resulting from overtaxation, the anomalous condition of our currency, and a pulic debt unmatured, it has course not only averted disaster, but greatly wise policy of the Republican party touching the public domain, and has reclaimed from corporations and syndicates alien and domestic and restored to the people nearly one hundred millions of acres of valuable land to be sacredly held as homesteads for our citizens.

While carefully guarding the interest to the principles of justice and equity, it has paid out more for pensions and bounties to the soldiers and sailors of the Republic than was ever paid before during the same period.

It has adopted, consistently pursued, a firm and prudent foreign policy, preserving peace promoted the prosperity of the people.

by the adoption of a wise and conservative

It has reversed the improvident and un-not only by rule and precept, but by the example of his own untiring and unselfish administration of public affairs.

In every branch and department of the government under Democratic control the rights and the welfare of all the people have heen guarded and defended; every public interest has been protected, and the equality of all our citizens before the law, without regard to race or color, has been steadtastly

Upon its record thus exhibited and upon a pledge of a continuance to the people of the benefits of Democracy it invokes a re-newal of popular trust by the re-election of a chief magistrate who has been faithful, able and prudent, and invokes in addition to that trust the transfer also to the Democracy of the entire legislative power. The Republican party, controlling the Senate and resisting in both houses of Congress a reformation of unjust and unequal tax laws, which have outlasted the necessities of war and are now undermining the abundance of a long peace, deny to the peo-ple equality before the law, and the fairness and the justice which are their right. Then the cry of American labor for a better share n the rewards of industry is stifled with false pretenses, enterprise is fettered, and bound down to home markets; capital is discouraged with doubt, and unequal, unjust aws can neither be properly amended or re-

The Democratic party will continue, with all the power confided in it, the struggle to eform these laws in accordance with the pledges of its last platform, indorsed at the pallot-box by the suffrage of the people. Of all the industrious freemen of our land, the immense majority, including every tiller of the soil, gain no advantage from excessive tax laws, but the price of nearly everything they buy is increased by the favoritism of an unequal system of tax legislation.

surplus in the National Treasury. The money now lying idle in the Federal Treasury resulting from superfluous taxation amounts to more than $125,000,000, and the surplus collected is reaching the sum of

ALLEN G. THURMAN.

"While the president has been the me- refused to give it his sanction. Resolutions more than $60,000,000 annually. Declauched dium through which has flowed the undy- were next presented by Mr. Lamon, of Cali- by the immense temptation the ramedy of fornia; Governor Abbott, of New Jersey, the Republican party is to meet and exand Mr. Scott, of Pennsylvania, approving respectively, the admission of the Terpenses, whether constitutional or not, the ritories; the efforts of Gladstone and Parnell accumulation of extravagant taxation. The for Ireland; and the passage of the "revenue" Democratic policy is to enforce faugality in bill" now pending in Congress, all of which were adopted. As they failed, however, to give a name to the revenue bill, and as it is known that Messrs. Randall and Mills have each presented measures with that object in dangered by the reduction and correction of riew, the public is left in doubt as to which the burdens of taxation. On the contrary; bill is approved, though leading Democrats maintain that it was the Mills bull that received the indorsement of the convention. tween the wages of American and foreign Resolutions were also passed extolling the Resolutions were also passed extoring the services to the party of Generals Hancock and McClellan, and of Samuel J. Tilden, giving them assurance of an extended mar-Horatio Seymour, and Thomas A. Hendricks; and after the adoption of the usual resolu. In the interests of American labor, which tions of thanks, etc., the convention adjourn-

The Democratic party of the United States in National Convention assembled, renews the pledge of its fidelity to the Democratic faith, and reaffirms the platform adopted by its representatives in the convention of 1884, and indorses the views expressed by Presito Congress as the correct interpretation of Dougherty, of New York, but Mr. according to the first-named famous duction; and also indorses the energy duction duction duction duction duction. Dougherty, of New York, but Mr. McKen- that platform upon the question of tariff re-Chief among its principles of party faith Chairman of the convention, Mr. P. A. Col- are the maintenance of an indissoluble of Boston, delivered an address in union of free and indestructible States, now which the Democratic party and the admin- about to enter upon its second century of unistration were extolled, and a special plea exampled progress and renown, devotion to was made to the Mugwumps for their support of the ticket in the coming campaign. An incident of the day was granted power and expressly reserving to mine are so rich.—Puck.

with due allowance for the difference belabor, must promote and encourage every ket and steady and continuous operations. should in no event be neglected, the revision of our tax laws contemplated by the Democratic party should promote the advantage of such labor by cheapening the cost of necessaries of life in the home of every workingman, and at the same time securing to him steady and remunerative employment. Upon this question of tariff reform, so closely concerning every phase of our National life, and upon every question involved in the problem of good government, the Democratic party submits its principles and professions to the intelligent suffrages of the American people. It Got There.

Hostess—Let me help you to some more salad, Mrs. Newcomb.

Mrs. Newcomb—Just a little please. (Thoughtfully.) I wish you would let me copy some of your recipes; all

BY WILLIAM P. CHAMBERLAIN.

The Highland moor and flowry dale Hold ghostly forms of moonlight pale: The rayless wood and midnight cave To hunted prince or throneless king.

The strong-framed laddie now, I ween, Walks by some brimming mountain stream, And at his side in plaided gown A maiden walks, with eyes cast down, While in her face there rests a gleam Of love untold, sweet lassic Jean!

The bagpipe strains yet echo still From granite cliff and towering hill, And on the whispering twilight air

With voiceless lips and silent tread Uprise the wraiths of all the dead, And meet again in fearless clan True to old Albion to a man, While marshalling horn in blaring note Re-echoes o'er the gloomy moat. Richland. D. T.

SONG OF THE SWAN.

Translated from the French of Georges Ohnet for The Chicago Herald.

II.--CONTINUED.

For some days Miss Maud remained shut up in her apartment. It was said that she was ill. Then Lord Mellivan reappeared in England accompanied only by his youngest daughter. The rumor was current that the eldest daughter was so seriously out of health unless she remained under the skies of Ireland in solitude and repose, The of this story. Well-informed persons, however, pretended to have met Maud with Marackzy in Germany. These tales assumed such a scandalous importance that the family and friends of Lord Mellivan decided to apprise him of them. He listened with a frigid air, then with a hollow veice, and making an effort to speak, he said:

has deserted my house to follow Marackey. They were married at Cowes, her health. before leaving England. She is law-Ireland the artist had the audaucity to ask me for Miss Mellivan's hand. I replied by telling him to quit my house on the instant. He declared then that my daughter loved him and that it had been agreed with her that he should ask me for her hand. He added that he was rich, honored, and begged me not to say an irrevocable no. I persisted in my refusal. He departed. I then had to endure the prayers and lamentations of Maud. She was in despair. The fellow had completely bewitched her. For whole days she remained without speaking, almost without eating, her eye fixed, her ear intent as if she heard in the distance a mysterious music. I did everything to diverther. Nothing succeeded. I counted on her pride. hoped that she would perceive the distance which separated her from this man. Lordered my daughter Daisy and their governess not to leave her. And yet one evening we found her chamber vacant. She had fled, abandoning her father, hersister, the roof under which her mother died-forgetting everything for an adventurer.'

Lord Mellivan remained a moment den in his then, making an angry gesture, he

"From that day I gave orders that the name of that unfortunate girl never be spoken in my hearing. have but one daughter. You wished to know the truth. I have told it.

III. The gossip stirred up by this adventure ceased little by little. The battle between Lord Mellivan and Stenio was not an equal one. Never was the marvelous qualities of the musician manifested with so much eclat as after his all sympathies, won all admirations. By the ascendency of his art he set the world to thinking that the wounded father was in the wrong, and to murmuring at his severity.

Lord Mellivan appeared to be a little too feudal in his treatment of this peasant of genius, who, indeed, ranked with the noblest of lords. The Emperor, his master, had made him a count, but he disdained his title, and said that Marackzy simply seemed sufficient to

For two years he held Europe under the spell of his bow, and gave to his young wife every compensation for her troubles that she could possibly desire. Received everywhere, at court and in high society, her beauty shed a great artist. She added a precious gem to his crown—that of love. Stenio, rich, popular, loved, seemed the living image of earthly happiness. But a triumphal car, to show that no happiness is lasting here below.

At the end of a year a child was born, golden-haired like its mother, at twenty years, and with a terrible and in the pleasures of maternity the last traces of Maud's melancholy disappeared. For some months she forgot the past completely and threw herself into a social current which bore her from fete to fete in an unceasing whirl of gayety. Stenio seemed to her | me she abandoned everything. What to be still more handsome, more have I given her in return? The vain worthy of her adoration. She took an active part in his life of an artist. She ardently enjoyed his glory. Arrived at the maturity of his talent. himself with the delicate and fanciful compositions which daily grew under his agile fingers. He aimed higher. The opera of Vienna opened to him. He produced there in rapid successsion a fantastic ballet in which the wealth of his imagination had full scope, and an opera, "Mathias Corvin," in which the magyar patriotism burst forth in stirring accents. From this time the fanaticism of his admirers knew no is the matter?" bounds, and the Hungarian Chopin, as equal the most illustrious masters. It was at this time that Maud, un-krown to her husband, attempted a reconciliation with her father. wrote a tender and submissive letter to him, in which she implored his forgiveness. She hoped that her husband's success would have its effect upon him, and that the noble Lord would be less severe toward the wife of Marackzy, who was universally proclaimed to be a great composer, than toward the companion of Stenio, the virtuoso. At the end of a week her letter was returned unopened. The noble Lord's pride had been too rudely touched by his daughter's departure. He had kept his word. He desired to recognize her no longer. It was a cruel blow for Maud, but how much lighter than that which destiny had in store for her? The evening of the day on which she received the unopened letter her little boy fell ill. Her impressionable mind discerned a mysterious coincidence between the wrath of the old marquis and the illness of her child. A fatal presentment possessed her, and filled her with an anguish which she did not dare to reveal to Stenio. For a week she nursed the little one with a passionate devotion. But her exertions were useless. The poor child died. It was too much for Maud's delicate and tender nature. and she was seized with a furious delirium. She uttered the most heartrending cries, cursed heaven, menaced earth, and, calling upon her father, charged him with being responsible for the calamity that had overwhelmed Then she fell into a state of proher. found melancholy. She remained entire weeks mute, the eye fixed, without that the doctors could promise no cure a tear, without a prayer. Stenio, in despair, did everything in his power to draw her out of this mortal stupor. profound melancholy that the Mar- | When he spoke to her she appeared uis bore with him everywhere was not to understand him. Even his taken as a positive proof of the truth sublime bow was powerless. He played, but was unable to arouse her from her melancholy. His tenderest melodies left her cold and somber. His marvelous art, which had won the young woman's heart, was powerless to reanimate her spirit. She changed rapidly; her face grew thin and her eyes became strangely hollow. Her bosom was torn by a dry and inces-"I am not sorry that the subject of sant cough. Stenio consulted the best Maud has come up, but it must be for physicians in Vienna. All of them the last time. It is the truth that she advised him to take Maud to Italy. physicians in Vienna. All of them In a milder climate she might regain

Marackzy for six months took his fully his wife. During our stay in wife from city to city, seeking a bright sun, blooming flowers, warm breezes, blue waters, all that makes life smiling. The malady with which she suffered was in the soul. No doctor in the world could cure her.

However, as her physical forces declined her moral forces revived. She shook off her indifference, and as if she had a secret knowledge of the gravity of her condition, she endeav- three young artists were about as ored to console Stenio. One might much better off as the little boy who, have said that by a supreme coquetterie she wished to become charming again so as to be more completely regretted. She talked freely now, took an interest in everything that her husband did and tried to plan for the

The summer returned and brought regrets that she could not go to Ire-

"It seems to me," said she, "that there I should get well. With what pleasure I should again see the beautiful lakes, with their blue waters, and times grew more difficult one of them the fresh verdure of the forest! Oh, low voice: "I cannot go back there. It is forbidden to me!'

Then, with a dolorous accent, she added:

"Yet how sweet it would be to breathe my natal air. It would cure his heart and hand. They are going passionate and almost convulsive desire to live. It was her young and dress and carry a bouquet of red roses, vivified flesh revolting against decay. But the soul soon regained its dominance and imposed for a time its stoical firmness.

Yet Maud wished once more to see the ocean which bathed England. It marriage. One would have said that seemed to her that she would then be he wished by dint of success to lead nearer her regretted country. The his wife to forget the sorrows that her watery space which separated her love had cost her. Around Maud he | could be easily crossed by her thoughts, created an atmosphere of triumph. He and something of herself, a sigh or a dissipated all prejudices, forced open sob, might be wafted on the wings of the wind to her old home at Dunloe. This is why she had come to Dieppe.

Maud lav in a great bed in which her body, now as frail as that of an infant, seemed lost. Her beautiful blonde hair had faded like a withered flower, and the brightness of her eyes was obscured. In them was that look of resignation of a poor being who feels borne on towards death with no power to resist. Two red places marked her cheeks and her thin hands were transparent.

Through the open window the pure air and the sunshine entered freely. radiance upon every one around her. Yet she breathed with difficulty and She completed Marackzy. Without her at times shivered as if with cold. Her there would have been something lack- sister had put her head on the pillow, ing in the extraordinary fortune of this and, ashamed of her weakness, she wept silently. Stenio, standing near the bed, regarded the two sisters united after so many sorrows with a somber air, and, reverting to the past, comgrim fatality was there behind the pared Maud with what she was when he saw her for the first time.

Daisy, fresh, vigorous, and charming, was the living image of her sister pang at his heart Marckzy thought: 'It is I who have transformed that adornable and happy child into the pitiable and desolate creature who is dying slowly under my eyes. I am the artesan of her misfortunes. glory of an ephemeral applause, the boy, sobbing more loudly. pleasures of a luxury which was not new to her. Ah, if our child could have lived! Its caresses would have Marackzy no longer wished to content | dried all her tears, its eyes would have caused her to forget the skies of her Ireland. But our love was cursed. The angel flew away and now its mother is going to rejoin it." The artist's head sank and bitter tears flowed down his pale cheeks. He was lost in unhappy meditations when Maud's voice recalled him to himself "Stenio, why do you stand there? Come here. Why do you weep? What

"Nothing, my dear; nothing but the he was now called, seemed certain to emotion of seeing your sister with you."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

YOUNG PEOPLE.

The Sleepers-Three Girl's Kindness-Found a Home-A Fable-Notes, atc.

The Sleepers. Beholdthem slumbering side by side, Fair, smiling youth and hoarv age;
One dreams of worldly pomp and pride,
Where men a godless warfare wage;
The other dreams of Summer bowers Bright sunshine, warbling birds and flowers.

One brow is marked with lines and care. Which shows the world-worn spirit grieves;
The other gleams 'neath clustering hair Like a fair star through quivering le One heart is grasping, proud and cold,

The other generous, warm and bold. One breathes a long, a weary sigh,
And dreams of earthly gain or loss,
As with a keen, suspicious eye,
He counts once more his glittering dross;
The other bounds with joyous tread
O'er fields of clover white and read.

A groan escapes the old man's lips,
A groad of mingled rage and pain,
For lo! his schemes, like phantom ships,
Have vanished 'neath the treacherous

To find his treasured hoard but sand From parted lips of tender bloom A trill of merry laughter steals,
Whose fairy music fils the room—
The happy boy in dreamland kneels
Above a little crystal stream,
Where rushes wave and pebbles gleam;

main. He stretches forth one wrinkled hand

And he beholds with sparkling eyes. His ship—a water lily—glide Beneath the rosy tinted skies, Right down the dimpling tide His barque no sordid hopes doth bear,

But dances on, he cares not where.

Hark! now the dreaming worldling speaks; "The path to wealth, how drear how long"
"Ah!" cries the boy, with glowing cheeks,
"How lovely is the skylark's song,
High soaring 'mid the blue above,
Forever singing, 'God is live!"

And when the morning sun shall rise
To charm away the mists of night,
The boy will greet with gladdened eyes
A world of beauty bathed in light.
For a fond mother's morning kiss
Will ope its golden gates of bliss.

But the poor worldling, what of him? Will he not seek the busy mart
Like some gaunt specter, stern and grim,
No joy within his withered heart?
For life is empty, vain and cold
To him who only seeketh gold! -Chambers' Journal

FANNIE FORRESTER.

Three Girls' Kindness. Three or four years ago three girl art students from New York went up into the Catskills to spend the summer sketching. There they became acquainted with the daughter of their inn-keeper. She was a bright, intelligent girl, and she diffidently showed them her own drawings, which, though done without a master, even to these critical young eyes gave promise of better things. The inn-keeper's daughter was entirely without money. The one cold winter night, said to his mother: "Dear mamma, what will become of the poor little children of New York to-night who have no nice stick of wood to cover them?" But they determined to take the responsibility of her education upon themselves. They brought her to New York, shared with her their bread and cheese and folding bed, which was at the same time a trunk, a wardrobe, a cooking stove, and a piano, and when sold her jewelry—an heirloom—to help out. Well, they all went to Paris last A shadow crossed her face, and in a summer, the portege, as was to be exany of her sponsors, and, while studying there, who should come along but Prince Charming, himself an artist, and straightway he selected the portege, on whom he bestowed me. But my father does not wish it." to be married, and the wedding is to She often had these returns of a take place at the home of one of her three friends. She will wear a white and the next day she will sail away to study the domestic arts under a foreign sky .- Hartford Courant.

He Has at Last Found a Strange

Luxury-A Home. Little Frankie the waif has been formally committed to the training school at Norwood Park. When he was brought into the city for the necessary court proceedings he was exceedingly fearful he would be left

"I do want to go back to that place and sleep in a bed," he said, his big brown eyes wide with anxiety. His hair had been cut and he had been put into clean garments. They were worn, but all the institution could afford, as the children who are sent there are dependent upon generosity for clothing.

Frankie watched the court proceedings with close attention. When the dependent cases were called before Judge Gary another lad, somewhat older than Frankie, was brought up. He was weeping bitterly. Frankie fastened his eyes upon him and put out one of his small brown hands to touch his sleeve. The boy, offspring of paupers whose only home is the Danville poorhouse, was yet shedding tears because he was separated from them. He had come to the city with some older boy who had told him he could find work there.

"I want to go home; I want to go back to Danville and my folks," he cried, rubbing his fists into his eyes, as the court bent over to look at him.

"Did you run away from your home?" asked the judge. "I runned away," answere 1 the

"Was it a good home?" continued the kind-hearted judge with compassion in his voice.

"Twarn't no shakes. It's the poorhouse, but me mother's there and I do want to go back tuh her," said the " Well I think the best thing we can do with him is to send him back,' decided the court. By this time Frankie's hand had crept up to the other boy's neck. When the Danville lad heard the orders for his transportation home he gave his eyes a fresh dig and then looked Frankie in the face and smiled.

Outside Frankie, who but half comprehended the situation, asked:
"Did that boy cry because he had runned away from home?"

"I don't see why he runned away from home," he added, reflectively, with wonder in his tone.

"I don't see why a boy who had a al music.

home would runned away from it," continued this small vagrant of the streets, who for two or three years had no bed but under sidewalks, in hallways, or, when fortune smiled upon him "and he enjoyed repose in, as he expresses it, "10 cents a place." -Chicago News.

In Good Society. A young millionaire of this city. who inherited a celebrated grocery establishment, the revenues of which he yet enjoys, narrates an experience that he recently had in high life. The impending marriage of a member of the "upper few hundred," who had once been a schoolmate of his, and with whom he had kept up acquaintance, was announced. He did not get an invitation to the dude's wedding, but was favored with a note from him: "You will be surprised an not receiving an invitation to my wedding, but really I must be frank with you. I have a high regard for you personally, but you are a grocer, and I regret to tell you that the appearance of a gro-cerman at my wedding would give offense to the society people who are to be present," etc., etc. This awful slight has not entirely destroyed the successor of his father in the grocery line. He is rather pleased to tell that he has had a visit from the society swell who was so happy as to be favored with an invitation to the wedding, and who asked the privilege of borrowing enough money to buy an outfit worthy of the occasion. The grocer loaned him the cash, and the best man at the wedding will appear in a suit that has been paid for by the grocer to vitation .- New York Sun.

Maj. Stofah went to see his best girl the other evening, and the little brother was entertaining him as usual till the sister came down.

"You like my sister, don't you?" asked the little lamb. "Yes, Tommie, very much," replied the major with a delicate blush. "You'd like to marry her, wouldn't vou?' "Well, I believe I would." "But you ain't rich, are you?" "No, I'm not rich," replied the major, with a faint sigh. "That's all right, said the boy, sympathetically. "Do you think so?" asked the major, brightening. "Sure of it," exclaimed the boy; "I heard sister say she would like awfully to marry a rich man, but she was willing to take anything rather than die an old maid.'

The major is once more heart whole and fancy free. - Washington Critic.

A Children's Festival in Spain. the municipal schools of Madrid were entertained on the large race-course by the authorities of the capital. It was a pretty sight to see the happy little folks of both sexes marching along in good order, carrying banners and wearing their best and gayest clothes. At 12 o'clock the queen arrived with the little king and princesses. Her rived, Major T. entered for the purpose majesty kindly helped to entertain the of preparing Mr. Dickens and the othlittle ones, and the princesses distributed cake and oranges. Alfonso XIII. seemed delighted at the sight of so many young faces. He clapped his hands with glee as the schools came up with the teachers to present the queen with a beautiful album, written pected, developing more talent than and designed by the children, who this country the English idea of inn- general public should be aroused to society, while Miss Ingersoll is known hynms and Spanish songs. Immense crowds thronged the heights around the Castellana Hippodrome to witness the festival.

The Two Nymphs.

(A FABLE.) Two nymphs who in the woods reside,
And pass by turns from place to place,
Had once a question to decide
And chose a fox to judge the case.

One of the nymphs "Good Luck," we call, "Ill Luck" stands for the other's name; And when events of fate befall One has the praise and one the blame.

Now each was vain and thought that she Had, without doubt, the fairest face,
So bringing to the fox their plea,
He played the judge with tact and grace.

For, said the fox, "I can not tell Your separate charms until I know tow well you walk - indeed, how well You forward step and backward go."

And so they ran the country round, Now they were there, and now were here; The wily fox looked most profound— (Herefell a smile and there a tear.)

Facing "Good Luck" he said at last: "When you arrive your charms we know;"
Then with his eyes on "Ill Luck?" cast Said: "Yours are greatest when you go!"
—Joel Barton, in Wide Awake.

Notes.

Last year Japanese students imported 85,000 English and 119,000 American books. Ex-President Hayes is teaching one of his boys the use of carpenters' tools. Maurice of Saxony died at 32, conceded to have been one of the profoundest statesmen and one of the has seen. Mother: "And do you really feel so very bad, Bobby?" Bobby: "Yes, ma, I an't quite sick enough to need any medicine, but I'm a little bit too sick to go to school."-New York Sun.

John Wanamaker's brother has been giving some reminiscences of the boyhood of the great Philadelphia merchant. His first work was done in the clothing store of Barclay Lippincott, where he received a salary of $1.50 a week, all of which he gave to his mother. His dinner, when he had any, consisted of a piece of pie and a glass of milk, costing 2 cents. Each year his salary was increased, and at the time he was 20 he had saved $200.

Philip, the youngest child of United States Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, has a great talent for music. Though he does not know one note from another, he will carry the music of an opera, after hearing the performance once, right along with his mother's accompaniment on the piano. His voice is like a girl's, and sweet and clear as the notes of a bird. The boy is never so happy as when permitted to go to an operatic performance, and his criticisms are so unerring as to be startling in the advanced ideas expressed by a child. He never touches the piano himself, and is not inclined to instrumentA SLIGHT MISTAKE.

A Royal Banquet That Came Near Terminating in an Aerial Voyage. Major Iris Throckmorton, who was many years the proprietor of the Galt house, at Louisville. in the golden time away back vonder before the war, was one of the most courtly of a grand longed. He was the boon companion of gifted Tom Marshall, brilliant Prentice and glorious Clay; the Prescotts, Breckenridges and Shelbys of the Blue Grass region where his friends, and because of Major Throckmorton's nobility of character, high family rank and social qualities, as well as for the fact that the hotel which he owned was a splendid establishment, the Galt house was in those days the head quarters of has been added to the causes of death the elite of Kentucky, when that element sojourned in the metropolis of

Upon the occasion of Charles Dickens' visit to this country, during the time when he was gathering the material for his "sassy" "American Notes" and "Martin Chuzzlewit," in which he so successfully ridiculed the people of this republic, he was hospitably entertained in Louisville, as well as elsewhere in the country. During other hours of those self-same days he was engaged at those works in which, though at times he told unpleasant truths, he advanced far beyond the frontiers of fact at other times, and allowed his imagination and his pen to whom the groom could not send an in- | run away from common decency and | the natural gratitude that even beasts frequently evince for disinterested hospitality.

While in Louisville, Dickens was the guest of the Galt house, and during his stay Major Throckmorton brought it about that he should receive distinguished consideration at the hands of some of the brightest lights in literature, statesmanship and social life of the region and the time.

One evening Major Throckmorton busied himself about the preparation of a glorious little dinner which was set in a quiet refectory of the elegant hostelry. It was a triumph of culinary art, and was to be covered with the most sparkling wines and the rarest of liquors. To this, for the purpose of guest, Major Throckmorton had invited George D. Prentice, Thomas F. Marshall, Dr. Theodore Bell and numerous other luminaries of literature, and the learned professions generally. It was gallant Throckmorton's plan for a little surprise for his friends as well as

The other day, says the London Mr. Dickens, and everything was News, 14,000 children belonging to working like a charm. The visitors working like a charm. The visitors had arrived and were being received in the handsome apartments which had been assigned to Mr. Dickens. Guest after guest arrived who were presented in person by Major Throckmorton, until at last the list was checked off, and the propitious moment having arer gentlemen for what they were to expect in this matter of the pretty feast which he had intended as a crowning, though unexpected, turn to the pleasures of the evening. Dickens had brought with him to also sang the "Royal March," some keepers, and being more or less a to put on airs; and when Major Throck- Blade. morton entered, and fell into familar terms with the gentlemen present, Dickens ill-concealed his displeasure, and at last when Major Throckmorton approached Dickens with his broadly hospitable intent suggested to the novelist the idea of leading the way to the the banquet room, this man who presumed to know more about Americans than Anericans know of themselves. said something to this effect: "You are getting quite too officious, landlord. When I desire your attentions I shall call for you. For the present you may retire. The scene which ensued was a remarkable one. The honest, buff, gallant and hospitable Kentuckian was for a moment simply astounded. And then he became indignant. The idea that such a gentleman as he, because he had condescended to the personal supervision of some extra hospitalites, should be taken for a lackey, or a head lackey, or something of that nature, at first astonished him, and then fired his southern blood. "Why." said he, "you damned coxcomb, I'll throw you out of the window!" and he was proceeding to put the idea into execution, when his friends present, who were but little less indignant. easily persuaded the irate, yet still hospitable host, to desist. Dickens quickly saw his mistake, and offered apologies, which were accepted, but the dinner was not a howling success. ablest generals which Christendom There seemed to be a large "chunk of cold shoulder" lying at numerous places about the table. Even the champagne, which followed the barely tasted viands, was not effective in flattered. "Anybody must be stupid bringing about the cordiality which should reign on such occasions. The dinner was, in fact, exceedingly brief, and yet not very much to the point, and Mr. Dickens was shortly 'left alone in his glory."

Though he wrote of many things unpleasant to him, with which he came in contact in this country, he did not write of his escape from an ærial voyage from a Galt house window, nor, in fact, anything in connection with that episode of his visit.

The facts here presented were given me more than twenty years ago by one of the most distinguished of the gentlemen then present, all of whom have gone to a banquet where even snobs cannot make mistakes, if they should happen to get in, and where a fall from one of the windows would land the unfortunate, very much broken up, about where Lucifer struck when he went on a strike. - Will Visscher, in Arkansaw Traveler, cigarette smoking as something too trivial for sober talk. The fact is And Doubtless Two or Three Hundiscussions in the United States senate, that cigarette smoking is "a very great and a very serious evil," to quote the members Miss Eva Ingersoll, the words of Senator Chace, of Rhode Island, who presented a petition from coterie of gentlemen to which he be- 257 Washington physicians, praying

The Cigarette Evil. laugh at the eigarette as a weak imita- ish. - Exchange.

tion of a cigar, and on indulgence in for the passage of the bill to prohibit the selling or furnishing of cigarettes, or of tobacco in any of its forms, to any youth under 16 years of age, in which had a nail in it. The animal the District of Columbia. Senator was old and lame, and his body was Stewart declared that cigarettes are covered with sores. She ran out and destroying more youth than any other one thing that is affecting the prosperity of the country." It is a fact that the cigarette habit among American youth. The newspapers each week chronicle instances, and it may readily be understood that the vast majority of the cases never get into the papers. They are chronicled under the head of "heart trouble," "nervous disease," or something similar, rather than as the result of overindulgence in cigarette smoking. Not long ago the estimate of a number of New York physicians was published that there were in that city at least promptly came to the brave glrl's as-3,000 cases of impaired health, chiefly among boys and young men, as the result of the cigarette habit. In Chicago the habit became so general among schoolboys, and girls as well, that the teachers petitioned for a state law against the sale, which the legisla- go the bridle. ture passed.

of cigarettes is so particularly harmful to you, and whether it is any worse than the smoking of full-sized cigars. The testimony of those of the medical profession who have made a study of the tobacco habit is that it is particularly harmful to all persons during the period of growth, stunting their physical development, destroying the tone of the nervous system, and laying the foundation of obstinate lung and throat diseases, dyspepsia, heart disease, etc., which do not develop until later in life. The cigarette is worse than the cigar, because the cheaper grades are made up of tobacco of the cheapest quality; old cigar stumps, having them meet Mr. Dickens, as his loaded with nicotine and the dried saliva of their former smokers; and then the whole abominable mess doctored with opium or other drugs to

It may be asked, why the smoking

mask the nauseous taste and render palatab Altogether, there seems to be strong easons why the law should interfere and protect the rising generation from the physical evils which come from the | give his testimony, and Mrs. Thomas. use of cigarettes. If people wish to smoke, let them wait until they have reached maturity, when the harm that can be done is reduced to a minimum. The sale of cigarettes has become something enormous in this country. There are 1,200,000,000 made every year at home, and 50,000,000 more imported, which gives an average of 50 a year to every male person in the country. Several states have already passed laws forbidding the sale or furnishing of tobacco in any form to miners under 16 years of age under heavy penalty, including Ohio; and the the extent of the evil in order that the parvenu snob himself, he was disposed law may be properly enforced.—Toledo

Not So Strange. Who has not, at some time, stood meekly by while a shop-girl talked of her personal affairs with some intimate friend, and wondered how "one small head" could enable her at the same time to sell her goods and entertain her visitor? One person at least seems to have solved that problem. A gentleman one day went into a small store to make a trifling purchase, and while the pretty saleswoman rolled up his parcel, she also told an admiring young man, who was leaning on the counter, the story of her last attendance at the debating club:

"He was just as disagreeable as he could be that night," she went on, undismayed by a double audience. "He said if Kate Hooper and I sat in the back seats and laughed, the committee would give up inviting us to come. Thank you" (as she passed the customer his change), and she went on with her story to its bitter end of quarreling and parting.

Still the gentleman lingered, and though she several times glanced at him in surprise, was evidently determined to prolong his stay beyond that of the young man, who finally took the hint, and withdrew. Then said the customer:

"I have been greatly interested in watching you, and seeing how many things you could do at once. You seem to be able to give your attention to several occupations at the same time.

"Of course," returned she, pert but that can only do one thing at a time.' "You did up my package, told a story, put your counter in order, and gave me my change," said the gentleman admiringly, "and, as one might say, at the same moment. Now, I have heard it declared that a person can only give his entire attention to one subject at a time. This is a most interesting case!"

"Well, I don't know as I'm any smarter than anybody else," said she, bridling, "but at any rate, that's what I can do!"

"Oh, there's one thing I ought to mention," said the gentleman. 'You know you gave me my change just as you were telling your friend that interesting story. You should have given me eighty-five cents, but instead you made it a dollar and eightyfive. It was very kind of you, but you must allow me to return it. Good I laid in stock enough to last. - Epoch morning!"

So he left the girl who could turn her attention in so many directions, wondering, as she looked at the extra A great many people are disposed to dollar, if she didn't appear rather foolTWO WOMEN DID THIS brought out, however, by the recent dred Men Did the Heavy Looking-On. The society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals numbers among its daughter of Robert G. Ingersoll, says The New York Sun. From the window of her father's residence, 400 Fifth avenue, the other day she saw the driver of a carbage cart beating his horse over the head with a barrel hoop, entreated the man to desist, but he continued to thrash the horse. Thinking that if she showed him her membership certificate from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals the driver would be scared she ran into the house, brought the document out. again insisted that he should stop beating the horse. The man, whose name was David Muhle, laughed in the young lady's face. Then Miss Ingersoll seized the horse's bridle, at the same time calling the attention of Mrs. Wallace, another member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, to the situation. She sistance, and the ladies stopped the wagon at Thirty-second street and Fifth avenue. Then Muhle began flogging the horse again, making him fairly drag the ladies along, and threatened to strike them if they did not let

> For six blocks the driver swore at the horse and the women before a man was found gallant enough to assume the responsibility of stopping it. He was A. B. Gillingham, of 354 West Twenty-second street. Relieving the ladies of their task he unharnessed the horse and paid a man to take him back to the S. P. C. A. stable on Twentysecond street. Muhle had escaped in the crowd that collected and had crossed the river to New Jersey, but it was learned that he was driving the garbage-wagon for a man named Christian Altifiex, of Weehawken. Young Gillingham went straight to Jefferson market court and swore out the warrant upon which Muhle was arrested. Muhle was recognized by the officers of the S. P. C. A. as a man they had arrested in January on Fifth avenue for beating an old gray horse. He was taken to Jefferson market court. No one offering bail he was locked up for a week, and then taken to the special sessions court for trial before Justices Kilbraith, Smith, and Ford. Gillingham left a sick wife to Lotos, living at the Murray Hill hotel, who saw Muhle's brutal conduct, was ready as a witness, but the prisoner pleaded guilty and so got off with a fine of $10. The horse was shot by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Miss Ingersoll and Mrs. Wallace were not notified when the case came up for trial, and this week they called at the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals' office and expressed great satisfaction that the driver had been arrested and fined. Mrs. Wallace's name is among the first enrolled as members of the as one of its most enthusiastic supporters.

Ten Years in 12 Hours.

Once in a while justice overtakes a wrong-doer with startling celerity in New York city. A policeman was caught robbing a store on his beat, of silverware, at 3:30 a. m., April 30. At 5 o'clock the chief suspended him, tearing the buttons off his coat; at 10 he was in the Tombs, an hour later he was before the grand jury: at 12:35 an indictment for grand larceny in the first degree was found, and at 12:50 he was before the recorder, where he pleaded guilty. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, just twelve and a half hours after he was caught, he was shaved, decked in stripes and on a ten-year term, working in a convict gang in Sing Sing. That is the way the thing ought to work. Swift retribution to an offender strikes terror to the heart of every intending evil-doer-and there are, unfortunately, too many men who are kept honest only through wholesome fear. — Toledo Blade.

Go Slow,

See here, young man, are you keeping company with a young lady? Well, when you begin to feel that her little brother is a nuisance, and his childish pranks are a bore to you, and you quit giving him peanuts as you used to do: when, after an evening's call at her home, you grow impatient for the old folks to retire, so you can see her alone just a moment before you go home; when, upon going out of your place of business at any time of day, you find yourself involuntarily taking a sweeping survey of the street, and a feeling of disappointment creeps over you if she doesn't happen to be in sight; when other girls do very well, but they can't hold a candle to her, then you may as well conclude that you are getting it pretty badly, and you had better sit down quietly and ask yourself (and perhaps her) some very serious questions before you go any farther.-Dansville Treeze.

Worth Preserving.

Captain (of the yacht Atalanta): Ahoy, there!-Shiver my timbers and slug my main jib-boom, but there's water in the hold!"

Owner (of the Atalanta): "Save it, save it!"-Epoch.

Plenty on Hand.

"Why is it, John, that you rarely kiss me now? Before we were married you bothered me almost to death." Husband: "I know it, my dear, and

The most favorable day on which to race for cups is, of course, a muggy one. -Pitts

Some men's promises are like foam on a glass of beer.—New York Journal.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1888

The mugwumps' heads are sore, their hearts are sorer, and their vanity is the sorest hope in the sensibility of a formerly painless, and that a few more shocks, such as they have lately received, will not only restore sensation but a healthful state of Great Britain generously sent to our shores between Oct 1st and June 2d 3,411,also in Chicago, parties who in this way offered gifts to purchasers of their pack-840 bushels of potatoes, whereas last year for the same time she sent only 106,047 bushels. From the continent we received in the same time, 240,249 instead of last year only 19,512. This gives a total of 3,652,089 from these two sources, to say nothing about those from Canada and the rest of the world.

Neighborhood.

WILLIS. Campbell & Nowlin have moved their sawmill to Belleville.

David Walters of Ypsilanti visited his relatives here last Sunday. Dr. Bennett of North Morenci visited A.

in town on the 12th.
Mr. Harven of Martinsville was in town

Mrs. Donovan of Missouri is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Children's Day at Fraternity Grange was in every way a success. There were about fifty children present, and a happier company of little ones is seldom seen. They entered into the spirit of the exercises and did exceedings well. entered into the spirit of the exercises and did exceedingly well. Refreshments were served in profusion, and the day passed pleasantly for old as well as young. Mrs.

J. Webster Childs spoke to the while. pleasantly for old as well as young. Mrs. J. Webster Childs spoke to the children and of the children, with instruction and profit to all; and Henry Harris spoke of what renders character impregnable.

Harvey Day was summoned to Detroit last week by the funeral of a nephew.
Mr. Wood and Edward Niles are painting Abbott Russell's house.

And now we have the bean pest, a grub And now we have the bean pest, a grub that is destroying the beans. In some fields the plants are nearly all gone now.

We had the pleasure of attending Children's Day at the Model School House, on Sunday, and we say of the exercises, Well done. The room was beautifully decorated. At the close, Mr. Charles Stanley was called on for remarks, and responded feelingly. His interest in Sabbath Schools had not abated with the added years that had not abated with the added years that had come to him. In passing he paid a merited tribute to the superintendent, Mrs.

RAWSONVILLE. Miss Eliza Fell returns home to-day. Miss Myrtle Roberts is up around the house.

Mrs. A. Jackson left for Ypsilanti Monday where she intends staying a week.

A number of lady friends visited at the house of Mrs. Dennis Cheever, Tuesday afternoon, and enjoyed it very much.

There is some talk of having a picnic for the school children the last day, June evening were very good, and we were glad to see so many turn out, as there was a full house. The Sunday School exercises Sunday

BELLEVILLE

A large crowd attended the entertainment at the M. E. Church Sunday evening. The second nine of this place went to Sumpter, Saturday and beat the first nine The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold an ice cream social at the Grange Hall, Saturday evening, June 16, for the benefit

Peter Smith, while working on the barns of D. L. Quirk, Wednesday, June 6, fell 35 feet breaking his arm and injuring him Eugene Westfall of Carleton was in

The High School Alumni will give a banquet at the Grange Hall next Friday evening, June 22.

The primary and intermediate department will give a picnic, next Saturday.

John Murphy jr. of Wayne was in town,

CHERRY HILL.

L. S. Warner raised his barn last Tues day afternoon, and notwithstanding the busy time, Mr. Warner had abundance of help which shows what it is to be a good help which shows what it is to be a good neighbor.

Died, last Thursday, June 7, Miss Lena Cobb, daughter of D. J. Cobb, aged 18 years. Miss Cobb had been troubled with an ovarian tumor for the past year and finally consented to an operation. Mr. Cobb took her to Detroit on Tuesday of last week and on the next day (Wednesday) Dr. MacLean performed the operation, removing a tumor weighing 35 pounds. The shock was too great for her and she quietly passed away the next and she quietly passed away the next morning. Funeral services were held at the church last Sunday and were attended by a large concourse of people. Miss Cobb was a member of the young ladies' Helping Hand Society, and six of the young ladies dressed in white preceded the casket from the church to the last resting place. Mr. Cobb and family have the heart felt sympathy of the community in their sad bereavment. Rev. J. A Lowery conducted the services.

SALEM. Prof. E. J. Quackenbush and wife are expected home this week to spend their

A party of young people from Lapham's Corners went on a fishing party to Whitmore lake Saturday. Although the fish did not suffer much, all seemed to enjoy next meeting at Mr. T. Wyckoff's next week, Thursday p. m.

Mr. Moore from Monroe Co., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Crippen.

Messrs Hibbard and Brown, from Shia-wassee county, were the guests of A. A. Wood last week. They were in search of them at 75 cts. per pair

end, with a full attendance and an inter-esting meeting. It was voted to hold an institute at Saline sometime during the coming winter. The Club will be entertained in July by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. War-

Farmers are busy weeding out their tails, and go about with downcast looks.

This fellow has "great expectations," and whether imagination gives it wings or not, at all events, after a brief time it rips open

Gifts of Poison.

It is time that respectable merchants flying machine with great glee and song. combined with consumers for the suppression of all gift, prize and lottery schemes in connection with the sale of articles of of all. But as the physician finds signs of merchandise. These schemes are not only demoralizing to ligitimate business and to hope in the sensibility of a formerly pain-less nerve, may we not infer that at least some of these cases are not entirely hope-the morals of the community, but in the extent in which they are being carried in the sale of articles of food have become a source of great danger to the public health. They are, no matter in what form they appear, nothing more or less than devices swindle honest and unsuspecting people

It is gratifying to learn that in some intances the officers of the law have taken hold of the matter. In New York, and ages have recently been arrested upon in-dictments for lottery swindling. The lates candidates, both for public execration and otherwise. It demands a listening ear, criminal prosecution, are the manufactur-ers of the alum baking powders, who are both, by means of gifts and lottery tickets, disposing of large quantities of their corrosively poisonous compounds, which are so well known to be detrimental to health that no housekeeper will admit them to her kitchen knowingly. This form of swindle is not only being peddled from house to house, but under the promise of brag so about it."

made perfect," by its persistent serenate. Even the pious Patrick declared, "he didn't care for its boit, if it would na' brag so about it." large profits to be realized, the manufac turers are entrenching themselves behind the counters of many grocers by getting them to offer the alum goods with the gifts of lottery tickets attached, thereby shifting Dr. Bennett of North Morenci visited A.
Swayze on the 11th.
Mr. M. Hammond of Stony Creek was in town on the 12th.
Mr. Harven of Martinsville was in town the prize or lottery baking powders is a criminal in the eye of the law, and liable, upon conviction, to fine and imprisonment, while those who sell the gift goods are morally, as responsible, for they are offering an inducement, or prize, to house of these gift or prize baking powders are alum baking powders. These powders cost less than four cents a pound to produce; the gift or prize costs but a few cents more. They are sold at the price of a first-class baking powder, so that the swindle, in a commercial sense, is enormous. But the chief iniquity of the business is selling, as presumably wholesome, an article of a positively injurious character, and by means of gifts or bribes inducing servants or unsuspecting house-keepers to purchase and use it in our daily

There should be some prompt method of reaching these dangerous practices and punishing the parties engaged in their promotion. If the present laws are not ample, we commend the matter to the consideration of our State Board of Health for recommendation of such additional legis-lation as shall be effective for the protection of the public

Normal Items. Miss Grace Barbour visited the Normal,

Monday. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Chapman of South Rockwood, inspected the school Friday, and were so well pleased that they decided o locate here next fall to give their grandchildren Normal training. They were ccompanied by Jesse Wakefield.

Miss Sadie Bogue has accepted the position of preceptress at Caro. Rose Lockwood spent Monday with us.

She will return next year. Miss Genie Glover, '84, of Cassopolis is spending some days with Normal and other friends.

Prof. Grawn, of Traverse City, called Tuesday

At their last meeting the board elected Mr. C. D. McLouth permanent assistant in the Department of Natural Science. It is somewhat singular that every year about commencement time, rumors begin to be heard, that, when put together, make one believe that the entire Normal The entertainment given by Windsor McCay, Tuesday evening, was nicely carried out, and was attended by a large trophe has never yet occurred, and proba trophe has never yet occurred, and probably will not occur this year, despite assertions to the contrary.

Prof. Pease's illness is deeply regretted. It is said to be the first time the Professor has missed a day through sickness in his quarter of a century of service.

Prof. Walter Hewitt takes charge of the Harmony classes this week.

The Musical Mosquito. If anyone at this season of the year will examine carefully a quiet pool of water, he may be fortunate enough to find floating on its surface a small dark hody shaped something like a boat, with ends alike, adapting it to movement in opposite directions with equal facility. This little body is composed of the eggs of the mosquito. A few days after, the contents of these eggs may be seen moving in the water with a jerky, violent motion that raises the expectation in the beholder of seeing the thing go to pieces at once. The "wiggler," for that is its name, becomes from this time on, an interesting study. Its breathing apparatus at this stage of its growth terminates in a minute tube near its tail, and when the insect wishes to take breath, it simply pokes its tail out of the water while its head hangs vertically below the surface. But the wiggler is a capricious little scamp and soon tires of hanging in this position while taking breath. Perhaps it fears conjection of the brain, or is ambitious to look out upon the world and realize in advance what is its destiny. To all appearances, themselves immensely. What is its destiny. To all appearances, The Ladies Aid Society will hold its itsuddenly begins to grow "round shoulder." ed," and one might suppose from its on its back. Neither supposition is true, however, for the sudden curve in what fact. would be called its spine, if it had one, is due to incipient wings, and what is amus-Wood last week. They were in search of a first class bull, and purchased of Mr. Wood his yearling bull "Fennel Duke of Saline." These gentlemen went from here in company with Mr. Wood to the Ball and Boyden sale on Thursday. This section of the country was well represented at the sale, and several gentlemen were purchasers, Mr. Gilbert Ward buying two, S. R. Crittenden one, and J. W. Hull one of the cattle which were sold that day.

Mrs. Sheldon of Ann Arbor is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Warner. Mrs. W. has raised 300 chickens this spring and has already disposed of quite a number of them at 75 cts. per pair. seen sticking up, one on either side of the The June meeting of the Farmers Club was held at the residence of Delos Townsimprovement over the caudal process, and evidence of its having chosen a social position among the "upper ten." Henceforth, there is no association with those low-down fellows that breathe with their

DR. BENNETT

Will be at the Hawkins House Tuesday, June 19. Is it pleasant to keep having those piles troubling you for years, many its overcoat on the back and exhibits the times almost crazy over them, when you Prior to this surgical triumph, however, it can go and have them cured in a reasona ble time and have them no more?

crawls up and perches on a stem of grass To have those aches and pains of those or some other convenient support above old chronic difficulties, when in four weeks you can have them numbered water, and so can take its own time to shake off its outer garments and adjust its among the "have beens." Those hernias (rupture), be the age 5 or new found appendages. Fourteen days have now elapsed since the discovery of the boat-like cluster of eggs, and the time has come for the music to begin. It is evident from the start that this music is not pitched in any minor key. Its strains carry with them too much the air of triumph, and the minstrel seems to delight in pouring them into the ears of poor suffering humanity, whether appreciated or and promptly resents all attempts to doze with a thousand strings, and many a time,

75, radically cured in one week. Just go and see how all these things are done. He speaks English and German.

It may not be known that this music produced by the mosquito's feather

But so it is. The margin of its wing stuck full of most minute and exquisi quills, at right angles to the bounding lin and by the rapid vibration of its wings

the dulcet strains are made to drive awa sleep and provoke anathemas upon th

Curses long and numerous are the her tage of this sharp-billed and musical der zen of the insect world, and yet, to th its symmetry of structure and its brillian lens. Few objects are more beautiful

Attention Students.

Four new houses for rent to students, furnished, by single rooms or entire. Location opposite the Catholic School. Enquire of John J. Norton, Adams street.

my person having pictures at my gallery

1st, at which time my successor takes pos-

"My daughter was greatly troubled with scrofula, and, at one time, it was feared

she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsa-parilla has completely restored restored her health, and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system."—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

Anyone wishing to engage the professional services of Miss Betsey Gates, will call on Mrs. P. W. Carpenter, south Washest

J. J. STEPHENSON.

student of natural history, its circle life is full of interest and instruction. awakens wonder by its strange transforms tions and appeals to our love of beauty whole insect tribe.

under the glass.

ington street.

Possession given Sept. 1.

In these days of adulteration and fraud n all branches of business and pursuits, i s pleasing to know that there is one med icine prepared which is strictly pure Such a medicine is Sulphur Bitters in curing scrofula; you can depend on them every time. W. B. Everts, A. M., Charles-

The vocal organs are strengthened by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Cler-gymen, lawyers, singers, actors, and public speakers find this preparation the most effective remedy for irritation and weak-ness of the throat and lungs, and for all while the concert is on. It plays a harp has sorely tempted "the spirits of just men made perfect," by its persistent serenade. affections of the vocal organs.

	1100000 mainces.
	YPSILANTI, June	14, 1888.
S	Wheat		90
3.	Corn, ears	30@	3
S	shelled		61
e	Oats	35@	3
	Rye		6
3,	Barley, $\partial \cong \cong\cong \cong \	1 00@ 1	4
3,	Buckwheat	75@	9
y	Hay	8 00@11	0
e	Beans	100@1	7
0	Peas	90@ 1	0
		75@	8
-	Turnips		2
-	Onions		8
e	Parsnips	45@	6
	Cabbage, # head	5@
f	Butter		1
[t	Eggs		1
1-	Wool, washed	20@	2
	unwashed	1000	1
y	unwasneu	NAME AND ADDRESS OF THE PARTY O	- nt	The second of th	THE ACT	7

decorations revealed by the magnifying All persons that are indebted to me will please call and settle immediately. Also will please call and get them before July session. Thanking all my patrons for past favors I hope you may continue to patroncounty, integrating Lay of hearing.
rue copy.] WILLIAM D. HARRIMAN, rue copy.] Judge of Probat WM. G. Dotty, 4144 ize the same gallery as my successor is a man of experience and, no doubt will

TIMES BUILDING Chestnut PHILADELPHIA ESTIMATES FOR NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING FREE stamps for AYER & SON'S MANUAL

Fine Granite and Marble

IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC.

We are now prepared to make prices that defy competition. We have no traveling agents. We found by experience they were expensive attachments, and have concluded to give our customers the discounts saved by this change. If you will come to "stooping" posture, that it had been born a hunch back or was carrying a huge load the works we will convince you of this

> No establishment in this section can compete with us, for we have more stock finished ready for engraving than any three concerns in the state. You will readily see why we can undersell them.

LOUGHRIDGE & WILCOX

YPSILANTI, MICHIGAN.

J. F. CLARK,

formerly of Banghart & Clark, successor to Wm. Bradley in

YPSILANTI MEAT MARKET

Huron Street, opposite the Sanitarium,

Will be glad to meet his old friends and any others who may favor him with a call, at best Strawberries and Fruits. his new place of business.

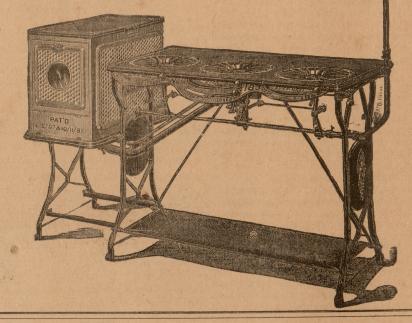

Fresh Fish constantly on hand, and the Choicest Cuts of all kinds of Fresh and Salt | Fresh Confectionery.

The Finest, the Easiest to Operate, and the Most

Vapor Stove

in the market. Call and examine them at the Huron Street Hardware,

Chas. M. Norton YPSILANTI, MICHIGAN.

Make Your Home Beautiful With Artistic Furnishing We invite attention te our carefully selected stock of Comprising the newest and most popular styles of

PARLOR SUITS, CHAMBER SETS, DINING ROOM SUITS, BABY CARRIAGES, CURTAINS, MISCELLANEOUS FURNITURE

ALL AT BOTTOM PRICES.

Special attention given to Re-upholstering Parlor Suits, Sofas, Easy Chairs, Lounges, Hair and Wool Mattresses, etc.

JUST RECEIVED --- A large invoice of Lace Curtasns, from $1.00 to $10.00; Turcoman Draperies, Opaque and Holland Window Shades in endless variety, and an immense stock of Fine and Cheap Pictures.

Wallace & Clarke.

Be sure and see our stock before buying.

A Large Stock of Goods

The Spring Trade is on and

Are ready for it with a Mammoth Stock of Suits and Single Garments,

A LARGE INVOICE OF

New Spring Underwear

AND NEW STYLES OF NECKWEAR.

LOOK AT OUR NEW HATS

OF ALL STYLES, GRADES AND PRICES.

Now is the time to look them over, while the stock is full.

Alban & Johnson.

Harris Bros. & Co.

We are headquarters for the Just received, a large invoice of

Tycoon Tea House WELLS AND GISTERNS

DUG AND REPAIRED.

Chain & Lever Pumps a Specialty GOUGH BROS.,

At GRANT'S PLANING MILL,

Adams Street, Vpsilanti. 4153

BLOW EM UP.

Hercules Powder

Blasting Stumps and Boulders

W. H. JUDD'S GUN STORE. WASHINGTON STREET. IT IS SAFE, AND EASY TO HANDLE.

Out of the Old House into the New.

are this week installed in their

New Building, Congress Street, where they are prepared to buy

DO CUSTOM GRINDING,

and furnish all kinds of

-FEED:-

HAY AND STRAW,

FLOUR AND MEAL,

SEEDS, ETC., ETC.

Horrible blotches and pimples removed by Skin-Success, and effectually ban-$1,000. TO ANY MAN, WOMAN OR CHILD who is not blessed with Medical Profession FOR rough or scaly ikin. Indispensable or the Tollet. Peer

Any Skin or Scalp disease can be quickly ured by Palmer's Skin-Success. Soap and oint FOR SALE BY FRANK SMITH.